NEIL KEENAN UPDATE | Does Neil Keenan Hold the Key to Stopping The NWO UN-WHO Agenda 21? You Bet He Does!

October 2, 2013

NWO, UN-WHO Agenda 21 — Reduction of world population by 80-90%

There comes a time in everyone's life when you have to be strong and stand up for what is right knowing that if you do not your life and the lives of your family (children and grandchildren) are in grave danger of being eliminated from this planet: By force, you or your siblings may be made infertile by injection with toxins that will more than likely have a detrimental effect on your/their mental health, i.e. turn them into "Uneducated Zombies."

I have used the term 'uneducated' because the cabal also control the educational institutions and obtaining a diploma in the future will be a luxury that only the elite can afford.

One must first understand that the UN Agenda 21 document itself. Programme for the Further Implementation of Agenda 21 shows clues that prove their long-term intentions.

The Agenda 21 is extremely long and also very complex thus, we've extracted a few key points, as per below:

Population

The impact of the relationship among economic growth, poverty, employment, environment and sustainable development has become a major concern. There is a need to recognize the critical linkages between demographic trends and factors and sustainable development.

The current decline in population growth rates must be further promoted through national and international policies that promote: economic development, social development, environmental protection, and poverty eradication, particularly the further expansion of basic education, with full and equal access for girls and women, and health care and reproductive health care, as well as both family planning and sexual health, consistent with the report of the International Conference on Population and Development.

The UN actually refers to this population reduction plan as "Sustainable Development" and part of this plan was actually exported/initiated in China which was used as a template for what we are likely to see around the world i.e. a one child per family policy...unfortunately the elite still have whatever family they want.

Some of the main promoters of population reduction are David Rockefeller, Henry Kissinger, Bill Gates and others, who openly declare their ambitions. The designers of such programs are extremely rich and meet secretly (such as Bilderberg) to implement their plans.

Here are but a few of their tactics:

- Intentionally damaging the world's environment by way of atmospheric contamination with millions upon millions of radioactive nano particles that mainly come from the weapons used (on a daily basis) in current war zones and the high altitude spraying of barium and in particular aluminum based particle which is toxic to humans.....especially the very young who are still at the development stage. This airborne spraying is called "Geo Engineering."

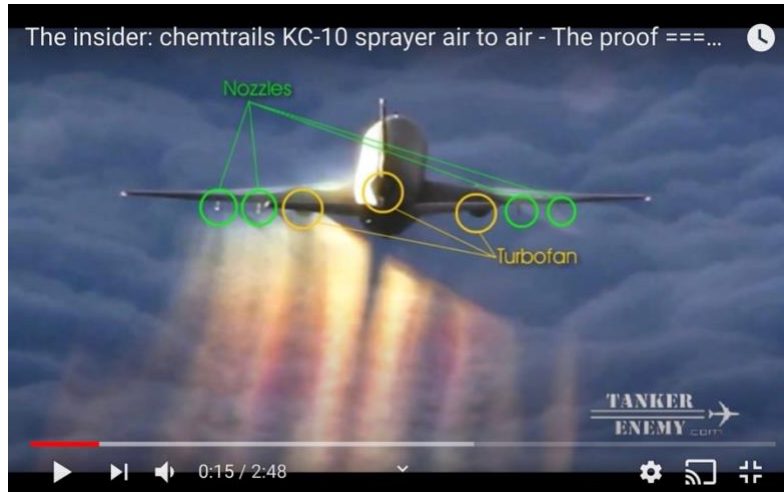

The cabals geo-engineering projects are driven by scientists, corporations, and governments with the intent on changing global climate, controlling the weather, and altering the chemical composition of soil and water — all supposedly for the betterment of mankind, which I can assure you is far from the truth.

Although officials insist that these programs are only in the discussion phase, evidence is abundant that they have been underway since about 1990 – and the effect has been devastating to crops, wildlife, and human health.

We are being sprayed with toxic substances without our consent and, to add insult to injury, they are lying to us about it. Do not watch this documentary if you have high blood pressure:

What in the World Are They Spraying? \(Full Length\) Video

The insider: chemtrails KC-10 sprayer air to air - The proof =====

One must also fully understand that part of this same master plan is the use of the US military owned HAARP weapon in Alaska. HAARP can induce massive changes to the earth's climate by moving Jet Streams (rivers in the sky), cooking the upper atmosphere, punching huge holes in our climate and more important the ability to create earthquakes and tsunami's, etc. and thus therefore having the ability to kill people in mass...i.e. Agenda 21!!

- The next topic in the cabal's master plan is that of massive vaccination programs that believe it or not are certainly not squeaky clean in their overall objectives and intentions. I have found that in many cases it is rather the opposite and could lead to great harm around the world, especially in third world countries where the ingredients of such vaccines are highly toxic.

Example 1:

The current push around the world is for the HPV vaccinations to be given in mass to all high school children...it started with girls but now boys are being vaccinated...there has been much concern about its safety and lack of proven data as to its effectiveness and success. Many past experiments with this vaccine have produced some startling results with female rats in the laboratories.

Evidence has shown that most of female rats became infertile.....this basically takes away the ability for these children, in later life, to have a family or for the elders to become grandparents.

The other danger is that in most of these vaccines there are some very nasty ingredients that can and do cause many mental problems in the young with the potential of turning us all into zombies!!!

Example 2:

The latest push for mass vaccinations in Indonesia, which has one of the world's largest populations...this particular example highlights the ingredients off of the Government's own webpage...you will be shocked to read what could be the potential outcome of this massive program as shown below:

Pentabio 5 in 1 vaccine

The Indonesia Government has rolled out a new 5 in 1 vaccine for all young children in Indonesia and may well not be aware of the potential harm this vaccine can do!! This particular vaccine is promoted by the cabals World Health Organization as indicated here: "Facilitating the WHO expanded program of immunization: the clinical profile of a combined diphtheria, tetanus, pertussis, hepatitis B and Haemophilus influenzae type b vaccine."

Before going into the technical aspects of this new vaccine let's take a look at the huge increase in the growth of Global Chemistry Services Market in US $-billions to fully appreciate the money made by the cabal whilst at the same time having the ability to implement UN Agenda 21...

What is also hidden from the eyes of the public is that many of these vaccines are created in the west and then outsourced and manufactured in third world countries where labor costs are much less. This gives the UN and WHO the ability to mass produce their toxic cocktails under the disguise of Agenda 21!!

Here are the tech specifications for this vaccine that goes under the trade name of Pentabia and is manufactured locally via Biopharma Indonesia:

Pentabio is vaccine DTP-HB-Hib (Jerap Vaccine Diphtheria, Tetanus, Pertussis, Recombinant Hepatitis B, Haemophilus influenzae type b) a homogeneous suspension containing tetanus toxoid and diphtheria pure, bacteria pertussis (whooping cough) inactivated antigen hepatitis B surface (HBsAg) are not purely infectious, and the Hib component of the vaccine is a subunit bacterial capsule polysaccharide of Haemophilus influenzae type b are not infectious protein conjugated to tetanus toxoid. HBsAg produced by recombinant DNA technology in yeast cells. Adsorbed aluminum phosphate vaccine.

Thimerosal used as a preservative. Hib polysaccharide derived from bacteria grown on certain media, and then purified through a series of stages of ultrafiltration. Potential vaccine per dose no less than 4 IU for pertussis, 30 IU of diphtheria, 60 IU of tetanus (determined in mice) or 40 IU (determined in guinea pig) and 10 mcg Hib _HBsAg.

The toxicological effects have not been fully investigated, and because of this, chronic effects on humans are not available. Aluminum is hazardous if inhaled, ingested, or comes in contact with skin. In its natural state it is a powder, handling requires a respirator, gloves and protective clothing. I believe it is safe to say from this information that aluminum phosphate in vaccines could also be potentially hazardous if it is injected.

Thimerosal—Thimerosal contains 49.6 percent mercury by weight, which being mercury based is toxic to the body.

The Department of Defense classifies mercury as a hazardous material that could cause death if swallowed, inhaled or absorbed through the skin. Studies indicate that mercury tends to accumulate in the brains of primates and other animals after they are injected with vaccines. Mercury poisoning has been linked to cardiovascular disease, autism, seizures, mental retardation, hyperactivity, dyslexia and many other nervous system conditions.

That might explain why thimerosal was eliminated in many countries 20 years ago. In 1977, a Russian study found that adults exposed to ethyl mercury, the form of mercury in thimerosal, suffered brain damage years later. Studies on thimerosal poisoning also describe tubular necrosis and nervous system injury, including obtundation, coma and death. As a result of these findings, Russia banned thimerosal from children's vaccines in 1980. Denmark, Austria, Japan, Great Britain and all the Scandinavian countries have also banned the preservative.

The reason for this article is to highlight the darker side of the Cabals Agenda 21 program (United Nations) and to show that this could not only cause the poor unsuspecting children of Indonesia great harm but also all children around the world, as well as adults, etc.

The main purpose of this article is to open up your eyes and for you all to fully understand the implications if the cabal is allowed to continue to implement its UN Agenda 21.

I firmly believe that Neil Keenan holds the key to stopping this mass genocide, and it is only Neil and his team who have the ability to follow the money and sever the financial lifeline of the New World Order. Unfortunately, however, it is this cabal that is attempting to sabotage his progress in so many ways.

We must all therefore stand shoulder to shoulder with Neil Keenan and support him in whatever way possible.....this mission must not fail!!! Neil is not a guy to give up easily because if we fail and we stop exposing these mongrels, the cabal will continue on its path of elimination by whatever means.

Join the cause folks...you can sit on your arse and do nothing or you can continue to rally and help support Neil and the team...I hope you all understand the consequences if you do nothing.

NEIL KEENAN UPDATE | Neil Answers: Why Won't the Dragon Family Finance This Battle We Are Having with the Cabal?

October 21, 2013

I have read the question:

"Why won't the Dragon Family finance this battle we are having with the Cabal and my answer which is what they would say to me is:

"Why should we? You created your own mess, now find your way out."

I have spent my own money fighting this battle realizing the Family will only come to my aid once the fight is over with. This is our fight!!

We have made the mistakes by becoming complacent — even though the signs have always been there for us to wake up. Even when it hit us in the side of the head, we still would not react to save our own skins. It has been people such as myself that took the step to right so many wrongs three years ago.

The Family will help us only after we win our fight. They will not give us everything, but they will give us enough to begin anew.

If we do not win, we most likely will be servants or dead. It is as simple as this. We must get off our backsides to save our world. This is our fight, now let's win it — and if not then at least let's try and not allow ourselves to be bullied into our own demise. It is our choice to Win or Lose and damn it, no matter what, I am pushing forward, even if alone.

You state they should assist me seeing I am helping them.

You are wrong, in essence I am using the Family's support to fight our battle. Not the other way around. The Family has plenty of assets and what the West has stolen from them is such a little compared to what they hold, but it is their assets and they do not plan on financing the War against the WEST. For who will this WAR be fought other than those living in the WEST? This battle is ours to Win or Lose.

We have to step up in whatever way possible to fight these monsters. Their plans do not include us and they are not like us but they will destroy us, our children, our families. I do not depend on the Family at all at this time. Yes, I know they are there, but I also know it is not their fight, so I do what I can to save us. Let us pray that we do enough to WIN. In my case I will do my best. What will you do?

NEIL KEENAN UPDATE – THANK YOU PENTAGON FOR COMING TO OUR AID –

FAMILY

October 21, 2013

FOUR TOP GENERALS... pt 1](#)

[NFK Update: THANK YOU PENTAGON FOR COMING TO OUR AID –
FOUR TOP GENERALS.. pt 2](#)

Keenan reports intelligence that came to him first; Thank you Pentagon for coming to our aid. Four top Generals with the highest clearance in the United States stood up for us and lost their jobs and support for their families as a result. These patriots stopped a plot to detonate nuclear warheads in Charleston, South Carolina; intended as a false flag attack and ordered through Barack Obama by his handlers.

At this point in time, what can anyone say, because this video says it all. Neil had this information long before anyone else, he checked it out with his sources in the Pentagon and with the GRU, and everything came back confirmed that Obama was behind this. Neil waited for Peter to come back with confirmation on the seismic activity and corroborated with him. He then decided to go public with what he knows.

In our private conversations, Neil has made it very clear to me that if we really want to get to the truth, we need to quickly get to the four Generals and question them in regards to what really happened — before the cabal gets to them! Please understand that Neil has not been playing dead because he's been 'sick'. He's been working behind the scenes for all of us to move things forward. In this important video report, Neil covers the 'nuke' story and takes care of some other important business.

Let me remind you here, as well, that the scientific data has been presented by Peter Eyre here. Neil references not only the Pentagon, but the GRU in this video. Here is the Wikipedia link for the GRU. On the other hand, Peter Eyre references Germany's seismic data as proof, as well.

NEIL KEENAN UPDATE | Response To Karen Hudes

NFK Update: Response to Karen Hudes

Neil Keenan talks about the disinformation Karen Hudes recently made in an interview with Benjamin Fulford. Besides that, George and Nelu are the other updates he shares.

It is old news by now that picking a fight with Neil Francis Keenan is a bad idea. Certainly, Karen Hudes had an instructive experience on the subject of her misinformation. It is also apparent to all that the Bankster/Bloodline Cabal loves to see in-fighting within the freedom movement. Neil Keenan has much better things to do with his time than fighting off misinformed smears.

But when he perceives an attack, his Golden Glove fighter's instincts kick in, and he hits back hard. Mr. Keenan clearly believes it is too late in the game to allow misinformation (whether accidentally or deliberately spread) to create fog on the battlefield – which can lead to “friendly-fire” casualties. The guns need to be pointed in one direction – at the enemies of humanity.

The accompanying 23-minute video is vintage Keenan, and is well worth viewing for those who have the time. Forcefully and unmistakably, he rebuts Ms. Hudes' recent statements to Ben Fulford. It appears that Hudes realized too late that her unguarded words would cause trouble for her, and she made attempts to prevent the full interview from being distributed. However, her efforts were too late, and Mr. Keenan had no choice but to strongly rebut another round of misinformation from Karen Hudes.

Even so, he waited some days before responding. Keenan stated that he did not want to have to issue yet another rebuttal to misinformation, but once it became apparent that Hudes' statements had been widely distributed, "enough is enough. It's bad enough having to deal with the poison thing...but we don't need this garbage out there, too."

He goes on to share important updates regarding Nelu, and the position of the Asian families regarding the assets of the World Bank. For those who need to quickly absorb the gist, and revisit the video later, here are the essentials:

- Karen Hudes did work with Keenan – and then attempted to cut him out: Contrary to Ms. Hudes statements that she "never worked with Keenan, and would not work with Keenan," she did receive direct and important help from The Keenan Group, which gave her a crucial introduction to S.C. Chiang – a powerfully influential figure with the Asian families who own the vast majority of Global Account assets.

Mr. Chiang stood ready to help Ms. Hudes in her dealings with the World Bank...until she attempted to go around Neil Keenan to work unilaterally, attempting to cut out the man who has earned the families' trust. This backfired badly, as Mr. Chiang informed Keenan of the incident, and withdrew his offer to help Hudes.

- The Monaco Accords: This is a repeat of Ms. Hudes' misinformation from the last round. She states that Neil Keenan was merely "among those invited" to the secret gathering of finance ministers which took place in the fall of 2011. In fact, it was Neil Keenan who was instrumental in instigating the crucial gathering, which then was facilitated by influential figures in Switzerland.

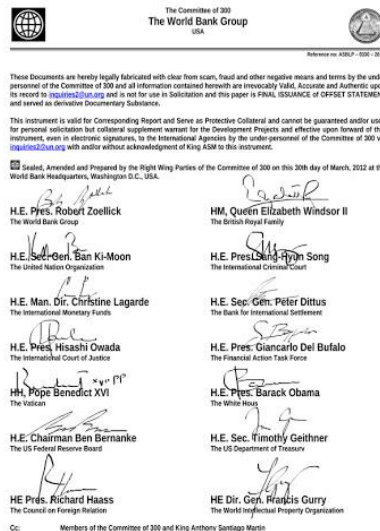

The World Bank, the IMF, the BIS were emphatically NOT invited, and not in the loop. On her own turf as a World Bank lawyer, Keenan acknowledges, Hudes is an expert. Outside that turf, Neil suggests to Hudes in no uncertain terms that silence might be an attractive option.

AMANAH'S ODYSSEY | PROFILE OF VALOR & VICTOR ©

- Is there gold in Indonesia? Is the Pope Catholic? And speaking of the Vatican... Once more Karen Hudes steps outside her expertise to hold forth on the question of where the gold lies, stating that there is no gold in Indonesia. “Really, Karen?” asks Neil Keenan. Wrong, says Neil – in Indonesia there is “lots of it!” (Keenan will let us fill in the zeroes on what “lots” may mean). And Hudes say it’s in the Vatican? Keenan’s information is direct. Karen admitted to Benjamin Fulford that she was only repeating hearsay.

- The World Bank and the Asian assets: “Fool me once, shame on you. Fool me twice....” The East entrusted the West with its gold a hundred years ago, and a century of fraud, robbery, and bloodshed ensued. This will not be allowed to happen again. Do not look, says Keenan, to see the Asian family’s hand over control of their assets to a cabal-created institution like the World Bank.
- Update on funding: The campaign to complete Keenan’s work on the Global Collateral Accounts is making good progress, thanks to the efforts and contributions of many. Additional help from key figures is in process.
- Nelu’s fight for freedom: The case of the Keenan Group’s key partner Martha “Nelu” Wibawa – wrongly imprisoned for sixteen months in Indonesia – will soon be before the High Court, where Mr. Keenan has hopes that he will finally receive a fair hearing. The shameful record of denial of justice in this case may have one last chance to be rectified before being taken up by an international tribunal.

A final note: Mr. Keenan’s health is rebounding after narrowly averting an assassination attempt via poison. His Irish luck is holding out – this one was close. Your prayers and good thoughts are deeply appreciated.

NEIL KEENAN UPDATE | Funding Update, Comment by Jean Haines

November 17, 2013

Friends, Family,

Before I say anything at all, permit Neil and me to say thank you to those of our family who have stepped to the line and worked their way through the Bitcoin process in order to demonstrate their support for Neil and his work. It's clear that these people understand that 'we are the ones we've been waiting for? Our deepest thanks!

I often receive irritated comments that I do not publish asking why, if Neil is for real, he doesn't get the job done! I'm going to answer those comments now.

You can believe me when I say that Neil isn't now in Indonesia, that he was helped to get safely out of there, and that the altercations didn't take place in Indonesia. He told me last night that he was a sitting duck there, and that was how they were able to get to him and poison him.

He isn't going back until he gets the money to do the job, and I don't blame him. No matter what you may be hearing, you also can believe me when I say that the cabal will not be out of money this week.

We asked for donations, using, as far as we are concerned and in spite of what you may have heard elsewhere, the only safe method we know. While others are slamming Bitcoin, its value has more than doubled since we began accepting donations. We're using it as a means to transfer funds, and the Bitcoin haters can argue the long-term efficacy of Bitcoin all they want; we just need to use it for a few hours to make transfers.

We knew it was a difficult process, but we offered help to you. We have people who will walk you through the entire procedure. Because it is safe process, it takes almost a week — or a bit more. To date, however, we have received only twenty-four contributions, totaling just under $4,000. Half of this amount is actually due to Bitcoin's appreciation!

Putting it simply and rather obviously, however, that isn't going to get the job done! Neil has been told we are now in the middle of Agenda 21, that it is real, and very soon we may not be able to recover from it. If people who believe in Neil and his efforts will each contribute a small amount, he can get the job done.

If I routinely get 25 – 30,000 hits a day on my blog, and if only 10 – 15,000 people give the equivalent of about $50, he can finish this off. No matter what you can give, though, if you just will give something, it will all add up and help him reach the amount he needs. I can tell you that very soon the dollar isn't going to be worth Tidily-Winks, so if you are sitting on your money — what little you may have left, very soon it isn't going to be worth anything anyway. How does pennies on the dollar sound!

Over the last years, Neil himself has given everything he had to this effort. I also have given everything I possibly could to assist Neil's efforts on behalf of humanity and our planet. My question to you now is, "What are you willing to give? What is your freedom worth to you?"

All this stuff from those people who believe love-and-light is going to get the job done just won't cut it. We are still living in 3D, and we're fighting a 3D battle — and it's a battle to the death — and we still bleed!

If you want us to make it through this, then maybe it's time to deal with your fears and donate. Neil can walk away from this, pick up his stolen notes valued with interest over a trillion dollars and make the following deal, Keenan which he has been offered: He cannot refile his lawsuit and must stop his pursuit of the Global Accounts and the cabal. As a result, there will be a ton of money on the table for him.

He also has a signed, blank check from a member of the cabal — if he will go away. In addition, he has the Black Book, among other books, that is priceless, and who knows into whose hands they may fall. Then you will have to decide what living is worth. If the Black Book gets into the wrong hands, the cabal will have control of this planet for at least the next several hundred years.

Instead of all of the above, which will definitely take care of Neil Keenan for twenty-five lifetimes, he's decided he's going to try to find the money on his own, because he realizes that the people of the planet apparently do not care enough about themselves, that they're waiting for someone else to do their job for them, and even waiting for someone else to tell them the battle is all over — and he doesn't believe there is enough time anymore. Should we wait any longer, we're going to be dead.

Neil has given over three years of his life to this effort. It's obviously not the money that he's lost that matters. Why then do you think he is doing this? It's because he cares. Meanwhile, he's safely tucked away for as long as it takes — one month? Two months? More?

In the meantime, Agenda 21 is moving forward — just look at the Philippines. From what he understands, we in the United States/West might be next. Just like they did in the Philippine area, they're spraying heavily, setting things up so that when they want us, they have us. At that time, there's nothing we can do. Shame on us!

Neil Keenan & Group K

NEIL KEENAN UPDATE | The Great Escape, News on Gold, And Cleaning House

November 22, 2013

Fifty years ago, the conscienceless sociopaths who want us to believe they run the world brutally murdered our president. John F. Kennedy knew the risks he took when he opposed and undermined the sick sect of bloodlines and bankers behind the Federal Reserve.

But to Kennedy, it was apparently a closed question – he simply would not stand by and allow the slaughter and enslavement of millions under his watch. He knew that signing the Green Hilton Memorial Agreement and Presidential Directive #11110 to give control of America's money back to America's people was tantamount to signing his own death warrant.

With the characteristic Kennedy blend of guts and arrogance, he did it anyway, and paid with his life. From JFK's point of view, he had no choice – to cooperate or even to look the other way was simply unthinkable.

Or as Neil Keenan put it to me one day –

"Yeah, I could take the money and walk away. But what's the point if we all end up dead from these people?"

Every president we've had since that horrific day in Dallas has absorbed the ugly lesson, and has chosen to look the other way as the genocidal agenda proceeded. "Better to be a live mouse than a dead lion," they reasoned. But John Kennedy's legacy and legend lives and grows, while they are already being forgotten.

Maybe there's something in the history of the Irish race that taught us to embrace foolhardy risks in the name of hopeless causes. After helping win the American Civil War, the immigrant sons of Ireland (my great-grandfather among them) banded together and headed north to conquer Canada from Great Britain and trade it for the freedom of Ireland.

We tend to dream big. And Ireland is free today. Well, most of it.

Which brings us to Neil F. Keenan. Or as the shorthand now is, NFK. I'm here to tell you that the same "presidential" family whose chieftain planned the murder of John Kennedy fifty years ago attempted last week to abduct and most likely kill Neil Keenan, and for the same reason:

He poses the greatest threat since Kennedy to their global crime syndicate through his campaign to shut down their money spigot – the decades-long defrauding of the Global Collateral Accounts.

For those who begin to find the whole story too improbable and accuse Keenan of being a con, I have little patience.

If Neil is a con man, it's the stupidest and most profitless con ever conceived.

Having sat at his side in stifling prisons, corrupt courtrooms, and watched his back on crowded Jakarta streets (yeah, that's how big our security budget really was – the skinny writer who hasn't handled a gun in thirty years was basically Neil's bodyguard for two months), and having sat in his hotel room as the calls came in from finance ministers and intelligence contacts, and knowing first-hand how he's spent his fortune, risked his life, seen his best friend killed, and endured months of tedious setbacks while turning down tainted funding, my Irish flashes pretty fast when I read some internet wise-ass holding forth on how Neil isn't for real.

To them I will only say – *“póg mo thóin ríoga na hÉireann.”

Neil is fond of that expression himself. Let's just say it's not an invitation to kiss the Blarney Stone. Here's how it played out:

NFK pushed his resources to the limit and returned to Jakarta to try to wrap the deal up as the cabal closed off his financial lifelines.

Funds raised on the web are beginning to rise, but getting them to Neil was difficult. Still trying to free his partner Nelu from prison, still lining up allies to wrest control of the Accounts, still recovering from a poison attempt (yes, it really happened), still fending off attacks on his reputation from people who should know better, he took a break and went to the Starbucks at a nearby mall (the same one where many of these posts were written), in the company of the gutsy and faithful Inchul Kim.

Neil's a kidder. A virtually non-stop jokester. So, when he told Inchul to watch out for the big, well-muscled guy pretending to read his laptop at a nearby table, Inchul was ready to laugh. But the look in Neil's eyes was different this time. He alerted Inchul to a second “watcher” and told him to be ready to move.

When Neil and Inchul made a sudden exit, they drew the opposition out, and observed themselves being followed. Having the advantage of knowing the territory (mall-cruising being a favorite pastime...well, the only pastime, really), our friends returned to their hotel in safety by a side exit.

But a blatant threat came through that night, which let Neil know that this time the heat was on, and that he was not simply being watched – the people from Texas were now desperate to retrieve the Black Book by whatever means necessary... and their means of persuasion are, as we know, vile, and Neil would then be eliminated.

He made the calculus and knew that staying in Jakarta was not an option. His team was totally vulnerable, his friends would be hurt or killed, and he himself would be taken.

So, he left town fast..." got outta Dodge" as he expressed.

He didn't tell me until much later where he went. It doesn't matter now – he's no longer there. But the cabal was in close pursuit, as those who read the hacked Skype dialogue in which they clumsily attempted to pump information from Jean Haines who will know (similar attempts were made to other contacts in Neil's Skype account – some of whom assumed that it was just Keenan playing with their heads as usual... but they wised up fast and the hackers got zero information).

Pushed from the airport bus by an unseen hand, Keenan's knee was injured as he arrived at his destination (yes, the hackers did indeed, as they claimed, observe him limping in surveillance footage). Slipping into the bathroom, Mr. Keenan emerged moments later as someone else (he made me promise not to divulge the details of his disguise – let's just say it didn't involve a dress or panty-hose, but maybe did include a foreign accent and a Groucho nose).

He at once saw the waiting team of thugs outside searching for him. He walked right between them, feebly excusing himself in Swahili (or was it Ukrainian? I'll let you figure it out) while the bad guys exclaimed to each other, "Where did he go?"

Okay, it was a blond wig and a fedora and some shades, and he was speaking Spanish. "Permisa me" he muttered, and the bad guys let the old man through. Next time, he says, it will be a new disguise. I suggested Mrs. Doubtfire, but I think he'd rather be a Ninja.

It appears that the cabal wanted Neil to believe he was being met by friendly Pentagon types, who would then escort him to an undisclosed location from which, he would never emerge. Instead, he strolled on, bag in tow, thinking maybe he was safe. And then he felt a hand on his arm.

"Mr. Keenan? Please come with me."

A well-dressed Asian man. Smiling, and with a knowing look. Keenan replied in Spanish to the effect that he was not Keenan.

"Please, Mr. Keenan. We would know you anywhere. I am with Mr. _____. We need to get you to safety now."

Instinct told Neil this was the right guy. They walked on, left the airport, and were met by security forces of the good guys who escorted Neil to a hideout in the wilderness. The Family and positive U.S. military forces were instrumental in ensuring Keenan's survival.

Here, I will have to leave it to your imaginations – those oh-so-fertile web conspiracy think-tanks – to figure out who the good guys were and where they took Mr. Keenan.

It could have been Virginia. Or maybe Belgium. I will only confirm that it was not Antarctica. They were followed by a team of bad guys.

A perimeter was established. The cabal thugs came in, unaware that their every move was watched on camera. Keenan sat with the special forces from hiding, watching surveillance footage on a laptop... loving every minute, of course.

"Like watching a video game – only with life and death stakes," said Neil.

The bad guys were shooting at shadows and noises, killing stray wildlife, not knowing they were actually the prey themselves. Eleven of them were taken. Some skirmishes, but no blood was shed. They were then taken out by helicopter to an undisclosed location – one not of their choosing, where one hopes they are singing like canaries about their erstwhile employers.

There were some close encounters. Neil (as he tells it) got to hit somebody in a fight, before the professionals took over. "I loved it!"

At sixty-three, with a bad leg, his chances for mixing it up are now few, and he was having a great time.

Soon he was "operational" and back in touch with the world, working on the next steps. A few days later, his protectors decided it was safe to move him. So now he's somewhere else. Hawaii, maybe? Either there, or Saskatchewan. Take your pick. Beats me.

No sooner was he relatively safe (and being Neil Keenan is unsafe by definition) than he had to go back on the offensive. As some may have read, the zombie-fraud entity calling itself the Office of International Treasury Control (or OITC) keeps attempting to rise from the dead with another attack on Keenan, or, in the latest instance, on World Bank whistle-blower Karen Hudes.

Curiously, the OITC purports to be a highly secret organization whose existence cannot be proven or disproven by internet research, and yet it maintains its own very public website. The OITC website does not explain why a highly secretive organization would want, or need, to maintain such a website; nor does the website explain why such an apparently wealthy organization would have such a badly designed website with many typographical errors."

In an exchange published on the pro-OITC site Rumormill News, OITC promoter David Crayford mounted an attack on Karen Hudes, once again claiming that OITC is the true claimant to control of the Global Collateral Accounts. As with Neil Keenan, Hudes represents competition to their profit-scheme, so she was attacked. While it may be true that Ms. Hudes has often stepped outside of her area of expertise in many interviews, she is in fact a twenty-year veteran counsel with the cabal-created and controlled World Bank who is attempting to alert the world to the corrupt oligarchy's agenda.

On her own turf, her information is important. Keenan recently stated that he is still open to communication with Hudes, if a clean understanding were reached. Meanwhile, the enemy of my enemy is my friend. Hence this reminder about the fraud-riddled history of the OITC.

A side note: the guy calling himself “Anonymous” on the Hudes-Crayford thread over at Rumormill is none other than our old friend Keith Scott, attempting to emerge from obscurity. As usual, Keenan’s intelligence sources have the drop on Mr. Scott. Neil and his colleague Chris played a prank on Scott by spooking him into believing that Neil was spying on him via his laptop and his place being bugged. Scott, believing that Neil was in his laptop, totally freaked out and disappeared from Indonesia to a remote hiding place in Australia.

Meanwhile, the Nazi escapees from Houston and their Illuminati network are still desperately trying to grab the gold, find the Book, and continue to defraud the Global Collateral Accounts. As reported earlier, George Soros personally went to Indonesia to hand out enormous bribes to the Elders (and some non-Elders as well) to obtain access to the bunkers and tunnels where Account assets have been stored since WWII.

Days later, Keenan suffered the poisoning attempt, after which intelligence sources reported that Soros upon return to D.C. was heard to state, “We almost got Keenan.” An important note: deep thanks to Dr. Edward Group of the Global Healing Center for the special anti-poison kits provided to Mr. Keenan. These saved his life. Neil suggested I add pungent details about the manner in which these kits work, but it’s enough to state that they are an “intense purgative.”

Soros and the Emperor of Japan are now working on a plan to remove the vast gold troves from Indonesia, which is now a blown cover, but the Family is keeping a close eye on this attempt. The Emperor’s efforts to help the cabal steal the Family’s gold in South Korea are also being closely monitored, and they will not succeed. “The Family is ready to deal with them,” according to NFK, “and with anyone attempting to sell the Family’s gold.”

Back in Jakarta, our friend Nelu’s case now moves back again into line for the Supreme Court, where we still hope that justice may be done, and that this innocent and good man will finally taste the air of freedom after a year and a half of unjust imprisonment.

As always, word of major moves by the Good Guys is in the wind. Maybe this time it’s for real. I have no idea. I don’t pretend to know how Neil intends to pull this off. I only know NFK has lived to fight another day. For which we should all be grateful.

NFK Update: Back In Action, Warns Of Cabal Gold Grab In Asia And Of Plan For USA War With China

Neil Keenan may have spent a few days in the hills under the protection of the good guys, and God knows he's taken a few lumps over the past few months, but the news today is that Keenan hasn't changed. He "slipped out the back door" after his circuitous escape from the Cabal's abduction attempt, and is back in Jakarta, raising hell, causing trouble, and giving gold-grabbing globalists sleepless nights.

In the urgent video attached to this post, Keenan warns of the corrupt globalists' final survival strategy: steal a massive trove of Global Accounts gold from its storage place in South Korea, and use it to finance a war against China and Russia. The spiraling debt-crisis in Europe will be used to drag the EU nations into final bankruptcy, allowing the Goldman-Sachs dominated EU structure to replicate Greek-style debt and Cyprus-style asset seizure throughout Europe, putting increased pressure on Russia, while provoking war against China.

The ultimate aim of the globalists hasn't changed: a "collectivist" world in which the individual is smothered beneath the weight of a totalitarian global state. The face of Stalinist communism is little different from the face of Hitlerian fascism – both are aimed at forcing humanity to serve the elite in the name of a phony "greater good of all" ideology.

As Keenan reminds us, this has long been the dark sect's final vision, going all the way back to the Illuminati funding of the Nazis, and the massive postwar Nazi infiltration of the US government: a final world crisis of war and financial collapse in which they impose a globalist order.

To this end, USA Corporation VP Joseph Biden flew to South Korea to demand the surrender of 300,000 metric tons of gold (Global Collateral Accounts assets rightfully belonging to the ancient and powerful Chinese clan known as “The Family”) to the Bankster Fed cabal (with the strings being pulled from the City of London, as they have been for two centuries).

The new Illuminati point man on the American front, former Treasury Secretary and Fed veteran Timothy Geithner, has been placed in charge of that prime cabal entity, The Council on Foreign Relations, by the Rockefeller/Warburg organization. His assignment at the CFR is to ruin nations' economies in cooperation with Angela Merkel in order to bring about a German Fourth Reich in Europe.

For the cabal's last-ditch plan to be successful the Euro nations must go deeper and deeper into debt under the German umbrella. The Banksters hope to exert pressure on Russia from the West via the European collapse, while the USA Corporation goes to war with China, via provocations from South Korea at the cabal's behest. Result: chaos, mass bloodshed, famine, global depression, and the implementation of a police state to “save humanity from itself” – the usual Illuminati recipe for controlling the planet.

Keenan put it succinctly: “This is their plan at this time to succeed and stay alive. If not successful then they lose.”

But the Cabal has not reckoned on this sensitive intelligence reaching the ears of Neil Keenan. They have not reckoned on his all-out push to close off their financial spigot. They have not reckoned on his exposure of this plot to the principal players whom the Cabal must deceive. China will not be drawn into this web, and the US military has had enough of sacrificing blood and treasure to serve the corrupt elite.

In his latest video message (a Keenan classic, and well worth watching), Neil confirms the details of his escape shared in our last post. This botched abduction (foiled with help from “the Family” and American good guys) turned out so badly for the Cabal that they have passed the word that there will be no more attempts.

Well, for now, of course, and these are vile liars and murderers we're talking about: Neil will not exactly be letting his guard down, but at the moment, the coast appears to be clear.

So, Keenan is back on the case: warning of new Cabal plots, sharing solid intel, and showing the way forward. The gist of it is simple. The Cabal's basic strategy hasn't changed for centuries: steal gold, trap people in debt, and start wars to maintain control. But the jig is up and the people aren't falling for it anymore. Too many people are awake, too many nations are cooperating to stop them, and the Cabal's failures are piling up.

The latest plot goes like this: George Soros, the Emperor of Japan, and the Rothschilds are working to convince South Korea to go along with selling 300,000 metric tons of gold to the Cabal. These Global Collateral Account assets, of course, belong to the rightful Depositors, “The Family,” as the ancient Asian clan prefers to be known.

But the Family has its own agents, watchers, and enforcers, and they have let it be known that the would-be gold-grabbers will suffer “disappearances” if they persist in this planned crime.

Meanwhile, the Indonesian Elders who have guarded Account assets for decades are under intense Cabal pressure to surrender the gold, and are now in immediate danger of violent coercion from Japanese thugs under the authority of Emperor Akihito and Prime Minister Abe, who have returned to Rothschild domination.

These wise and gentle people of high integrity are a national treasure, and deserve protection. Keenan offers reassurance that security will soon be in place for the Elders, who have long been neglected as they’ve shouldered their burden of guardianship.

Once the corrupt oligarchs have succeeded in drowning the nations of Europe in debt, the European Union cabalists intend to exacerbate tensions with Russia as a prelude to a conflict with China. The question being – who does the cabal think will fight this war for them? False flags don’t work anymore as the military has turned against them.

But it’s all they know how to do. Humanitarian programs, international harmony, and environmental restoration are not exactly their strong suits. Deception, depredation, and degeneration are their primary skill sets, so, hey, what can you expect?

Neil Keenan offers thanks to the military guys and Family representatives who helped save his life – and has some advice for them as well. We need to take back our world. It’s time to put these people out of business and behind bars where they belong. Meanwhile, Nelu is not forgotten – Neil met with his friend in prison today, and reports that his spirits are good, and his hopes are high. Good for solid news and some genuine hope. And, oh yes, there’s a special message for Aussie globalist prime minister Tony Abbott, courtesy of Lou Costello.

“Hey, Abbott! The world knows who you really are...”. Neil

NEIL KEENAN UPDATE | "IT'S SHOW TIME!"

December 17, 2013

NFK Update: "IT'S SHOW TIME!" pt 1

Neil dismisses Benjamin Fulford's claim that the 300,000 metric tons of gold in South Korea belonged to the Korean "dynastic" family and that Joe Biden recently came there to "beg" for them. Australian PM Tony Abbott still gets his share of Neil's rebuke, especially for putting Pauline Hanson in jail. There's also an issue of people giving an unnecessary annoyance and distracting Neil for a day and half.

NFK Update: "IT'S SHOW TIME!" pt 2

Neil plays a guessing game of the names of the people giving him a distraction and unnecessary annoyance. Nelu didn't win his appeal to the supreme court. European Union will be brought down, worldwide military exerted if necessary. P2 Lodge is going to bring peace to the world?

This most recent report from NFK is hot – and filled with information and promises, passionately delivered in classic NFK panache. In the spirit of “Out with the Old and in with the New”, it is time to “settle up”- AND “Clean out the Clutter.”

So, for those specifically mentioned in this video report who are bent and determined to continue in their wicked ways – AND for those pretending to represent and present the TRUE and accurate facts, Neil's message is, “Get your information and loyalties straight. WE don't need you or anyone else to win this” – SO, better straighten up and fly right.

Before it's too late!

NFK Update: Group K Strikes Back! pt 2

Neil Keenan talks about the demands by the German to the US government to "return" 300 metric tons of gold. What the public doesn't know is the American people have unwittingly given Germany more than 17,000 tons of gold. The culprit is the Federal Reserve, of course.

From the intimate setting of his living room, Neil Keenan invites and informs us about the higher-level movements and machinations of the Cabal. Updates and deeper explanations of their inner workings and initiatives taken on by Group K to stop them are included in this heartfelt New Year's message from NFK.

AMANAHA'S ODYSSEY | PROFILE OF VALOR & VICTOR ©

Additionally, he includes a formal, diplomatic letter sent to Chancellor Merkel of Germany. The current Government of Germany is the first domino in taking down the cabal. As it falls, so will the City of London, the European Union, NATO, and the UNITED STATES CORPORATION.

Germany stole well over 17,000 tons of American gold in the 1930s, and now has the gall to demand an additional 300 tons today. Neil stands up to say, "Enough!"

This letter which follows Neil's video below is a formal, legal communication, and therefore must be appreciated in that context. Only the most diplomatic and pertinent legal language is appropriately relevant in this type of communication. Suffice it to say that the moral and/or ethical aspects of the misappropriation and the circumvention of the American public are well understood and known by Neil and the NFK Team.

There may be questions from you pertaining to terminology and content in this diplomatic/legal document, but you can rest assured that all such questions have been carefully weighed.

Please enjoy this post. We welcome your responses.

NEIL KEENAN UPDATE | The Fed Fraud: The European- Controlled Creature That's Bled Us for 100 Years

January 9, 2014

Knowledge is indeed power.

Neil Keenan and his team bring the truth to the people who have long been denied their right to know how our government has allowed the Federal Reserve Bank (the FED), a European-controlled private corporation, to ransack this country for the past 100 years in the biggest fraud this world has ever seen.

Rob us blind for 100 years, shame on them; rob us blind for the next 100 years, and shame on us for remaining blissfully ignorant and allowing this monstrosity to ruin our country.

In 1932 the brilliant, courageous, patriotic Chairman of the Banking and Currency Committee, Congressman Louis T. McFadden, was American's first, most informed, and most eloquent anti-FED champion. His crusade, from the floor well of the U.S. House of Representatives, outlined below, is particularly "sacred" because McFadden paid for his brave efforts to expose this FED fraud with his life: he was assassinated.

As never before exposed to the world at large, these excerpts from McFadden's audacious speeches from the United States House of Representative floor well, recited from the U.S. Congressional Record of 1934, clearly detail how the FED has masterminded the death of what our founding fathers envisioned for America.

With the passage of the Federal Reserve Act on December 23, 1913, McFadden reveals how our government officially ceased being by-the-people and for-the-people and became wholly under the control of the Federal Reserve Board and their foreign European overlords.

Don't believe it? Then read on, and the outrageous truth will be understood: We the People's hard-earned liberty and prosperity without restraint have been handed over by the FED to foreign bankers and their agents, generation after generation, to the exclusive benefit of the Globalists and their hellish agenda. All the while, the truth has remained hidden, quietly submerged in so many unread pages of the Congressional Record — and not a word breathed of this tragedy in the last 100 years by America's multi-national corporate-owned press.

McFadden told Congress: "They [the FED] have been peddling the credit of this Government to the swindlers and speculators of all nations. This is what happens when a country forsakes its Constitution and gives its sovereignty over the public currency to private interests. Give them the flag and they will sell it." President Woodrow Wilson who signed the Federal Reserve Act into law lamented in his diary that by doing so, "I have unwittingly ruined my country."

Although McFadden's words were documented in the early 1930s, they accurately and tragically describe the state of America today, but with the inevitability that our conditions have grown to be far worse than even he has imagined.

Over the years much has been claimed about the lawlessness of the FED, however, once it is understood how this "crime train" got started, it takes little imagination to realize the ever-growing, ever-expanding methods that the FED employs to perpetuate their rape and pillage of America's freedoms and finances.

In 1932 McFadden boldly called for an audit of the FED. Over eighty years later, even with Ron Paul's efforts, the FED has still never been audited for one penny they have illegally siphoned from the American people's reserves. Trillions of "bail-out" dollars that the FED doled out in the FED-caused crash of 2008 were given to foreign banks.

Why would 'our' FED give American bail-out money to foreign banks? McFadden provides the answer to this question, as well as why the American people have suffered so severely and have been deprived of their rightful inheritance of wealth for which you, your parents, and your parents' parents, labored so very long and hard.

Having served as Chairman of the Banking and Currency Committee for more than ten years, McFadden was uniquely knowledgeable when he cited specific examples and figures of the American wealth the FED was shipping out of our country.

Passed by a law from an empty chamber on the night before Christmas Eve, 1913, and with the regretful support of a naive President, the FED grew quickly to control a large portion of the world's gold by the early 1930s. There can be no question that the FED knew they were omnipotent and unstoppable to export whatever they wished of American wealth, whenever they wanted, to whomever they willed.

The FED has not made public the actual import and export figures of gold since 1941, however, based on their nefarious method of operation from the beginning, the figures that they previously made available were not based on reality. McFadden blew the whistle right in the U.S. House floor well on regular European shipments of the American people's gold in tranches to the tune of $1.3 billion (1932) dollars' worth per quarter. Yet the FED makes no accounting of this in their half-baked books, and quickly stopped making these books publicly available at all.

It is an understatement to say that McFadden's words should be read by every American and taken to heart and mind, in spite of the fact that it will provide no comfort in knowing the truth, no comfort in the anger and horror of learning the cold hard facts of what the arch-criminal FED has done to this country from the very first days of its diabolical inception. Indisputable proof that McFadden spoke the truth is found in the heartbreaking fact that after two assassination attempts, one by gunshot and the other by poison, he died suddenly and inexplicably of "heart failure" in 1936.

Now the Keenan Team, in the proud tradition of our dear patriot Congressman McFadden, reveals what few know, and nobody else will come forward to say about today's FED mis-dealings:

THE FED IS CURRENTLY WORKING TO MISAPPROPRIATE INTEREST ON THE GLOBAL ACCOUNTS IN AN ATTEMPT TO SHORE UP THEIR CORRUPTION AND MALFEASANCE OF THEIR GOVERNANCE OF THEIR GLOBALIST ECONOMY. THE FED HAS CEASED TO BE AN INDEPENDENT AGENCY AND NOW OPERATES UNDER THE AUSPICES OF THE UNITED STATES CORPORATION, DEPARTMENT OF THE TREASURY.

On May 12, 1933 Congressman McFadden brought a petition for the Articles of Impeachment against the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve Bank, The Comptroller of the Currency, and the Secretary of the United States Treasury for treason, fraud, unlawful conversion, and conspiracy. These Articles of Impeachment were referred to the United States House Judiciary Committee, where they still remain in limbo. The time has come to dust off these Articles of Impeachment, update their names, convict these traitors, and proceed to the gallows where the entire lot belongs.

Chairman of the Banking and Currency Committee Congressman McFadden on the Federal Reserve Corporation
excerpts from the United States Congressional Record, 1934

The Federal Reserve -A Corrupt Institution

"Mr. Chairman, we have in this Country one of the most corrupt institutions the world has ever known. I refer to the Federal Reserve Board and the Federal Reserve Banks, hereinafter called the Fed. The Fed has cheated the Government of these United States and the people of the United States out of enough money to pay the Nation's debt. The depredations and iniquities of the Fed have cost enough money to pay the National debt several times over.

This evil institution has impoverished and ruined the people of these United States, has bankrupted itself, and has practically bankrupted our Government. It has done this through the defects of the law under which it operates, through the maladministration of that law by the Fed and through the corrupt practices of the moneyed vultures who control it.

Some people who think that the Federal Reserve Banks are United States Government institutions. They are private monopolies which prey upon the people of these United States for the benefit of themselves and their foreign customers; foreign and domestic speculators and swindlers; and rich and predatory money lender.

In that dark crew of financial pirates there are those who would cut a man's throat to get a dollar out of his pocket; there are those who send money into states to buy votes to control our legislatures; there are those who maintain International propaganda for the purpose of deceiving us into granting of new concessions which will permit them to cover up their past misdeeds and set again in motion their gigantic train of crime.

These twelve private credit monopolies were deceitfully and disloyally foisted upon this Country by the bankers who came here from Europe and repaid us our hospitality by undermining our American institutions. Those bankers took money out of this Country to finance Japan in a war against Russia. They created a reign of terror in Russia with our money in order to help that war along. They instigated the separate peace between Germany and Russia, and thus drove a wedge between the allies in World War.

They financed Trotsky's passage from New York to Russia so that he might assist in the destruction of the Russian Empire. They fomented and instigated the Russian Revolution, and placed a large fund of American dollars at Trotsky's disposal in one of their branch banks in Sweden so that through him Russian homes might be thoroughly broken up and Russian children flung far and wide from their natural protectors. They have since begun breaking up of American homes and the dispersal of American children. Mr. Chairman, there should be no partisanship in matters concerning banking and currency affairs in this Country, and I do not speak with any.

In 1912 the National Monetary Association, under the chairmanship of the late Senator Nelson W. Aldrich, made a report and presented a vicious bill called the National Reserve Association bill. This bill is usually spoken of as the Aldrich bill. Senator Aldrich did not write the Aldrich bill. He was the tool, if not the accomplice, of the European bankers who for nearly twenty years had been scheming to set up a central bank in this Country and who in 1912 has spent and were continuing to spend vast sums of money to accomplish their purpose.

We were opposed to the Aldrich plan for a central bank. The men who rule the Democratic Party then promised the people that if they were returned to power there would be no central bank established here while they held the reins of government. Thirteen months later that promise was broken, and the Wilson administration, under the tutelage of those sinister Wall Street figures who stood behind Colonel House, established here in our free Country the worm-eaten monarchical institution of the "King's Bank" to control us from the top downward, and from the cradle to the grave.

The Federal Reserve Bank destroyed our old and characteristic way of doing business. It discriminated against our 1-name commercial paper, the finest in the world, and it set up the antiquated 2-name paper, which is the present curse of this Country and which wrecked every country which has ever given it scope; it fastened down upon the Country the very tyranny from which the framers of the Constitution sought to save us."

President Jackson's Time

"One of the greatest battles for the preservation of this Republic was fought out here in Jackson's time; when the second Bank of the United States, founded on the same false principles of those which are here exemplified in the Fed was hurled out of existence. After that, in 1837, the Country was warned against the dangers that might ensue if the predatory interests after being cast out should come back in disguise and unite themselves to the Executive and through him acquire control of the Government. That is what the predatory interests did when they came back in the livery of hypocrisy and under false pretenses obtained the passage of the Federal Reserve Act.

The danger that the Country was warned against came upon us and is shown in the long train of horrors attendant upon the affairs of the traitorous and dishonest Fed. Look around you when you leave this Chamber and you will see evidences of it in all sides. This is an era of misery and for the conditions that caused that misery, the Fed are fully liable. This is an era of financed crime and in the financing of crime the Fed does not play the part of a disinterested spectator.

It has been said that the draughts man who was employed to write the text of the Aldrich bill because that had been drawn up by lawyers, by acceptance bankers of European origin in New York. It was a copy, in general a translation of the statutes of the Reichsbank and other European central banks. One-half million dollars was spent on the part of the propaganda organized by these bankers for the purpose of misleading public opinion and giving Congress the impression that there was an overwhelming popular demand for it and the kind of currency that goes with it, namely, an asset currency based on human debts and obligations.

Dr. H. Parker Willis had been employed by Wall Street and propagandists, and when the Aldrich measure failed- he obtained employment with Carter Glass, to assist in drawing the banking bill for the Wilson administration. He appropriated the text of the Aldrich bill. There is no secret about it. The text of the Federal Reserve Act was tainted from the beginning.

Not all of the Democratic Members of the Sixty-third Congress voted for this great deception. Some of them remembered the teachings of Jefferson; and through the years, there have been no criticisms of the Federal Reserve Board and the Federal reserve banks so honest, so out-spoken, and so unsparing as those which have been voiced here by Democrats. Again, although a number of Republicans voted for the Federal Reserve act, the wisest and most conservative members of the Republican Party would have nothing to do with it and voted against it.

A few days before the bill came to a vote, Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, of Massachusetts, wrote to Senator John W. Weeks as follows:

New York City, December 17, 1913

My Dear Senator Weeks:

“Throughout my public life I have supported all measures designed to take the Government out of the banking business. This bill puts the Government into the banking business as never before in our history and makes, as I understand it, all notes Government notes when they should be bank notes.

The powers vested in the Federal Reserve Board seem to me highly dangerous especially where there is political control of the Board. I should be sorry to hold stock in a bank subject to such dominations. The bill as it stands seems to me to open the way to a vast inflation of the currency.

I will merely add that I do not like to think that any law can be passed which will make it possible to submerge the gold standard in a flood of irredeemable paper currency. I had hoped to support this bill, but I cannot vote for it because it seems to me to contain features and to rest upon principles in the highest degree menacing to our prosperity, to stability in business, and to the general welfare of the people of the United States.”

Very Truly Yours,
Henry Cabot Lodge.

“In eighteen years, that have passed since Senator Lodge wrote that letter of warning all of his predictions have come true. The Government is in the banking business as never before. Against its will it has been made the backer of horse thieves and card sharps, bootlegger's smugglers, speculators, and swindlers in all parts of the world. Through the Fed the riffraff of every country is operating on the public credit of the United States Government.

The Great Depression

“Meanwhile and on account of it, we ourselves are in the midst of the greatest depression we have ever known. From the Atlantic to the Pacific, our Country has been ravaged and laid waste by the evil practices of the Fed and the interests which control them. At no time in our history, has the general welfare of the people been at a lower level or the minds of the people so full of despair.

Recently in one of our States, 60,000 dwelling houses and farms were brought under the hammer in a single day. 71,000 houses and farms in Oakland County, Michigan, were sold and their erstwhile owners dispossessed. The people who have thus been driven out are the wastage of the Fed. They are the victims of the Fed. Their children are the new slaves of the auction blocks in the revival of the institution of human slavery.”

The Scheme of the Fed

"In 1913, before the Senate Banking and Currency Committee, Mr. Alexander Lassen made the following statement: "The whole scheme of the Fed with its commercial paper is an impractical, cumbersome machinery- is simply a cover to secure the privilege of issuing money, and to evade payment of as much tax upon circulation as possible and then control the issue and maintain, instead of reducing interest rates. It will prove to the advantage of the few and the detriment of the people.

It will mean continued shortage of actual money and further extension of credits, for when there is a shortage of money people have to borrow to their cost.' "A few days before the Fed passed, Senator Root denounced the Fed as an outrage on our liberties. He predicted: 'Long before we wake up from our dream of prosperity through an inflated currency, our gold- which alone could have kept us from catastrophe- will have vanished and no rate of interest will tempt it to return.

'If ever a prophecy came true, that one did.'

The Federal Reserve bill became law the day before Christmas Eve, in the year 1913, and shortly afterwards, the German International bankers, Kuhn, Loeb and Co. sent one of their partners here to run it.

The Fed Note is essentially unsound. It is the worst currency and the most dangerous that this Country has ever known. When the proponents of the act saw that the Democratic doctrine would not permit them to let the proposed banks issue the new currency as bank notes, they should have stopped at that. They should not have foisted that kind of currency, namely, an asset currency, on the United States Government. They should not have made the Government [liable on the private] debts of individuals and corporations, and, least of all, on the private debts of foreigners.

As Kemmerer says: 'The Fed Notes, therefore, in form, have some of the qualities of Government paper money, but in substance, are almost a pure asset currency possessing a Government guarantee against which contingency the Government has made no provision whatever.'

Hon. L.J. Hill, a former member of the House, said, and truly: "They are obligations of the Government for which the United States received nothing and for the payment of which at any time, it assumes the responsibility: looking to the Fed to recoup itself.' "If this United States is to redeem the Fed Notes, when the General Public finds it costs to deliver this paper to the Fed, and if the Government has made no provisions for redeeming them, the first element of unsoundness is not far to seek.

Before the Banking and Currency Committee, when the bill was under discussion Mr. Crozier of Cincinnati said: 'The imperial power of elasticity of the public currency is wielded exclusively by the central corporations owned by the banks. This is a life and death power over all local banks and all business. It can be used to create or destroy prosperity, to ward off or cause stringencies and panics.

By making money artificially scarce, interest rates throughout the Country can be arbitrarily raised and the bank tax on all business and cost of living increased for the profit of the banks owning these regional central banks, and without the slightest benefit to the people. The 12 Corporations together cover the whole country and monopolize and use for private gain every dollar of the public currency and all public revenue of the United States. Not a dollar can be put into circulation among the people by their Government, without the consent of and on terms fixed by these '12 private money trusts.'

In defiance of this and all other warnings, the proponents of the Fed created the 12 private credit corporations and gave them an absolute monopoly of the currency of these United States- not of the Fed Notes alone- but of all other currency! The Fed Act providing ways and means by which the gold and general currency in the hands of the American people could be obtained by the Fed in exchange for Fed Notes- which are not money- but mere promises to pay.

Since the evil day when this was done, the initial monopoly has been extended by vicious amendments to the Fed and by the unlawful and treasonable practices of the Fed."

Money for the Scottish Distillers

"Mr. Chairman, if a Scottish distiller wishes to send a cargo of Scotch whiskey to these United States, he can draw his bill against the purchasing bootlegger in dollars and after the bootlegger has accepted it by writing his name across the face of it, the Scotch distiller can send that bill to the nefarious open discount market in New York City where the Fed will buy it and use it as collateral for a new issue of Fed Notes. Thus, the Government of these United States pays the Scotch distiller for the whiskey before it is shipped, and if it is lost on the way, or if the Coast Guard seizes it and destroys it, the Fed simply write off the loss and the government never recovers the money that was paid to the Scotch distiller.

While we are attempting to enforce prohibition here, the Fed are in the distillery business in Europe and paying bootlegger bills with public credit of these United States. Mr. Chairman, by the same process, they compel our Government to pay the German brewer for his beer.

Why should the Fed be permitted to finance the brewing industry in Germany either in this way or as they do by compelling small and fearful United States Banks to take stock in the Isenbeck Brewery and in the German Bank for brewing industries?

Mr. Chairman, if Dynamit Nobel of Germany, wishes to sell dynamite in Japan to use in Manchuria or elsewhere, it can draw its bill against the Japanese customers in dollars and send that bill to the nefarious open discount market in New York City where the Fed will buy it and use it as collateral for a new issue of Fed Notes- while at the same time the Fed will be helping Dynamit Nobel by stuffing its stock into the United States banking system.

Why should we send our representatives to the disarmament conference at Geneva while the Fed is making our Government pay Japanese debts to German Munitions makers?

Mr. Chairman, if a German wishes to raise a crop of beans and sell them to a Japanese customer, he can draw a bill against his prospective Japanese customer in dollars and have it purchased by the Fed and get the money out of this Country at the expense of the American people before he has even planted the beans in the ground. Mr. Chairman, if a German in Germany wishes to export goods to South America, or any other Country, he can draw his bill against his customers and send it to these United States and get the money out of this Country before he ships, or even manufactures the goods.

Mr. Chairman, why should the currency of these United States be issued on the strength of German Beer? Why should it be issued on the crop of unplanted beans to be grown in Chili for Japanese consumption? Why should these United States be compelled to issue many billions of dollars every year to pay the debts of one foreigner to another foreigner? Was it for this that our National Bank depositors had their money taken out of our banks and shipped abroad?

Was it for this that they had to lose it? Why should the public credit of these United States and likewise money belonging to our National Bank depositors be used to support foreign brewers, narcotic drug vendors, whiskey distillers, wig makers, human hair merchants, Chilean bean growers, to finance the munition factories of Germany and Soviet Russia?"

The United States Has Been Ransacked

"The United States has been ransacked and pillaged. Our structures have been gutted and only the walls are left standing. While being perpetrated, everything the world would take up to sell us was brought in here at our expense by the Fed until our markets were swamped with unneeded and unwanted imported goods priced far above their value and made to equal the dollar volume of our honest exports, and to kill or reduce our favorite balance of trade.

As Agents of the foreign central banks the Fed try by every means in their power to reduce our favorable balance of trade. They act for their foreign principal and they accept fees from foreigners for acting against the best interests of these United States. Naturally there has been great competition among foreigners for the favors of the Fed.

What we need to do is to send the reserves of our National Banks home to the people who earned and produced them and who still own them and to the banks which were compelled to surrender them to predatory interests.

Mr. Chairman, there is nothing like the Fed pool of confiscated bank deposits in the world. It is a public trough of American wealth in which the foreigners claim rights, equal to or greater than Americans. The Fed are the agents of the foreign central banks. They use our bank depositors' money for the benefit of their foreign principals. They barter the public credit of the United States Government and hire it out to foreigners at a profit to themselves.

All this is done at the expense of the United States Government, and at a sickening loss to the American people. Only our great wealth enabled us to stand the drain of it as long as we did. We need to destroy the Fed wherein our national reserves are impounded for the benefit of the foreigners. We need to save America for Americans."

Spurious Securities

"Mr. Chairman, when you hold a $10.00 Fed Note in your hand, you are holding a piece of paper which sooner or later is going to cost the United States Government $10.00 in gold (unless the Government is obliged to go off the gold standard). It is based on limburger cheese (reported to be in foreign warehouses) or in cans purported to contain peas (but may contain salt water instead), or horse meat, illicit drugs, bootleggers fancies, rags and bones from Soviet Russia (of which these United States imported over a million dollars-worth last year), on wines whiskey, natural gas, goat and dog fur, garlic on the string, and Bombay ducks.

If you like to have paper money- which is secured by such commodities- you have it in Fed Note. If you desire to obtain the thing of value upon which this paper currency is based, that is, the limburger cheese, the whiskey, the illicit drugs, or any of the other staples, you will have a very hard time finding them.

Many of these worshipful commodities are in foreign Countries. Are you going to Germany to inspect her warehouses to see if the specified things of value are there? I think more, I do not think that you would find them there if you did go.

Immense sums belonging to our national-bank depositors have been given to Germany on no collateral security whatever. The Federal Reserve Board and the Federal reserve banks have issued United states currency on mere finance drafts drawn by Germans. Billions upon billions of our money has been pumped into Germany and money is still being pumped into Germany by the Federal Reserve Board and the Federal reserve banks. Here worthless paper is still being negotiated here and renewed here on the public credit of the United States Government and at the expense of the American people.

On April 27, 1932, the Fed outfit sent $750,000 belonging to American bank depositors in gold to Germany. A week later another $300,000 in gold was shipped to Germany. About the middle of May $12,000,000 in gold was shipped to Germany by the Fed. Almost every week there is a shipment of gold to Germany. These shipments are not made for profit on the exchange since the German marks are below parity with the dollar.

Mr. Chairman, I believe that the National-bank depositors of these United States are entitled to know what the Federal Reserve banks are doing with their money. There are millions of National Bank depositors in the Country who do not know that a percentage of every dollar they deposit in a Member Bank of the Fed goes automatically to American Agents of the foreign banks and that all their deposits can be paid away to foreigners without their knowledge or consent by the crooked machinery of the Fed and the questionable practices of the Fed.

Mr. Chairman, the American people should be told the truth by their servants in office. In 1930, we had over a half billion dollars outstanding daily to finance foreign goods stored in or shipped between several billion dollars. What goods are these on which the Fed yearly pledge several billions of dollars. In its yearly total, this item amounts to several billions of dollars of the public credit of these United States?

What goods are those which are hidden in European and Asiatic stores have not been seen by any officer of our Government but which are being financed on the public credit of the United States Government? What goods are those upon which the United States Government is being obligated by the Fed to issue Fed Notes to the extent of several billions of dollars a year?"

The Bankers' Acceptance Racket

"The Federal Reserve banks have been International Banks from the beginning, with these United States as their enforced banker and supplier of currency. But it is none the less extraordinary to see these twelve private credit monopolies, buying the debts of foreigners against foreigners, in all parts of the world and asking the Government of these United States for new issues of Fed notes in exchange for them.

I see no reason why the American taxpayers should be hewers of wood and drawers of water for the European and Asiatic customers of the Federal Reserve banks. I see no reason why a worthless acceptance drawn by a foreign swindler as a means of getting gold out of this country should receive the lowest and choicest rate from the Federal Reserve Board and be treated as better security than the note of an American farmer living on American land.

The magnitude of the acceptance racket as it has been developed by the Fed, their foreign correspondents, and the predatory European born bankers, who set up the Fed here and taught your own, by and of pirates, how to loot the people: I say the magnitude of this racket is estimated to be in the neighborhood of 9,000,000,000 per year. In the past ten years it is said to have amounted to $90,000,000,000.00. In my opinion it has amounted to several times that much.

Coupled to this you have to the extent of billions of dollars, the gambling in the United States securities, which takes place in the same open discount market- a gambling on which the Fed is now spending $100,000,000.00 per week.

Fed Notes are taken from the U.S. Government in unlimited quantities. Is it strange that the burden of supplying these immense sums of money to the gambling fraternity has at last proved too heavy for the American people to endure? Would it not be a national calamity to again bind down this burden on the backs of the American people and by means of a long rawhide whip of the credit masters, compel them to enter another seventeen years of slavery?

They are trying to do that now. They are trying to take $100,000,000.00 of the public credit of the United States every week, in addition to all their other seizures and they are sending that money to the nefarious open market in a desperate gamble to reestablish their graft as a going concern.

They are putting the United States Government in debt to the extent of $100,000,000 a week, and with the money they are buying our Government securities for themselves and their foreign principals. Our people are disgusted with the experiences of the Fed. The Fed is not producing a loaf of bread, a yard of cloth, a bushel of corn, or a pile of cordwood by its check-kiting operations in the money market.

Mr. Speaker, on the 13th of January of this year I addressed the House on the subject of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation [R.F.C]. In the course of my remarks I made the following statement: In 1928 the member banks of the Fed borrowed $60,598,690,000 from the Fed on their fifteen-day promissory notes. Think of it. Sixty billion dollars payable on demand in gold in the course of one single year. The actual amount of such obligations called for six times as much monetary gold as there is in the world. Such transactions represent a grant in the course of one single years of about $7,000,000 to every member of the Fed.

Is it any wonder that American labor which ultimately pays the cost of all banking operations of this Country has at last proved unequal to the task of supplying this huge total of cash and credit for the benefit of the stock market manipulators and foreign swindlers? In 1933 the Fed presented the staggering amount of $60,598,690,000 to its member banks at the expense of the wage earners and tax payers of these United States. In 1929, the year of the stock market crash, the Fed advanced $58,000,000,000 to member banks.

In 1930 while the speculating banks were getting out of the stock market at the expense of the general public, the Fed advanced them $13,022,782,000. This shows that when the banks were gambling on the public credit of these United States as represented by the Fed currency, they were subsidized to any amount they required by the Fed. When the swindle began to fall, the bankers knew it in advance and withdrew from the market. They got out with whole skins and left the people of these United States to pay the piper.

My friend from Kansas, Mr. McGugin, has stated that he thought the Fed lent money on rediscounting. So, they do, but they lend comparatively little that way. The real discounting that they do has been called a mere penny in the slot business. It is too slow for genuine high flyers. They discourage it. They prefer to subsidize their favorite banks by making them $60,000,000,000 advances and they prefer to acquire assistance in the notorious open discount market in New York, where they can use it to control the price of stocks and bonds on the exchanges.

For every dollar they advanced on discounts in 1928, they lent $33.00 to their favorite banks for whom they do a business of several billion dollars income tax on their profits to these United States."

The John Law Swindle

"This is the John Law swindle over again. The theft of Teapot Dome was trifling compared to it. What King ever robbed his subject to such an extent as the Fed has robbed us? Is it any wonder that there have been lately ninety cases of starvation in one of the New York hospitals? Is there any wonder that the children are being abandoned?

The government and the people of these United States have been swindled by swindlers deluxe to whom the acquisition of American or a parcel of Fed Notes presented no more difficulty than the drawing up of a worthless acceptance in a Country not subject to the laws of these United States, by sharpers not subject to the jurisdiction of these United States, sharpers with strong banking "fence" on this side of the water, a "fence" acting as a receiver of a worthless paper coming from abroad, endorsing it and getting the currency out of the Fed for it as quickly as possible exchanging that currency for gold and in turn transmitting the gold to its foreign confederates."

Ivar Kreuger, the Match King

"Such were the exploits of Ivar Krueger, Mr. Hoover's friend, and his rotten Wall Street bakers. Every dollar of the billions Kreuger and his gang drew out of this Country on acceptances was drawn from the government and the people of the United States through the Fed. The credit of the United States Government was peddled to him by the Fed for their own private gain. That is what the Fed has been doing for many years.

They have been peddling the credit of this Government and the signature of this Government to the swindlers and speculators of all nations. That is what happens when a Country forsakes its Constitution and gives its sovereignty over the public currency to private interests. Give them the flag and they will sell it.

The nature of Krueger's organized swindle and the bankrupt condition of Krueger's combine was known here last June when Hoover sought to exempt Krueger's loan to Germany of $125,000,000 from the operation of the Hoover Moratorium. The bankrupt condition of Krueger's swindle was known here last summer when $30,000,000 was taken from the American taxpayers by certain bankers in New York for the ostensible purpose of permitting Krueger to make a loan to Colombia. Colombia never saw that money.

The nature of Krueger's swindle was known here in January when he visited his friend, Mr. Hoover, at the White House. It was known here in March before he went to Paris and committed suicide.

Mr. Chairman, I think the people of the United States are entitled to know how many billions of dollars were placed at the disposal of Krueger and his gigantic combine by the Fed, and to know how much of our Government currency was issued and lost in the financing of that great swindle in the years during which the Fed took care of Krueger's requirements.

A few days ago, the President of the United States with a white face and shaking hands, went before the Senate of behalf of the moneyed interests and asked the Senate to levy a tax on the people so that foreigners might know that these United States would pay its debt to them.

Most Americans thought it was the other way around. What does these United States owe foreigners? When and by whom was the debt incurred? It was incurred by the Fed, when they peddled the signature of the Government to foreigners- for a Price. It is what the United States Government has to pay to redeem the obligations of the Fed."

Thieves Go Scot-Free

"Are you going to let these thieves get off scot free? Is there one law for the looter who drives up to the door of the United States Treasury in his limousine and another for the United States Veterans who are sleeping on the floor of a dilapidated house on the outskirts of Washington?

The Baltimore and Ohio Railroad is here asking for a large loan from the people, and the wage earners and the taxpayers of these United States. It is begging for a handout from the Government. It is standing, cap in hand, at the door of the R.F.C. where all the jackals have gathered to the feast. It is asking for money that was raised from the people by taxation and wants this money of the poor for the benefit of Kuhn, Loeb and Co., the German International Bankers.

Is there one law for the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad and another for the hungry veterans it threw off its freight cars the other day? Is there one law for sleek and prosperous swindlers who call themselves bankers and another law for the soldiers who defended the flag?

The R.F.C. is taking over these worthless securities from the Investment Trusts with United States Treasury money at the expense of the American taxpayer and the wage earner.

It will take twenty years to redeem our Government. Twenty years of penal servitude to pay off the gambling debts of the traitorous Fed and to vast flood of American wages and savings, bank deposits, and the United States Government credit which the Fed exported out of this country to their foreign principals.

The Fed lately conducted an anti-hoarding campaign here. They took that extra money which they had persuaded the American people to put into the banks- they sent it to Europe- along with the rest. In the last several months, they have sent $1,300,000,000 in gold to their foreign employers, their foreign masters, and every dollar of that gold belonged to the people of these United States and was unlawfully taken from them."

Fiat Money

Mr. Chairman, within the limits of the time allowed me, I cannot enter into a particularized discussion of the Fed. I have singled out the Fed currency for a few remarks because there has lately been some talk here of "fiat money." What kind of money is being pumped into the open discount market and through it into foreign channels and stock exchanges? Mr. Mills of the Treasury has spoken here of his horror of the printing presses and his horror of dishonest money. He has no horror of dishonest money.

If he had, he would be no party to the present gambling of the Fed in the nefarious open discount market of New York, a market in which the sellers are represented by 10 discount corporations owned and organized by the very banks which own and control the Fed.

'Fiat money, indeed!'

What Mr. Mills is fighting for is the preservation, whole and entire, of the banker's monopoly of all the currency of the United States Government.

Mr. Chairman, last December, I introduced a resolution here asking for an examination and an audit of the Fed and all related matters. If the House sees fit to make such an investigation, the people of these United States will obtain information of great value. This is a Government of the people, by the people, for the people. Consequently, nothing should be concealed from the people. The man who deceives the people is a traitor to these United States.

The man who knows or suspects that a crime has been committed and who conceals and covers up that crime is an accessory to it. Mr. Speaker, it is a monstrous thing for this great nation of people to have its destinies presided over by a traitorous government board acting in secret concert with international usurers.

Every effort has been made by the Fed to conceal its powers- but the truth is- the Fed has usurped the Government. It controls everything here and it controls all of our foreign relations. It makes and breaks governments at will.

No man and no body of men is more entrenched in power than the arrogant credit monopoly which operated the Federal Reserve Board and the Federal reserve banks. These evil-doers have robbed this country of more than enough money to pay the national debt.

What the National Government has permitted the Fed to steal from the people should now be restored to the people. The people have a valid claim against the Fed. If that claim is enforced the Americans will not need to stand in the bread line, or to suffer and die of starvation in the streets. Women will be saved, families will be kept together, and American children will not be dispersed and abandoned.

The Fed owes the United States Government an immense sum of money. We ought to find out the exact amount of the peoples' claim. We should know the amount of the indebtedness of the Fed to the people and we should collect that amount immediately. We certainly should investigate this treacherous and disloyal conduct of the Fed.

Here is a Fed Note. Immense numbers of the notes are now held abroad. I am told that they amount to upwards of a billion dollars. They constitute a claim against our Government and likewise a claim against our peoples' money to the extent of $1,300,000,000 which has within the last few months been shipped abroad to redeem Fed Notes and to pay other gambling debts of the traitorous Fed. The greater part of our money stock has been shipped to foreigners.

Why should we promise to pay the debts of foreigners to foreigners? Why should American farmers and wage earners add millions of foreigners to the number of their dependents? Why should the Fed be permitted to finance our competitors in all parts of the world? Do you know why the tariff was raised? It was raised to shut out the flood of Fed Goods pouring in here from every quarter of the globe- cheap goods, produced by cheaply paid foreign labor, on unlimited supplies of money and credit sent out of this Country by the dishonest and unscrupulous Fed.

Go out in Washington to buy an electric light bulb and you will probably be offered one that was made in Japan on American money. Go out and buy a pair of fabric gloves and inconspicuously written on the inside of the gloves that will offered to you will be found the words "made in Germany" and that means "made on the public credit of the United States Government paid to German firms in American gold taken from the confiscated bank deposits of the American people.

The Fed are spending $100,000,000 a week buying government securities in the open market and are making a great bid for foreign business. They are trying to make rates so attractive that the human hair merchants and the distillers and other business entities in foreign land will come here and hire more of the public credit of the United States Government to pay the Fed outfit for getting it for them.”

World Enslavement Planned

“Mr. Chairman, when the Fed was passed, the people of these United States did not perceive that a world system was being set up here which would make the savings of the American school teacher available to a narcotic-drug vendor in Acapulco. They did not perceive that these United States was to be lowered to the position of a coolie country which has nothing but raw material and heart, that Russia was destined to supply the man power and that this country was to supply the financial power to an ‘international superstate’. A superstate controlled by international bankers, and international industrialists acting together to enslave the world for their own pleasure?

The people of these United States are being greatly wronged. They have been driven from their employments. They have been dispossessed from their homes. They have been evicted from their rented quarters. They have lost their children. They have been left to suffer and die for lack of shelter, food, clothing and medicine.

The wealth of these United States and the working capital have been taken away from them and has either been locked in the vaults of certain banks and the great corporations or exported to foreign countries for the benefit of the foreign customers of these banks and corporations. So far as the people of the United States are concerned, the cupboard is bare.

It is true that the warehouses and coal yards and grain elevators are full, but these are padlocked, and the great banks and corporations hold the keys.

“The sack of these United States by the Fed is the greatest crime in history.

Mr. Chairman, a serious situation confronts the House of Representatives today. We are trustees of the people and the rights of the people are being taken away from them. Through the Fed the people are losing the rights guaranteed to them by the Constitution. Their property has been taken from them without due process of law. Mr. Chairman, common decency requires us to examine the public accounts of the Government and see what crimes against the public welfare have been committed.

‘What is needed here is a return to the Constitution of these United States.’

The old struggle that was fought out here in Jackson’s time must be fought out over again. The independent United States Treasury should be reestablished and the Government should keep its own money under lock and key in the building the people provided for that purpose.

Asset currency, the devise of the swindler, should be done away with. The Fed should be abolished and the State boundaries should be respected. Bank reserves should be kept within the boundaries of the States whose people own them, and this reserve money of the people should be protected so that the International Bankers and acceptance bankers and discount dealers cannot draw it away from them.

The Fed should be repealed, and the Fed Banks, having violated their charters, should be liquidated immediately. Faithless Government officials who have violated their oaths of office should be impeached and brought to trial.

Unless this is done by us, I predict, that the American people, outraged, pillaged, insulted and betrayed as they are in their own land, will rise in their wrath, and will sweep the money changers out of the temple.

Mr. Chairman, the United States is bankrupt: It has been bankrupted by the corrupt and dishonest Fed. It has repudiated its debts to its own citizens. Its chief foreign creditor is Great Britain, and a British bailiff has been at the White House and the British Agents are in the United States Treasury making inventory arranging terms of liquidations!"

Great Britain, Partner in Blackmail

Mr. Chairman, the Fed has offered to collect the British claims in full from the American public by trickery and corruption, if Great Britain will help to conceal its crimes. The British are shielding their agents, the Fed, because they do not wish that system of robbery to be destroyed here. They wish it to continue for their benefit! By means of it, Great Britain has become the financial mistress of the world. She has regained the position she occupied before the World War.

For several years she has been a silent partner in the business of the Fed. Under threat of blackmail, or by their bribery, or by their native treachery to the people of the United States, the officials in charge of the Fed unwisely gave Great Britain immense gold loans running into hundreds of millions of dollars. They did this against the law! Those gold loans were no single transactions. They gave Great Britain a borrowing power in the United States of billions. She squeezed billions out of this Country by means of her control of the Fed.

As soon as the Hoover Moratorium was announced, Great Britain moved to consolidate her gains. After the treacherous signing away of American rights at the 7-power conference at London in July, 1931, which put the Fed under the control of the Bank of International Settlements, Great Britain began to tighten the hangman's noose around the neck of the United States.

She abandoned the gold standard and embarked on a campaign of buying up the claims of foreigners against the Fed in all parts of the world. She has now sent her bailiff, Ramsey MacDonald, here to get her war debt to this country canceled. But she has a club in her hands! She has title to the gambling debts which the corrupt and dishonest Fed incurred abroad.

Ramsey MacDonald, the labor party deserter, has come here to compel the President to sign on the dotted line, and that is what Roosevelt is about to do! Roosevelt will endeavor to conceal the nature of his action from the American people. But he will obey the International Bankers and transfer the war debt that Great Britain should pay to the American people, to the shoulders of the American taxpayers.

Mr. Chairman, the bank holiday in the several States was brought about by the corrupt and dishonest Fed. These institutions manipulated money and credit, and caused the States to order bank holidays. 'These holidays were frame-ups! They were dress rehearsals for the national bank holiday which Franklin D. Roosevelt promised Sir Ramsey MacDonald that he would declare.'

There was no national emergency here when Franklin D. Roosevelt took office excepting the bankruptcy of the Fed, a bankruptcy which has been going on under cover for several years and which has been concealed from the people so that the people would continue to permit their bank deposits and their bank reserves and their gold and the funds of the United States Treasury to be impounded in these bankrupt institutions. Under cover, the predatory International Bankers have been stealthily transferring the burden of the Fed debts to the people's Treasury and to the people themselves. They the farms and the homes of the United States to pay for their thievery! That is the only national emergency that there has been here since the depression began.

The week before the bank holiday was declared in New York State, the deposits in the New York savings banks were greater than the withdrawals. There were no runs on New York Banks. There was no need of a bank holiday in New York, or of a national holiday."

Roosevelt and the International Bankers

Roosevelt did what the International Bankers ordered him to do!

"Do not deceive yourself, Mr. Chairman, or permit yourself to be deceived by others into the belief that Roosevelt's dictatorship is in any way intended to benefit the people of the United States: he is preparing to sign on the dotted line! He is preparing to cancel the war debts by fraud!

He is preparing to internationalize this Country and to destroy our Constitution itself in order to keep the Fed intact as a money institution for foreigners. Mr. Chairman, I see no reason why citizens of the United States should be terrorized into surrendering their property to the International Bankers who own and control the Fed. The statement that gold would be taken from its lawful owners if they did not voluntarily surrender it, to private interests, show that there is an anarchist in our Government.

'The statement that it is necessary for the people to give their gold- the only real money- to the banks in order to protect the currency, is a statement of calculated dishonesty!' By his unlawful usurpation of power on the night of March 5, 1933, and by his proclamation, which in my opinion was in violation of the Constitution of the United States, Roosevelt divorced the currency of the United States from gold, and the United States currency is no longer protected by gold. It is therefore sheer dishonesty to say that the people's gold is needed to protect the currency.

Roosevelt ordered the people to give their gold to private interests, that is, to banks, and he took control of the banks so that all the gold and gold values in them, or given into them, might be handed over to the predatory International Bankers who own and control the Fed. Roosevelt cast his lot with the usurers. He agreed to save the corrupt and dishonest at the expense of the people of the United States. He took advantage of the peoples' confusion and weariness and spread the dragnet over the United States to capture everything of value that was left in it. He made a great haul for the International Bankers.

The Prime Minister of England came here for money! He came here to collect cash! "He came here with Fed Currency and other claims against the Fed which England had bought up in all parts of the world. And he has presented them for redemption in gold. "Mr. Chairman, I am in favor of compelling the Fed to pay their own debts. I see no reason why the general public should be forced to pay the gambling debts of the International Bankers."

Roosevelt Seizes the Gold

"By his action in closing the banks of the United States, Roosevelt seized the gold value of forty billion or more of bank deposits in the United States banks. Those deposits were deposits of gold values. By his action he has rendered them payable to the depositors in paper only, if payable at all, and the paper money he proposes to pay out to bank depositors and to the people generally in lieu of their hard earned gold values in itself, and being based on nothing into which the people can convert it, the said paper money is of negligible value altogether.

It is the money of slaves, not of free men. If the people of the United States permit it to be imposed upon them at the will of their credit masters, the next step in their downward progress will be their acceptance of orders on company stores for what they eat and wear. Their case will be similar to that of starving coal miners. They, too, will be paid with orders on Company stores for food and clothing, both of indifferent quality and be forced to live in Company-owned houses from which they may be evicted at the drop of a hat. More of them will be forced into conscript labor camps under supervision.

At noon on the 4th of March, 1933, FDR with his hand on the Bible, took an oath to preserve, protect and defend the Constitution of the U.S. At midnight on the 5th of March, 1933, he confiscated the property of American citizens. He took the currency of the United States standard of value. He repudiated the internal debt of the Government to its own citizens. He destroyed the value of the American dollar. He released, or endeavored to release, the Fed from their contractual liability to redeem Fed currency in gold or lawful money on a parity with gold. He depreciated the value of the national currency.

The people of the U.S. are now using unredeemable paper slips for money. The Treasury cannot redeem that paper in gold or silver. The gold and silver of the Treasury has unlawfully been given to the corrupt and dishonest Fed. And the Administration has since had the effrontery to raid the country for more gold for the private interests by telling our patriotic citizens that their gold is needed to protect the currency.

It is not being used to protect the currency! It is being used to protect the corrupt and dishonest Fed. The directors of these institutions have committed criminal offense against the United States Government, including the offense of making false entries on their books, and the still more serious offense of unlawfully abstracting funds from the United States Treasury! "Roosevelt's gold raid is intended to help them out of the pit they dug for themselves when they gambled away the wealth and savings of the American people."

Dictatorship

"The International Bankers set up a dictatorship here because they wanted a dictator who would protect them. They wanted a dictator who would protect them. They wanted a dictator who would issue a proclamation giving the Fed an absolute and unconditional release from their special currency in gold, or lawful money of any Fed Bank.

Has Roosevelt relieved any other class of debtors in this country from the necessity of paying their debts? Has he made a proclamation telling the farmers that they need not pay their mortgages? Has he made a proclamation to the effect that mothers of starving children need not pay their milk bills? Has he made a proclamation relieving householders from the necessity of paying rent?"

Roosevelt's Two Kinds of Laws

"Not he! He has issued one kind of proclamation only, and that is a proclamation to relieve international bankers and the foreign debtors of the United States Government. "Mr. Chairman, the gold in the banks of this country belongs to the American people who have paper money contracts for it in the form of national currency. If the Fed cannot keep their contracts with United States citizens to redeem their paper money in gold, or lawful money, then the Fed must be taken over by the United States Government and their officers must be put on trial.

There must be a day of reckoning. If the Fed have looted the Treasury so that the Treasury cannot redeem the United States currency for which it is liable in gold, then the Fed must be driven out of the Treasury. Mr. Chairman, a gold certificate is a warehouse receipt for gold in the Treasury, and the man who has a gold certificate is the actual owner of a corresponding amount of gold stacked in the Treasury subject to his order. Now comes Roosevelt who seeks to render the money of the United States worthless by unlawfully declaring that it may No Longer be converted into gold at the will of the holder. Roosevelt's next haul for the International Bankers was the reduction in the pay of all Federal employees.

Next in order are the veterans of all wars, many of whom are aged and infirm, and other sick and disabled. These men had their lives adjusted for them by acts of Congress determining the amounts of the pensions, and, while it is meant that every citizen should sacrifice himself for the good of the United States, I see no reason why those poor people, these aged Civil War Veterans and war widows and half-starved veterans of the World War, should be compelled to give up their pensions for the financial benefit of the International vultures who have looted the Treasury, bankrupted the country and traitorously delivered the United States to a foreign foe.

There are many ways of raising revenue that are better than that barbaric act of injustice. Why not collect from the Fed the amount they owe the U.S. Treasury in interest on all the Fed currency they have taken from the Government? That would put billions of dollars into the U.S. Treasury. If FDR is as honest as he pretends to be, he will have that done immediately. And in addition, why not compel the Fed to disclose their profits and to pay the Government its share? Until this is done, it is rank dishonesty to talk of maintaining the credit of the U.S. Government.

My own salary as a member of Congress has been reduced, and while I am willing to give my part of it that has been taken away from me to the U.S. Government, I regret that the U.S. has suffered itself to be brought so low by the vultures and crooks who are operating the roulette wheels and faro tables in the Fed, that is now obliged to throw itself on the mercy of its legislators and charwomen, its clerks, and its poor pensioners and to take money out of our pockets to make good the defalcations of the International Bankers who were placed in control of the Treasury and given the monopoly of U.S. Currency by the misbegotten Fed.

I am well aware that the International Bankers who drive up to the door of the United States Treasury in their limousines, look down with scorn upon members of Congress because we work for so little, while they draw millions a year. The difference is that we earn, or try to earn, what we get, and they steal the greater part of their takings."

Enemies of the People They Rob

"I do not like to see vivisections performed on human beings. I do not like to see the American people used for experimental purposes by the credit masters of the United States. They predicted among themselves that they would be able to produce a condition here in which American citizens would be completely humbled and left starving and penniless in the streets.

The fact that they made that assertion while they were fomenting their conspiracy against the United States that they like to see a human being, especially an American, stumbling from hunger when he walks. Something should be done about it, they say.

Five-cent meals, or something! "But FDR will not permit the House of Representatives to investigate the condition of the Fed. FDR will not do that. He has certain International Bankers to serve. They do not look to him as the man Higher Up who will protect them from the just wrath of an outraged people.

The International Bankers have always hated our pensioners. A man with a small pension is a ward of the Government. He is not dependent upon them for a salary or wages. They cannot control him. They do not like him. It gave them great pleasure, therefore, to slash the veterans.

'But FDR will never do anything to embarrass his financial supporters. He will cover up the crimes of the Fed.' Before he was elected, Mr. Roosevelt advocated a return to the earlier practices of the Fed, thus admitting its corruptness. The Democratic platform advocated a change in the personnel of the Fed. These were campaign bait. As a prominent Democrat lately remarked to me; 'There is no new deal. The same old crowd is in control.'

The claims of foreign creditors of the Fed have no validity in law. The foreign creditors were the receivers, and the willing receivers of stolen goods! They have received through their banking fences immense amounts of currency, and that currency was unlawfully taken from the United States Treasury by the Fed. England discovered the irregularities of the Fed quite early in its operations and through fear, apparently, the Fed have for years suffered themselves to be blackmailed and dragooning England to share in the business of the Fed.

The Fed have unlawfully taken many millions of dollars of the public credit of the United States and have given it to foreign sellers on the security of the Debt paper of foreign buyers in purely foreign transactions, and when the foreign buyers refused to meet their obligations and the Fed saw no honest way of getting the stolen goods back into their possession, they decided by control of the executive to make the American people pay their losses!"

Conspiracy of War Debts

"They likewise entered into a conspiracy to deprive the people of the U.S. of their title to the war debts and not being able to do that in the way they intended, they are now engaged in an effort to debase the American dollar so that foreign governments will have their debts to this country cut in two, and then by means of other vicious underhanded arrangements, they propose to remit the remainder.

So far as the U.S. is concerned, the gambling counters have no legal standing. The U.S. Treasury cannot be compelled to make good the gambling ventures of the corrupt and dishonest Fed. Still less should the bank deposits of the U.S. be used for that purpose. Still less should the national currency have been made irredeemable in gold so that the gold which was massed and stored to redeem the currency for American citizens may be used to pay the gambling debts of the Fed for England's benefit.

The American people should have their gold in their own possession where it cannot be held under secret agreement for any foreign control bank, or world bank, or foreign nation. Our own citizens have the prior claim to it. The paper [money men] have in their possession deserves redemption far more than U.S. currency and credit which was stolen from the U.S. Treasury and bootlegged abroad.

Why should the foreigners be made preferred creditors of the bankrupt U.S.? Why should the U.S. be treated as bankrupt at all? This Government has immense sums due it from the Fed. The directors of these institutions are men of great wealth. Why should the guilty escape the consequences of their misdeeds? Why should the people of these U.S. surrender the value of their gold bank deposits to pay off the gambling debts of these bankers? Why should Roosevelt promise foreigners that the U.S. will play the part of a good neighbor, 'meeting its obligations? 'Let the Fed meet their own obligations.'

Every member of the Fed should be compelled to disgorge, and every acceptance banker and every discount corporation which has made illegal profits by means of public credit unlawfully bootlegged out of the U.S. Treasury and hired out by the crooks and vultures of the Fed should be compelled to disgorge."

Federal Reserve Pays No Taxes

"Gambling debts due to foreign receivers of stolen goods should not be paid by sacrificing our title to our war debts, the assets of the U.S. Treasury, which belong to all the people of the U.S. and which it is our duty to preserve inviolate in the people's treasury.

The U.S. Treasury cannot be made liable for them. The Fed currency must be redeemed by the Fed banks or else these Fed banks must be liquidated. We know from assertions made here by the Hon. John N. Garner, Vice President of the U.S. that there is a condition in the United States such that would cause American citizens, if they knew what it was, to lose all confidence in their government.

That is a condition that Roosevelt will not have investigated. He has brought with him from Wall Street, James Warburg, the son of Paul M. Warburg. Mr. Warburg, alien born, and the son of an alien who did not become naturalized here until several years after this Warburg's birth, is a son of a former partner of Kuhn, Loeb and Co., a grandson of another partner, a nephew of a former partner, and a nephew of a present partner. "He holds no office in our Government, but I am told that he is in daily attendance at the Treasury, and that he has private quarters there! In other words, Mr. Chairman, Kuhn, Loeb and Company now has control and occupy the U.S. Treasury."

Preferred Treatment for Foreigners

"The text of the Executive order which seems to place an embargo on shipments of gold permits the Secretary of the Treasury, a former director of the corrupt, to issue licenses at his discretion for the export of gold coin, or bullion, earmarked or held in trust for a recognized foreign government or foreign central bank for international settlement.

Now, Mr. Chairman, if gold held in trust for those foreign institutions may be sent to them, I see no reason why gold held in trust for America as evidenced by their gold certificates and other currency issued by the U.S. Government should not be paid to them.

I think that American citizens should be entitled to treatment at least as good as that which the person is extending to foreign governments, foreign central banks, and the bank of International Settlements. I think a veteran of the world war, with a $20.00 gold certificate, is at least as much entitled to receive his own gold for it, as any international banker in the city of New York or London.

By the terms of this executive order, gold may be exported if it is actually required, for the fulfillment of any contract entered into prior to the date of this order by an applicant who, in obedience to the executive order of April 5, 1933, has delivered gold coin, gold bullion, or gold certificates. This means that gold may be exported to pay the obligations abroad of the Fed which were incurred prior to the date of the order, namely, April 20, 1933.

If a European Bank should send 100,000,000 dollars in Fed currency to a bank in this country for redemption, that bank could easily ship gold to Europe in exchange for that currency. Such Fed currency would represent "contracts" entered into prior to the date of the order. If the Bank of International Settlements or any other foreign bank holding any of the present gambling debt paper of the Fed should draw a draft for the settlement of such obligation, gold would be shipped to them because the debt contract would have been entered into prior to the date of order."

Crimes and Criminals

"Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of constitutional privilege.

Whereas, I charge. . .Eugene Meyer, Roy A. Young, Edmund Platt, Eugene B. Black, Adolph Casper Miller, Charles S. Hamlin, George R. James, Andrew W. Mellon, Ogden L. Mills, William H. Woo W. Poole, J.F.T. O'Connor, members of the Federal Reserve Board; F. H. Curtis, J.H. Chane, R.L. Austin, George De Camp, L.B. Williams, W.W. Hoxton, Oscar Newton, E.M. Stevens, J.S. Wood, J.N. Payton, M.L. McClure, C.C. Walsh, Isaac B. Newton, Federal Reserve Agents, jointly and severally, with violations of the Constitution and laws of the United States, and whereas I charge them with having taken funds from the U.S Treasury which were not appropriated by the Congress of the United States, and I charge them with having unlawfully taken over $80,000,000,000 from the U.S. Government in the year 1928, the said unlawful taking consisting of the unlawful creation of claims against the U.S.

Treasury to the extent of over $80,000,000,000 in the year 1928; and I charge them with similar thefts committed in 1929, 1930, 1931, 1932 and 1933, and in years previous to 1928, amounting to billions of dollars; and

Whereas, I charge them, jointly and severally with having unlawfully created claims against the U.S. Treasury by unlawfully placing U.S. Government credit in specific amounts to the credit of foreign governments and foreign central banks of issue; private interests and commercial and private banks of the U.S. and foreign countries, and branches of foreign banks doing business in the U.S., to the extent of billions of dollars; and with having made unlawful contracts in the name of the U.S. Government and the U.S. Treasury; and with having made false entries on books of account; and

Whereas, I charge them jointly and severally, with having taken Fed Notes from the U.S. Treasury and with having put Fed Notes into circulation without obeying the mandatory provision of the Fed Act which requires the Fed Board to fix an interest rate on all issues of Fed Notes supplied to Fed Banks, the interest resulting therefrom to be paid by the Fed Banks to the government of the U.S. for the use of the Fed Notes, and I charge them of having defrauded the U.S. Government and the people of the U.S. of billions of dollars by the commission of this crime, and;

Whereas, I charge them, jointly and severally, with having purchased U.S. Government securities with U.S. Government credit unlawfully taken and with having sold the said U.S. Government securities back to the people of the U.S. for gold or gold values and with having again purchased U.S. Government securities with U.S. Government credit unlawfully taken and with having again sold the said U.S. Government security for gold or gold values, and I charge them with having defrauded the U.S. Government and the people of the U.S. by this rotary process; and

Whereas, I charge them, jointly and severally, with having unlawfully negotiated U.S. Government securities, upon which the Government liability was extinguished, as collateral security for Fed Notes and with having substituted such securities for gold which was being held as collateral security for Fed Notes, and with having by the process defrauded the U.S. Government and the people of the U.S., and I charge them with the theft of all the gold and currency they obtained by this process; and

Whereas, I charge them, jointly and severally, with having unlawfully issued Fed currency on false, worthless and fictitious acceptances and other circulating evidence of debt, and with having made unlawful advances of Fed currency, and with having unlawfully permitted renewals of acceptances and renewals of other circulating evidences of debt, and with having permitted acceptance bankers and discount dealer corporations and other private bankers to violate the banking laws of the U.S.; and

Whereas, I charge them, jointly and severally, with having conspired to have evidences of debt to the extent of $1,000,000,000 artificially created at the end of February, 1933, and early in March 1933, and with having made unlawful issues and advances of Fed currency on the security of said artificially created evidences of debt for a sinister purpose, and with having assisted in the execution of said sinister purpose; and

Whereas, I charge them, jointly and severally, with having brought about the repudiation of the currency obligations of the Fed Banks to the people of the U.S. and with having conspired to obtain a release for the Fed Board and the Fed Banks from their contractual liability to redeem all Fed currency in gold or lawful money at the Fed Bank and with having defrauded the holders of Fed currency, and with having conspired to have the debts and losses of the Fed Board and the Fed Banks unlawfully transferred to the Government and the people of the U.S., and

Whereas, I charge them, jointly and severally, with having unlawfully substituted Fed currency and other irredeemable paper currency for gold in the hands of the people after the decision to repudiate the Fed currency and the national currency was made known to them, and with thus having obtained money under false pretenses; and

“Whereas I charge them, jointly and severally, with having brought about a repudiation of the notes of the U.S. in order that the gold value of the said currency might be given to private interests, foreign governments, foreign central banks of issues, and the Bank of International Settlements, and the people of the U.S. to be left without gold or lawful money and with no currency other than a paper currency irredeemable in gold, and I charge them with having done this for the benefit of private interests, foreign governments, foreign central banks of issue, and the bank of International Settlements; and

Whereas, I charge them, jointly and severally, with conniving with the Edge Law banks, and other Edge Law institutions, accepting banks, and discount corporations, foreign central banks of issue, foreign commercial banks, foreign corporations, and foreign individuals with funds unlawfully taken from the U.S. Treasury; and I charge them with having unlawfully permitted and made possible ‘new financing’ for foreigners at the expense of the U.S. Treasury to the extent of billions of dollars and with having unlawfully permitted and made possible the bringing into the United States of immense quantities of foreign securities, created in foreign countries for export to the U.S. and with having unlawfully permitted the said foreign securities to be imported into the U.S. instead of gold, which was lawfully due to the U.S. on trade balances and otherwise, and with having lawfully permitted and facilitated the sale of the said foreign securities in the U.S., and

Whereas, I charge them, jointly and severally, with having unlawfully exported U.S. coins and currency for a sinister purpose, and with having deprived the people of the U.S. of their lawful medium of exchange, and I charge them with having arbitrarily and unlawfully reduced the amount of money and currency in circulation in the U.S. to the lowest rate per capita in the history of the Government, so that the great mass of the people have been left without a sufficient medium of exchange, and I charge them with concealment and evasion in refusing to make known the amount of U.S. money in coins and paper currency exported and the amount remaining in the U.S. as a result of which refusal the Congress of the U.S. is unable to ascertain where the U.S. coins and issues of currency are at the present time, and what amount of U.S. currency is now held abroad; and

Whereas, I charge them, jointly and severally, with having arbitrarily and unlawfully raised and lowered the rates of money and with having arbitrarily increased and diminished the volume of currency in circulation for the benefit of private interests at the expense of the Government and the people of the U.S. and with having unlawfully manipulated money rates, wages, salaries and property values both real and personal, in the U.S. by unlawful operations in the open discount market and by resale and repurchase agreements unsanctioned by law, and

Whereas, I charge them jointly and severally, with having brought about the decline in prices on the New York Stock Exchange and other exchanges in October, 1929, by unlawful manipulation of money rates and the volume of U.S. money and currency in circulation: by theft of funds from the U.S. Treasury by gambling in acceptances and U.S. Government securities; by service rendered to foreign and domestic speculators and politicians, and by unlawful sale of U.S. gold reserves abroad, and

Whereas, the unconstitutional inflation law imbedded in the so-called Farm Relief Act by which the Fed Banks are given permission to buy U.S. Government securities to the extent of $3,000,000,000 and to draw forth currency from the people's Treasury to the extent of $3,000,000,000 is likely to result in connivance on the part of said accused with others in the purchase by the Fed of the U.S. Government securities to the extent of $3,000,000,000 with U.S. Government's own credit unlawfully taken, it being obvious that the Fed do not intend to pay anything of value to the U.S. Government for the said U.S. Government securities no provision for payment in gold or lawful money appearing in the so-called Farm Relief bill- and the U.S. Government will thus be placed in a position of conferring a gift of $3,000,000,000 in the U.S. Government securities on the Fed to enable them to pay more on their bad debts to foreign governments, foreign central banks of issue, private interests, and private and commercial banks, both foreign and domestic, and the Bank of International Settlements, and

Whereas, the U.S. Government will thus go into debt to the extent of $3,000,000,000 and will then have an additional claim of $3,000,000,000 in currency unlawfully created against it and whereas no private interest should be permitted to buy U.S. Government securities with the Government's own credit unlawfully taken and whereas currency should not be issued for the benefit of said private interest or any interests on U.S. Government securities so acquired, and whereas it has been publicly stated and not denied that the inflation amendment of the Farm Relief Act is the matter of benefit which was secured by Ramsey MacDonald, the Prime Minister of Great Britain, upon the occasion of his latest visit to the U.S. Treasury, and whereas there is grave danger that the accused will employ the provision creating U.S. Government securities to the extent of $3,000,000,000 and three millions in currency to be issuable thereupon for the benefit of themselves and their foreign principals, and that they will convert the currency so obtained to the uses of Great Britain by secret arrangements with the Bank of England of which they are the agents, and for which they maintain an account and perform services at the expense of the U.S. Treasury, and that they will likewise confer benefits upon the Bank of International Settlements for which they maintain an account and perform services at the expense of the U.S. Treasury; and

Whereas, I charge them, jointly and severally, with having concealed the insolvency of the Fed and with having failed to report the insolvency of the Fed to the Congress and with having conspired to have the said insolvent institutions continue in operation, and with having permitted the said insolvent institutions to receive U.S. Government funds and other deposits, and with having permitted them to exercise control over the gold reserves of the U.S. and with having permitted them to transfer upward of $100,000,000,000 of their debts and losses to the general public and the Government of the U.S., and with having permitted foreign debts of the Fed to be paid with the property, the savings, the wages, and the salaries of the people of the U.S. and with the farms and the homes of the American people, and whereas I charge them with forcing the bad debts of the Fed upon the general public covertly and dishonestly and with taking the general wealth and savings of the people of the U.S. under false pretenses, to pay the debts of the Fed to foreigners; and

Whereas, I charge them, jointly and severally, with violations of the Fed Act and other laws; with maladministration of the evasions of the Fed Law and other laws; and with having unlawfully failed to report violations of law on the part of the Fed Banks which, if known, would have caused the Fed Banks to lose their charters, and

Whereas, I charge them, jointly and severally, with failure to protect and maintain the gold reserves and the gold stock and gold coinage of the U.S. and with having sold the gold reserves of the U.S. to foreign Governments, foreign central banks of issue, foreign commercial and private banks, and other foreign institutions and individuals at a profit to themselves, and I charge them with having sold gold reserves of the U.S. so that between 1924 and 1928 the U.S. gained no gold on net account but suffered a decline in its percentage of central gold reserves from the 45.9 percent in 1924 to 37.5 percent in 1928 notwithstanding the fact that the U.S. had a favorable balance of trade throughout that period, and

Whereas I charge them, jointly and severally, with having conspired to concentrate U.S. Government securities and thus the national debt of the U.S. in the hands of foreigners and international money lenders and with having conspired to transfer to foreigners and international money lenders title to and control of the financial resources of the U.S.; and

Whereas I charge them, jointly and severally, with having fictitiously paid installments on the national debt with Government credit unlawfully taken; and

Whereas I charge them, jointly and severally, with the loss of the U.S. Government funds entrusted to their care; and

Whereas, I charge them, jointly and severally, with having destroyed independent banks in the U.S. and with having thereby caused losses amounting to billions of dollars to the said banks, and to the general public of the U.S., and

Whereas, I charge them, jointly and severally, with the failure to furnish true reports of the business operations and the true conditions of the Fed to the Congress and the people, and having furnished false and misleading reports to the congress of the U.S., and

Whereas I charge them, jointly and severally, with having published false and misleading propaganda intended to deceive the American people and to cause the U.S. to lose its independence; and

Whereas I charge them, jointly and severally, with unlawfully allowing Great Britain to share in the profits of the Fed at the expense of the Government and the people of the U.S.; and

Whereas I charge them, jointly and severally, with having entered into secret agreements and illegal transactions with Montague Norman, Governor of the Bank of England; and

Whereas I charge them, jointly and severally, with swindling the U.S. Treasury and the people of the U.S. in pretending to have received payment from Great Britain of the amount due on the British war debt to the U.S. in December, 1932; and

Whereas I charge them, jointly and severally, with having conspired with their foreign principals and others to defraud the U.S. Government and to prevent the people of the U.S. from receiving payment of the war debts due to the U.S. from foreign nations; and

Whereas I charge them, jointly and severally, with having robbed the U.S. Government and the people of the U.S. by their theft and sale of the gold reserves of the U.S. and other unlawful transactions created a deficit in the U.S. Treasury, which has necessitated to a large extent the destruction of our national defense and the reduction of the U.S. Army and the U.S. Navy and other branches of the national defense; and

Whereas, I charge them, jointly and severally, of having reduced the U.S. from a first-class power to one that is dependent, and with having reduced the U.S. from a rich and powerful nation to one that is internationally poor; and

Whereas, I charge them, jointly and severally, with the crime of having treasonable conspired and acted against the peace and security of the U.S. and with having treasonable conspired to destroy constitutional Government in the U.S.

Resolve, that the Committee on the Judiciary is authorized and directed as a whole or by subcommittee, to investigate the official conduct of the Fed agents to determine whether, in the opinion of the said committee, they have been guilty of any high crime or misdemeanor which in the contemplation the Constitution requires the interposition of the Constitutional powers of the House. Such Committee shall report its finding to the House, together with such resolution or resolutions of impeachment or other recommendations as it deems proper.

For the purpose of this resolution the Committee is authorized to sit and act during the present Congress at such times and places in the District of Columbia or elsewhere, whether or not the House is sitting, has recessed or has adjourned, to hold such clerical, stenographic, and other assistants, to require of such witnesses and the production of such books, papers, and documents, to take such testimony, to have such printing and binding done, and to make such expenditures as it deems necessary." After some discussion and upon the motion of Mr. Byrns, the resolution and charge were referred to the Committee on the Judiciary."

Attacks on McFadden's Life Reported

Commenting on Former Congressman Louis T. McFadden's "heart-failure sudden-death" on Oct. 3, 1936, after a "dose" of "intestinal flu," "Pelley's Weekly" of Oct. 14 said:

Now that this sterling American patriot has made the Passing, it can be revealed that not long after his public utterance against the encroaching powers of Judah, it became known among his intimates that he had suffered two attacks against his life. The first attack came in the form of two revolver shots fired at him from ambush as he was alighting from a cab in front of one of the Capital hotels. Fortunately, both shots missed him, the bullets burying themselves in the structure of the cab.

He became violently ill after partaking of food at a political banquet at Washington. His life was only saved from what was subsequently announced as a poisoning by the presence of a physician friend at the banquet, who at once procured a stomach pump and subjected the Congressman to emergency treatment." ### NEIL KEENAN UPDATE | The Cabal is in Check! Checkmate Coming!

February 4, 2014

- Neil's sources have proven accurate again: Cabalists around the world are having their offshore accounts exposed. The ICIJ \(International Consortium of Journalists\) has just released a report naming the cabal individuals who have hidden their wealth in offshore accounts.
- Neil reveals more names, and even more will be forthcoming soon.
- Chemtrails 2.0: they are now radioactive! Sons of bitches.
- Dr. Group counters, developing a compound that will protect us.
- The Bio-Mat and Vibes UP are doing wonders for Neil and he shares their medical marvels. A marvel machine cures your unique health problems and any disease within six to eight weeks; and another machine will rejuvenate the body's organs to their condition of 20 years ago.
- A new worldwide server, Webinski, is now becoming available to circumvent NSA's (Nazi Surveillance Agency's) illegal, constitution-shredding spy tentacles into every imaginable aspect of our private lives.
- IRS: We want our money back! Illegal IMF-controlled bastards! We're coming after you.
- Indonesian President Sukarno and President Kennedy were working together to dismantle the Federal Reserve. Sukarno sent Kennedy 1,700 metric tons of gold for his use in creating a new gold-backed US dollar. This was the primary reason the Cabal conspired to assassinate Kennedy. Shortly thereafter, a coup d'état removed Sukarno from political power, and he ended his days under house arrest.
- The Dragon Family is financing a bank of the BRICS alliance. The Family will assist in financing a new government in the United States.
- Keith Scott is up to his usual criminal con games. (A warning to all who would be deceived by Scott – do your due diligence so you don't become ensnared by this Jabba the Hut.)
- The Cabal is heating up conflict between the Japanese and China. Advice: Join forces to defeat the real enemy – the Cabal.
- Electro-Magnetic Pulse weapons have been made available for our disposal. Can they be used to take down chemtrail planes? We certainly have the right of self-defense.
- Nelu should be released from jail in February.

For more than three years Neil Keenan has been steadfast in his efforts to explode into the midst of the Globalists. While he has captured what they need to continue their global fraud, which is stripping them bare financially, he also has focused the antiseptic sunshine of the power of truth on their genocidal agenda.

While he has held his cards close to his vest, at the same time he also has given us enough information to understand and support him in his efforts. Neil takes it to the next level as he exposes the Cabal's Radioactive Chemtrails, 2.0. He gives us hope with his announcement of a medical compound that destroys the potency of their attempts to wipe out 85% of humanity.

Recently, Neil sat down with one of the top principals of the Bilderbergers, who claimed a change of heart and wanted to join the Keenan Team in defeating the Cabal's genocidal plans. Neil said. "No" — because few from the Team could ever trust this Bilderberg pillar. Helping with information is acceptable, and Neil will accept all the Cabal turncoats that are willing to prove themselves in this way.

He expects more members to abandon the sinking, stinking Cabal ship. What Neil unequivocally understands is that there is no more clutter in his way: The Cabal is utterly exposed to him. While he loves bumping heads with Cabal principals, rather than with their weasel cronies whom they have thrown out in front as interference, Neil now sees them all running for cover. This sums up how the Cabal must be feeling about now:

Maybe it's their 20th or 21st nervous breakdown; Neil is losing count. What's clear, though, is their legs are getting weak; they are showing all the symptoms of 'losing it' again.

Neil, as the Cabal's worst nightmare, is making his moves — it's Showtime, and they are twelve steps behind him. He is taking their system down, step by step, piece by piece. Neil knows that 'our' time has arrived, and all of his efforts are now bearing fruit. What can they try next? Hunt Neil down — again?

If they do, he will release the Black Book, and many of the top-tier Cabalists will be exposed — and they deeply fear exposure. Neil not only controls the Black Book and has had the Book's codes translated, but he also has opened the private-banking black screens — and he knows exactly who has done what.

Let's go to the very top of the pyramid now, which Neil reveals is not Rockefeller, Bush, or Rothschild. Instead, it is a group of nine men who have pushed the above-mentioned three to the front, thereby maintaining their anonymity, while running the entire puppet show from afar. To date, many may have heard only whispers of their names in the wind. These nine are at the apex of the Cabal pyramid. Little do they know that others have tracked them down, and their days of walking the streets as ordinary people will soon be over.

In concluding a discussion of this Preface with Neil, we asked him how in the future can we maintain peace. In his own special one-of-a-kind way, he advised us:

UPDATE: Dr. Group shares that people may contact him at the following email address: <support@globalhealingcenter.com> for info on radiation protection products.

Neil,

Looks as if the info on the video is correct. My solution is for people to use this oregano oil formula which also includes 250,000 heat units of Cayenne. This will destroy the Pseudomonas syringae. <http://www.globalhealingcenter.com/oregano-oil.html>:

NEIL KEENAN UPDATE | IRS Are Private, Lying, Globalist-Controlled Thugs – We Want Our Money Back!

A Personal Introduction by Neil Keenan

We have been had. Nothing we have grown up believing to be real is in fact real. Connecting all the dots, it dawned on me that there was so much more behind the curtain of everything than I was led to believe. I came to believe the only thing that I could trust was real was the love of my family. My government has turned out to be one big phony corporation — a massive worldwide scam perpetrated by Zionists, Nazis, and Khazars. It has to be stopped!

My original mission was supposed to be about the theft of bonds entrusted to me; but I came to clearly see that it had to be so much more. What appears to be and what is are two different things. They are using us! The stolen bonds, although important, had to take a back seat. Humanity is calling for help, and I had to fight even if it was by myself. No one deserves to be blinded to what is happening to their life. No one deserves to be trained and treated like SHEEPLE.

I knew I had to have a team but I had no idea how to go about building one. For two years I have done this by myself. Then, gradually, many began to understand what was actually happening in the world and my team began to grow. There actually were people who thought like me! I was not alone.

Not everyone can see what is happening right before their eyes; but now many realize that something has to give — enough is enough. We can take back what was ours from the beginning.

The most electrifying moment is when thought becomes reality. Although terrifying to some, when we realize the problem is something we can touch and fight, we learn which way to move and how to attack those who would enslave us. We learn that they have weaknesses and can be taken down. And mostly we learn they are not what they claim to be.

Most importantly, the Keenan Group (the Group K Ltd), has a very able team of people, professionals by all means, who apparently have been born to fight such battles. You do not see fear in them, only resilience. They are your warriors and do what you cannot. Most of all they understand we will take this monster apart piece by piece. And when weakened we will slay it. We have now learned who they are and how they got to where they are. We know where they hide, and we will soon be going to the doors that they hide behind. It is time to devastate them as they have been doing to us all these many years.

They have used our good nature and emotions against us, kept us ignorant, and inhumanely manipulated us for their own psychopathic purposes. They will be paid visits shortly and they will fear the wrath of our people.

Group K, Ltd. will address each and every issue, and we are not just talk. The time to ACT is near. The rules of the game are changing. We will no longer play by their rules — we will follow our own rules. We have an entire world waiting to emerge as truly free people and there is no stopping it now.

When the time comes, the so-called Cabal/Illuminati will find that billions of people who they intended to wipe out will be the very ones to decide their fates: thumbs up or thumbs down. How will the people react? As for me, I will have no mercy. But this will be a decision made by a colossal group of people bearing neither kindness nor hate — only objectivity.

Do we want these kinds of people living amongst us again? Do we want to have to keep an ever-vigilant eye out for another invasion by them in the future, or do we want to end it all right here, right now? You know my vote!

What you will be reading here in this post is another limb to be severed from the Cabal. One which they have used to rape and pillage us for nearly 100 years. They hid the truth well, but not well enough. The Keenan Team seized upon it and did a remarkable job of exposing it. This article is going to rock your world. It is going to make you angry, very angry. But that anger has great value when it is properly channeled.

What I suggest is that we get together as a large group and pay our senators and congressmen and bankers visits and terrorize them just by their seeing us — as they have terrorized our families, our mothers and fathers for so many long years now. Let them know they have no other way out.

Let them know that their way out is through us and only us. We will create one immense defensive line, one which they dare not move against. Be visible, be vocal, be loud. To be, or not to be, that has truly become the question for us all.

I suggest we get the mom-and-pop grocery stores operating again. The large supermarkets belong to the Cabal and we can no longer support them. Whenever possible, buy local and home-grown foods and avoid the large supermarket chains — and that is always possible! Maybe in time we can put all the mom-and-pop stores together under one roof and create a Bazaar that will be fantastic for all. No Monsanto and no Wal-Mart.

Have we learned our lessons yet? Big is not always better.

*I want to thank the Group K Ltd. — the Keenan Team, for doing such a magnificent job. They have taken the IRS and provided you with the truth that has long been denied us. The lampposts are getting closer and closer, don't you think, George? NEIL KEENAN

The 16th Amendment Purporting to Authorize Federal Taxation of US Individuals Was Never Ratified by The States.

The first Federal income tax in the United States occurred during the civil war, through the passage of The Revenue Act of 1861: three percent for those making between $600 and $10,000, and five percent for those making over $10,000. This income tax was repealed ten years later.

The U.S. Supreme Court, however, ruled that the Federal income tax violated the U.S. Constitution because it was a direct tax on individuals and not apportioned between the States, required by the Constitution. The Constitution protects individuals against the abuse of Federal government power by stripping from the FEDs the power to tax individuals, knowing the power to tax is the power to destroy.

So the Federal power-seekers sought to overrule our forefathers and to empower the Federal Government, (that is, our US Federal Corporation, hereinafter, "The FEDS") with the power to tax individuals through the 16th Amendment. The ratification of the 16th Amendment is dubious.

In 1913, the same year British agents steered through Congress the FED fraud on the night before Christmas Eve, the 16th Amendment was hatched. But the founders made changing the Constitution difficult, to say the least. One of two ways to alter our founding document requires any proposed Constitutional Amendment be ratified by three-fourths of the States.

Fraud and deceit were the hallmarks of this "ratification" process. At the time there were 48 States. More than 13 States either did not ratify the 16th Amendment, or it was fraudulently reported by a State Secretary of State as ratified, when it in fact was not. Ohio was counted as a ratifying State, even though Ohio did not lawfully become a State until Eisenhower signed an order in the 1950s. One Federal court has passed on some of the fraudulent ratification issues (but no Federal court has passed on all of these fraudulent issues), and it has declared that it is enough for a Secretary of a State to fraudulently report a ratification that in fact never occurred!

Then this Federal court turned around and threatened attorneys that raised the illegal ratification issue with court fines if any dared raise the issue again – as if some cabal-stooge in a Secretary of State position can substitute his signature for the proper and legal ratification of an entire State — what gall! Federal Judges who placate Globalists by trampling the Constitution will have hell to pay, to be sure.

Even if the 16th Amendment had been legally passed, it did "not change the constitutional limitations which forbid any direct taxation of individuals." (U.S. Supreme Court in Brushaber v. Union Pacific Rail Road Co. 240 U.S. 1 (1916).) Nor did the 16th Amendment purport to overrule the prohibition on direct taxation elsewhere in our Constitution.

Like every nefarious encroachment by our government, the FEDs roll it out slowly over time to acclimate us to their society-destroying power-grabbing plans. The U.S. income tax started out only soaking the rich. The Federal tax rate was in the single digits for those making under $250,000 in household income, and was capped at 15% for those making over $2 million.

Today, of course, The FEDs have slowly inched their tentacles deeper and deeper into the pockets of the US middle class, at a time when the “Federal” “Reserve” “Bank” has decimated the value of the dollar down to fifteen cents.

The FED's taxation of the people of the United States violates the protection our forefathers assured through our Constitution: that historical document created solely to check an out-of-control Federal Government. Making the FEDs the single biggest beneficiary of every middle-class family paycheck has long caused our forefathers to roll over in their graves.

The IRS is Not a US Agency

The IRS is Not a U.S. Government Agency: It's a Sham Puerto Rican Trust with No Legal Authority to Collect A Dime from The People of the United States.

The Bureau of Internal Revenue (BIR), aka the Internal Revenue Service (IRS), was never created by any Act of Congress. It is not an agency of the Department of Treasury.

The only mention of the IRS appears in 31 U.S.C. Sec. 301-315 stating that the President is authorized to appoint an Assistant General Counsel in the U.S. Department of Treasury to be the Chief Counsel for the IRS.

In the 1979 case Chrysler v. Brown (441 U.S. 281), the U.S. Supreme Court admitted that, after searching back to the Civil War, no organic Act for the IRS could be found. The Guarantee Clause in the Constitution establishes a Federal rule of law (Article IV, Sec. 4). We are supposed to be a nation of laws — not a Nation of Globalists' edicts. The IRS is not a US agency because there is no US law creating it. The IRS is a fraud, a charade, bilking us only because we've let them get away with it.

The IRS Is, In Actuality, Puerto Rican Trusts

The IRS is Puerto Rican Trusts operated by the Secretary of the Treasury, as the Trustee. The settler and beneficiaries of these trusts are unknown, and, conveniently enough, the Puerto Rican laws governing trusts keeps these entities secret.

Although concealed, according to US Code 31, Chapter 3, the Internal Revenue Service and the Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms are all one organization. Acquired by conquest, the US gained possession of the Philippine Islands, Guam and Puerto Rico.

The Philippine Customs Administrative Act was passed by the Philippine Commission between 1900 to 1902. It was created to regulate trade with foreign countries and to impose custom duties and excise taxes.

This Act created the Federal government's first trust fund, Trust Fund #1 (US Code 31, Sec. 1321) and was administered under the general control of the Secretary of Finance and Justice.

In 1904 another Act was passed that created Trust Fund #2 and was known as The Bureau of Internal Revenue (US Code 31, Sec. 1321, Article I, Sec. 2 & 3):

"There shall be established a Bureau of Internal Revenue, the chief officer of which Bureau shall be known as the Collector of Internal Revenue. He shall be appointed by the Civil Governor, with the advice and consent of the Philippine Commission, and shall receive a salary at the rate of eight thousand pesos per annum. The Bureau of Internal Revenue shall belong to the department of Finance and Justice."

"The Collector of Internal Revenue, under the direction of the Secretary of Finance and Justice, shall have general superintendence of the assessment and collection of all taxes and excises imposed by this Act or by any Act amendatory thereof, and shall perform such other duties as may be required by law."

This in effect made the Customs Administrative Act within the jurisdiction of the Bureau of Internal Revenue in the Philippines, merging the two to be responsible for "all taxes and excises imposed by this Act" — import and export excise taxes.

Prior to 1940, another Bureau of Internal Revenue was created in Puerto Rico and known as Trust Fund #62. Under the Reorganization Plan #3 of 1940 (US Code 5, Section 903), the Federal Alcohol Administration (created to enforce prohibition of alcohol) was abolished and their functions transferred to the Secretary of Treasury through the BIR.

Although the history has been removed from the older editions of the USC, it can be deduced that the Federal Alcohol Administration was absorbed by the Puerto Rico Trust #62.

The China Trade Act was passed between 1904 and 1938 and dealt with opium, cocaine and citric wines shipped out of China, which appeared to be administered in the Philippines by the BIR. The Code of Federal Regulations of the USA, Title 26 Internal Revenue, Chapter I, references for the first-time terms such as income, credits, withholding, assessment and collection and failure to file a return.

However, the entire substance of Title 26 applies to foreign individuals, foreign corporations, foreign ships, income from sources within the possessions of the United States, and citizens and domestic corporations of the US that derived income from sources within the possessions of the US.

All taxes covered by these laws were for imposts, excise taxes and duties to be collected by the BIR for narcotics, alcohol, tobacco and firearms. The IRS Act of 1939 applied to all taxes and duties collected on trade between US possessions (Philippines, Puerto Rico, District of Columbia, Virgin Islands, Guam, Northern Mariana Islands) and foreign individuals, corporations and governments.

A point of fact is that Al Capone was not jailed for income tax evasion — he was jailed for unpaid tax due on alcohol imported from Canada!

The Victory Tax Act

Passed by Congress for the years 1943 to 1944, the Victory Tax Act duped patriotic Americans into paying taxes to support winning World War II. The federal government created the clever lie that this tax applied to all Americans by sending out tax form 1040 to everyone.

In fact, only employees of the federal government, residents of the District of Columbia, residents of naval bases, residents of forts, US citizens of the Virgin Islands, Puerto Rico, territories and possessions were lawfully required to file and pay the Victory Tax. When the Victory Tax law expired in 1944, the news media never announced it to the public, and so the devious Federal government simply continued sending out 1040 forms in spite of the fact that no citizen of the 50 Union States was ever liable to pay the tax in the first place.

Bureau of Internal Revenue Becomes Internal Revenue Service

In 1953, the US surrendered control over the Philippines. Many questions remain about Trusts #1 (customs duties) and Trust #2 (internal revenue), such as why they continue to be administered to this day, and who exactly are the settlers and beneficiaries of the trusts.

It is no coincidence that in 1953, the Secretary of Treasury, G.K. Humphrey, under no legal authority but his own, changed the name of the BIR to Internal Revenue Service, by signing Treasury Order 150-06. Whether Humphrey changed the BIR's name in the Philippines or in Puerto Rico is unknown.

Without the approval of Congress or the President, Humphrey illegally turned the Trust(s) into a Department of Treasury agency. No one opposed or even so much as challenged it.

Mutual Security Act

In 1954, the US and Guam became partners under the Mutual Security Act. The IRS Code of 1954 was also passed and coordinated "Individual Income Tax" for the US and Guam. Since the Constitution forbids un-apportioned direct taxes on the people of the United States, the Federal government had to trick people into volunteering to pay taxes as U.S. citizens of either Guam, Puerto Rico or the US Virgin Islands.

Fast forward to 1972 when, again with no legal authority, Acting Secretary of Treasury, Charles E. Walker, signed Treasury Order 120-01, establishing The Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms (BATF). Walker apparently branched the IRS, creating the BATF, and then joined them back together into one. The Federal Register, Vol. 41, #180 (1976) states: "The terms 'Director, Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms Division' has been replaced by the term 'Internal Revenue Service'."

However, Walker then cancelled out the order by declaring:

"The terms 'Director, Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms Division' and 'Commissioner of Internal Revenue' wherever used in regulations, rules, and instructions, and forms, issued or adopted for the administration and enforcement of the laws specified in paragraph 2 hereof, which are in effect or in use on the effective date of this Order, shall be held to mean 'the Director'."

Walker created the BATF from Humphrey's Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms Division of the Internal Revenue Service. He then maintains that what he transferred is the same "thing" as the Commissioner of Internal Revenue. Knowing he had no authority from Congress or the President, Walker made it appear that he had done something he had not done.

To compound this fraud, the Federal Register published that a person was replaced by a thing: "the term Director Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms Division has been replaced with the term Internal Revenue Service."

In 1935 when the Federal Alcohol Act (prohibition) was ruled unconstitutional within the 50 States, the functions of the Federal Alcohol Administration then became administered by the Secretary of Treasury through the BIR, an offshore Trust. The BIR became the IRS, and the IRS then gave birth to the BATF. On September 15, 1976, a signature somehow turned the position of Director of the BATF into the IRS.

To summarize, there is no such organization within the Department of Treasury known as "The Internal Revenue Service" or the "Bureau of Tobacco and Firearms." In Title 31 USC stating the laws applicable to the Department of Treasury and listing the organizations belonging to it, there is no IRS or BATF listed.

However, both the IRS (Puerto Rico Trust #62) and BATF, are listed as entities "to be audited" by the Controller General and both are referred to as having office(s) in Puerto Rico. The IRS Code of 1939, aka IRS Code of 1954, pertains solely to tobacco and firearms taxes, administered by the IRS — alias BIR, alias Virgin Islands Bureau of Internal Revenue, alias Director ATF Division, alias IRS.

There is No Law Requiring the People of The United States to Pay Taxes To The IRS.

It's always difficult to prove a negative, but those who know, understand there has been no law requiring citizens of The United States of America to pay taxes to any Federal Agency, much less Puerto Rican Trusts with secret owners. Here is the-then IRS Commissioner admitting that taxes paid to the Puerto Rican Trusts (IRS) are a voluntary act of US sheeple:

IRS Commissioner Dodges Income Tax Question - No Law!

And here is the latest former IRS Commissioner, Stephen Miller admitting, at 4:44-4:49 on the video that "voluntary compliance ... which under law is our entire tax system..."

Exhibit #05.051: Former IRS Commissioner Steven Miller says the income tax is "voluntary"

No Rule for Failure to File a Return

According to 44 USC, every regulation or rule must be published in the Federal Register and must be approved by the Secretary of the Treasury. If there is no regulation, there is no implementation of the law. There can be found: no regulation governing "failure to file a return"; no regulation governing "failure to file," and no computer code for "failure to file."

Oddly enough, there is a requirement stating where to file an income tax return, and 26 C.F.R., Section 1.6091-3 states that "Income tax returns are required to be filed with the Director of International Operations." Note the word "International." Who is this Director?

No one in the IRS or BATF has any authority to do what they have been doing all these years. The 1986 Delegation Order #115 states that only the IRS and BATF can conduct audits, but only audits of themselves for $750 or less. Any audit above that amount must be done by the Controller General. No IRS or BATF agent or representative can provide any law, rule or regulation that gives them authority to audit anyone but themselves.

Per 26 CFR, Section 1.6001-1(d), no one is required to keep records or file returns unless specifically notified by the district director by notice served to make such returns, render such statements or keep such specific records as will enable the district director to determine whether or not such person is liable for tax under Subtitle A of the Code. Furthermore, this rule also applies to State individual income taxes, where "State" solely refers to the District of Columbia, US Virgin Islands, Guam, Northern Mariana Islands, Puerto Rico, territories and insular possessions.

IRS Computer Codes

IRS Service Publication 6209 lists computer code "TC 150" for Virgin Island returns, and Codes 300-398 are listed as US and UK Tax Treaty claims for taxes on narcotics that are financed in the Cayman Islands and imported into the Virgin Islands.

When people having tax problems with the IRS file a Freedom of Information Act requesting their "Individual Master File" (IMF), every return has these computer codes except for the Guam returns. Every return show that the citizen is being taxed on income that came from importing narcotics, alcohol, tobacco or firearms in the US or one of its territories/possessions, from a foreign country, or from Guam, Puerto Rico, the US Virgin Islands or into the Virgin Islands from the Cayman Islands.

26 C.F.R, Sec. 601.103(a) is the only reference to who is required to file a return, provided that the person has been properly noticed by the District Director to both keep records and is required to file. Have you ever been sent a notice from the District Director to keep records and file a return? If you write or print your name on a line marked "taxpayer," you become the taxpayer.

Since these forms are affidavits, you commit a crime when you fill out the form confirming what you are not, a taxpayer. You are a Citizen of the United States of America and subject to the laws of the Constitution of the United States of America.

"The scam manifests itself in many different ways. In order to maintain the semblance of legality, hats are changed from moment to moment. When you are told to submit records for examination, you are dealing with Customs. When you submit an offer in compromise, you are dealing with the Coast Guard. When you are confronted by a Special Agent of the IRS, you are really dealing with a deputized United States Marshall.

When you are being investigated by the alleged Internal Revenue Service, you are really dealing with an agent contracted by the Justice Department to investigate narcotics violations. When the alleged Internal Revenue Service charges you with a crime, you are dealing with the Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms. Only a small part of 26 U.S.C. is administered by the alleged Internal Revenue Service.

"Most of the Code is administered by the Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms, including Chapters 61 through 80, which is enforcement. In addition, 27 C.F.R. is BATF, and states in Subpart B, Definitions, 250.11, Meaning of terms: 'United States Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms office — Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms office in Puerto Rico.'

Every person we find who is being prosecuted by the alleged Internal Revenue Service has a code on their IMF [Individual Master File] which puts them in "tax class 6," which designates that they have violated a law relating to alcohol, tobacco, or firearms, in Puerto Rico." William Cooper, 1995.

While the U.S. Department of Justice has the power of attorney to represent federal agencies in federal court, it has no legal authority to represent the IRS since it is not a legal agency. Furthermore, the governments of all federal territories are specifically excluded from the definition of a "federal agency" by Act of Congress (5 U.S.C. 551(1)(C)). Since the IRS is domiciled in Puerto Rico, it is by definition not a federal agency that can be represented by the Department of Justice.

However, because the President has the authority to appoint IRS Chief Counsel, he/she can appoint a delegate to appear in federal court on behalf of the IRS and IRS employees. The chain of command starts with Congress, then flows to the President, then to IRS Chief Counsel – not to the Department of Justice.

IRS Thuggery

We have become a people ruled by tax laws passed by the rich and for the rich where no law exists that requires taxes to be paid. The IRS gets away with its brutal enforcement of this scam because the Federal courts have, case after case, refused to hold them accountable.

Consistently the due process afforded to us by our Constitution is completely violated, with property and records being confiscated so that Americans are helpless to defend themselves against the IRS and their weapons. The 2013 Tax Advocate Service annual report bemoans IRS criminal collection practices, which were ruled illegal by Federal courts, but just ignored and continued by the IRS. IRS lawyers, federal judges and IRS personnel and appointees habitually lie in court cases to perpetuate IRS fraud.

And, as has been widely reported by the IRS targeting of the Obama Administration's political enemies, the IRS has been turned into a political weapon of mass destruction that would make Nixon blush. And don't you believe the whitewash investigation by the Administration's wolf in the people's chicken coop:

Cleta Mitchell to Congress: DOJ IRS Investigation Is a Sham, Non-Existent"

Over the years, the IRS' fraudulent publications, misapplied tax code and deliberate omissions have trained lawyers and judges to continue this fraud by unwittingly paying taxes for which we are clearly not liable. We allow our liberties and our living to be confiscated and pillaged by the lawless, criminal ruling class to the extent to which we allow lawyers and judges to willfully misapply tax laws. According to the 2013 Tax Advocate Service annual report the taxpayer has just a 2% chance of success if they challenge the IRS.

William Cooper: "We have been betrayed by those we trusted. We have been robbed of our money and property. It happened because we trusted imperfect men to rule imperfect men, and we failed in our duty as watchdogs. It happened because we have been ignorant, apathetic and even stupid."

It is essential for all Americans to become aware of the history of the IRS and understand how one lie has been compounded by countless other lies to brainwash Americans into paying taxes that they clearly are not liable to pay. The IRS is a criminal, thug organization that is out of control.

Where Has Our Money Gone?

By all accounts, the IRS first puts the money into a “Quad Zero” account under an Individual Master File, after which time it can apparently do whatever it wants with the money. Sometimes it is dispersed under Treasury Order #91 (Rev. 1, 1986), which is a service agreement between the IRS and the Agency for International Development (USAID).

In accordance with the international agreement that created the International Monetary Fund, the Secretary of Treasury is the U.S. Governor of the International Monetary Fund and is paid by them. The International Monetary Fund came into existence at the United Nations Monetary and Financial conference in Bretton Woods, New Hampshire in 1944 and the US became a member in 1945 (U.S.C. Title 22, Sec. 286).

So, what is funding our federal government? Tax researcher, Richard Standring (now deceased) believed that the US funds itself with loans from the International Monetary Fund. Following checks naming the IRS as the payee, Standring found that the checks go to a Federal Reserve bank.

The money then flows to the International Bank for Reconstruction and Development and is deposited into the “Quad Zero” account, which is the account from which the IRS distributes refunds (per 22 U.S.C. 286 and 31 CFR 11, Sec. 214.7)

According to Standring's research, whatever is left over is then transferred to the International Monetary Fund and subsequently redistributed in the form of loans to countries around the world, including the US. These loans must then be paid back with interest to International Monetary Fund bankers. Our own money is being used for loans, even to our own country, which we have to pay back with interest to the International Monetary Fund. What portion of our national debt does this account for?

It may be impossible to accurately determine how much American tax dollars have been funneled to the International Monetary Fund, or given away by the Federal Reserve Bank to foreign banks, or how much money the government has illegally siphoned off for black-ops, false flags, payoffs to lobbyists and Congressmen, and for assassinations of presidents (domestic and foreign), scientists and whistleblowers.

However, what can be documented is that for 240 years, a large portion of our tax dollars – and countless American lives — have gone to line the pockets of the multi-national military industrial complex.

AMANAHA'S ODYSSEY | PROFILE OF VALOR & VICTOR ©

It is evident the FEDs have perpetually kept our country at war and conflict. They have done this by keeping Americans feeling under eternal threat, both at home and worldwide, thereby justifying taxes for what is made to appear as desperately-needed protection.

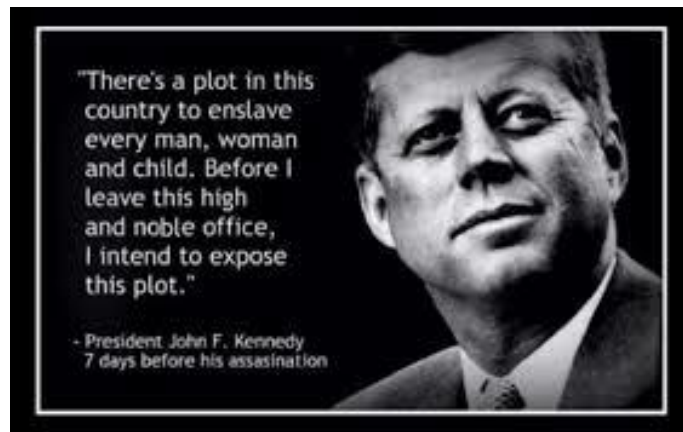

Nothing reveals this deadly con game against the American people more than the 9/11 false flag and the resulting years of the “War on Terror,” which is nothing more than a euphemism for a war against the people — against our standard of living, against our paychecks, our rights, our health and our safety. They will take everything, unless we wake up, join forces, stand and fight them to the death. They cannot win against us all.

We Want Our God-Damn Money Back!

There are now movements afoot to mount a massive new class-action suit against the IRS. We applaud these efforts and would add a clarion call to all patriotic American lawyers who have the courage and fortitude to stand up for American citizens and flood the courts with lawsuits to reveal the illegality of the income tax, expose the IRS for its criminal fraud and force the courts to uphold our U.S. Constitution.

The elite have long relied upon our not knowing the truth and not knowing what to do. Now that we know the truth, will we continue to allow them to take our money and ask “but what can I do?”

At our inception as a country we freed ourselves from tyranny, and we must do it again — monumental change will be achieved by We the People joining together.

NEIL KEENAN UPDATE | States Are Getting Tough, Globalists Are Getting Even – Cease & Desist Demanded

February 23, 2014

The Globalists' New World Order train has long-tried to leave the station, but The People of the United States just stubbornly refuse to get on board. And now the Globalists are preparing to punish the People of The United States through the fire sale and liquidation of her territories, assets, property and rights, as well as the significant and imminent devaluation of the US dollar, hatched at the February G20 meeting in Australia of corporate criminals masquerading as heads of state.

The Globalists are on their heels, cornered and scared, losing control – and that's a dangerous position for these misanthropic animals. Our property, assets and human rights are not the only thing they are moving to liquidate!

THE STATES ARE IN OPEN REVOLUTION AGAINST FEDERAL TYRANNY!

You will not hear a peep about it in on the Globalists' multinational corporate controlled mass media. State legislatures are boiling with laws rejecting and reversing the Federal tyranny within their territories. Currently the States having passed or are in the process of passing legislation are:

- Cutting-off critical supplies to (like water and electricity), and refuse to aid and abet the FED's NSA (Nazi Spy Agency) under the States' Constitutional right to refuse Federal mandates within their borders: (pending in legislature: Utah – home to NSA data center, Maryland – NSA headquarters, Tennessee, Oklahoma (passed House Committee), New Hampshire (passed House Committee) (<http://www.motherjones.com/politics/2014/01/state-legislators-offnow-nsa-spying/>);
- Making it illegal to enforce, aid and abet, or permit the FEDs to imprison and torture citizens under NDAA anytime the FEDS point the finger and claim "terrorist" (which they are doing to gun right activists, anti-FED protestors, 9-11 truth seekers, and veterans): signed into law: Alaska, California; pending in legislature: Georgia, Maine, Michigan, North Carolina, Pennsylvania (<http://pandaunite.org/resources/anti-ndaa-legislation-tracking/>);

- Nullifying all Federal laws infringing on the 2nd Amendment right of the American people to bear arms in constant preparation for revolution when the FEDs morph into a tyrannical power as our forefathers feared: Idaho (passed State Senate 34-0), Missouri (overrode Governor's veto), Oklahoma, Arizona, Florida; Ban on enforcement of United Nations Agenda 21: signed into law: Alabama; legislation pending: Missouri, New Mexico, Oklahoma;
- Nullifying FED drone and other NSA-style spying, and making warrantless drone spying a felony: Kansas, New Hampshire, Wisconsin, Hawaii, Oklahoma, California, Indiana, Missouri, Michigan, Arizona;
- Nullify FED hemp ban (Tennessee); and the FED ban on marijuana for medical purposes (Alaska, Arizona, California, Connecticut, Delaware, Hawaii, Illinois, Maine, Massachusetts, Michigan, Montana, Nevada, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New Mexico, Oregon, Rhode Island, Vermont, and the District of Columbia); or the FED ban for its recreational use: Colorado, Washington State.

The Globalists have hit the American people with a constant barrage of false flag mass shootings by mind-controlled freaks, and have run a false flag hoax of an elementary school mass shooting, expecting that the American people would surrender their arms and just roll over in the face of THE GREAT FED GUN GRAB.

The strategy worked for them in the UK and Australia. It backfired in the US, where our founding fathers instilled into the American psyche the value of a loaded gun in one hand, and the throat of an out of control FED in the other. When the FEDs thought they had the American people softened up with their false flag blood and violence, they started passing their laws to disarm the American people. But the American people started arming themselves to the teeth, by historical and record numbers, in advance of every attempt to disarm them, intuiting the out-of-control FED threat.

The Globalists have a battle to the death on their hands. And they made their move at the Australian G20 meeting in February. They are attempting to fire sale the territories, property rights, and assets of the American People to satisfy the massive incompetence of the private banking cartel of The Federal Reserve Bank and their multinational corporate co-conspirators.

They have a problem. The wealth and treasure of the American people do not belong to them, and they cannot liquidate it to save their ass. Any attempt to wholesale American wealth, property and treasure is a scam which will have no force, and WILL NOT STAND. We're fighting back. They're playing dirty.

Below is a Cease and Desist Demand. We're putting the Globalists on notice that their farce is known; and the whole world now knows, and is watching. To download the following Cease and Desist Demand, click HERE.

SOLE BENEFIT OF FOREIGN ENTITIES AND THEIR AGENTS, AND FOR THE IMMINENT SUBSTANTIAL DEVALUATION OF THE U.S. DOLLAR.

Under penalty of enforcement of the lawful rights, powers and authorities detailed in this DEMAND, enforceable under national and international common and statutory laws of all Nations involved, as applied to the facts supported by evidence, YOU ARE HEREBY FORMALLY SERVED this legal and binding DEMAND TO CEASE AND DESIST your crimes against the People of the United States of America.

Official criminal complaints to various agencies in multiple States and International Courts are actively being prepared by qualified legal counsel with the broad and overwhelming support of senior military, militia, intelligence, law, and security enforcement officials, to be filed without delay in the event of your failure or refusal to deliver to us convincing formal written assurances and binding commitments to comply with this DEMAND, within 3 business days.

Although specific laws of the United States are referenced here as having effect and jurisdiction in this matter, you are hereby WARNED that similar and analogous criminal laws of all related countries based upon the same fundamental legal doctrines also apply, and are equally enforceable.

Immediate Demand Under Force of Law

Based upon information obtained from credible and reliable confidential sources, we have reason to believe that your organizations, their responsible executives and also employees and agents, have begun preparation and/or implementation of certain highly criminal actions that are the subject of this DEMAND.

We hereby lawfully demand that you immediately CEASE & DESIST from any and all of the following acts, courses of action, and planning or preparation for acts of misconduct that are in clear, direct, flagrant and indefensible violation of established and enforceable criminal laws, of which you and your criminal agents conspired to achieve at the Australian G20 meeting, to wit: the disposition of the interests, rights, territories, assets and property rightfully owned The People of The United States, and the substantial and imminent devaluation of the US dollar, by and through:

1. The imminent implementation by G20 corporate criminal agents masquerading as government heads of state of plans to dispossess the assets, territories, property rights, and/or possessions of the People of The United States of America to the benefit of foreign entities and their agents in order to satisfy the debts and private misdeeds and misappropriation of gross levels of treasure of The People of the United States of America by the private banking cartel of the Federal Reserve and the latter's co-conspirators;
2. The imminent implementation by G20 corporate criminal agents masquerading as government heads of state of plans to utilize, leverage, borrow against, devalue, re-assign, rename, or otherwise change the substantial interests, rights, territories, assets and property rightfully owned The People of The United States for the same purposes described in number 1, above;

CEASE & DESIST DEMAND RE: SOETORO, et al.

3. The imminent implementation by G20 corporate criminal agents masquerading as government heads of state of plans to SIGNIFICANTLY DEVALUE THE US DOLLAR to further the purposes and interests of the private parties described in number 1, above.
4. The actual ongoing implementation by G20 corporate criminal agents masquerading as government heads of state in order to aid, abet and advance the goals of numbers 1-3 above, by means of:
  - a. Mass murder and genocide of the People of The United States Of America and other various nations of the world;
  - b. Mass poisoning of the land, the air, and the seas of The United States of America and her people, and other various nations of the world, specifically via massive toxic aerosols released into the atmosphere, radiation poisoning, GMO food stock infestation, sterilizations, and poisoning by other means;
  - c. The use of HAARP weather and atmosphere technologies and other terrestrial like-kind technologies to cause, steer, and exacerbate unnatural disasters, to cause earthquakes, volcano eruptions, Yellowstone Park magma disruptions, Asian nuclear disasters (in conjunction with other weapons), and explicit, public terrorist threats against Sovereign States, like Indonesia, with catastrophic flooding when they fail to bend to your genocidal extortion; and
  - d. The use of other forms of nuclear, biological, and nanotech weapons of mass destruction through false-flag and deceitful state-sponsored black operations, pinning the blame on terrorists that have been developed, groomed and deployed by your very own puppet state-corporations that are using these same terrorist operations to undermine the liberty and wealth of nations. These false flags have grown so thinly veiled that only the most weak and feeble-minded among the masses now fail to see what is being done.

Legal Basis for Demand Order

The above-listed actions, which you are hereby demanded to Cease & Desist, presently do and/or would constitute the most severe violations of the following U.S. criminal laws and also their corresponding equivalent laws of other Sovereigns:

- Under natural common law; and
- Abusing any apparent legal authority or "color of law" to deprive any person of any rights under a sovereign Constitution or any other laws. (18 USC 242.)
- Conspiring to violate or interfere with any rights under the Constitution or other laws, by injury (including property loss), oppression, threat or intimidation. (18 USC 241.)

- "Racketeering" (organized crime) as interference with commerce under color of official authority. (18 USC 1951(a), 1951(b)(2), or conspiring to racketeer (18 USC 1951(a).)
- "Racketeering", by patterns of bribery or extortion, or related to financial institutions. (18 USC 1961(1)(a).)
- Retaliation against a victim or witness (18 USC 1513(e)(1)), or conspiring for retaliation. (18 USC 1513(e)(2).)
- Tampering with victims or witnesses by intimidation or misleading conduct, to interfere with reporting crimes to law enforcement. (18 USC 1512(b).)
- Bribe-taking as an official conflict of interest for anything of value, including indirect or promised future benefits. (18 USC 201(b)(2).)
- Fraud by exceeding authorized access to any computer to obtain anything of value. (18 USC 1030(a)(4).)
- Trafficking in any password or access code for a computer that affects interstate or foreign commerce, (18 USC 1030(a)(6)(b), and with any computer used by or for a financial institution, "including a computer located outside the US that... affects interstate or foreign commerce of the US". (18 USC 1030(e)(2).)
- Fraudulent making of any false entry or transaction in any banking institution including a foreign bank that would injure any organization, company or individual. (18 USC 1005.)
- Fraud or devising any means to defraud, or seeking to obtain money or property by false pretenses or misrepresentation, by any "wire" (telephone or internet) transmission in interstate or foreign commerce. (18 USC 1343.)
- Fraud or attempted fraud to obtain any funds or assets under custody or control of a financial institution by false pretenses or misrepresentation. (18 USC 1344.)
- Conspiracy or attempt to commit any fraud, subject to the same penalties and punishment as for the primary offense. (18 USC 1349.)

NEIL KEENAN UPDATE | We're Mad As Hell And We're Not Gonna Take It Any More!

Video Highlights

- The recent flooding of England, Wales and Ireland is the work of HAARP.
- After the cabal located the pulsing frequencies of the super-volcano under Yellowstone Park, they stopped heating it up, demonstrating they could erupt it.
- Cabal puppet/clown John Kerry is threatening people who are in a position to threaten back. He went to Indonesia begging for money and when refused, he threatened that he could put Indonesia under water if his demands are not met.
- We are under attack by land, air and sea. We need to position ourselves to counter-attack.
- An international security force is needed. Please contact us through our volunteer page if you are able and willing to join our international security team.
- The U.S. military's movement against the cabal is stalled right now because Obama has replaced so many senior officers with cronies who are loyal to him. However, we can be assured that our good military will make all the right moves in the end.
- A big surprise involving Obama is coming soon.
- Although little has been made public, the good news is that the States are vigorously fighting for our rights. They are not standing for Federal tyranny, and are letting loose with litigation fighting back. Bravo!
- Our American militias have apparently backed away from their mission. We need our militias, and we encourage them gird up their loins and mobilize.

- Don't shop at Wal-Mart. You're funding the cabal. Shut them down by patronizing your neighbor, or starting a locally owned service where needed. Mom and pop stores are about to be the new sustainable long-term trend again as people wake up en masse.
- Thank you, Dr. Group! He has sent the "medicine" to remove radiation from the body. Mass production is now starting.
- Neil's medical machine that diagnoses problems in the body is amazing. Plans are in the making for these machines to be available to as many people as possible working around the prohibitions of effective alternative medicine by the multinational corporate pharma-controlled US, France, and Germany.
- The recent rash of bankers who have been "suicided" (whacked and made to look like suicide) is just the tip of the iceberg. At the time of the video Neil reported that there were another 150 to be slaughtered. The number on that list has now tipped 1,200 who have been targeted for termination. Banksters: time to blow your whistle now. That light is the only possible way to save you from being snuffed out in the darkness of your anonymity. The train is pulling out.
- To name some names, it should be known that George Soros put pedophile Etienne Davignon, formerly of Societe Generale, in charge of taking down the American middle class. Davignon used our own money to fund the downfall of the American middle class, and is the type of "scum bag" who deserves everything he's going to get for his crimes against humanity.
- The IRS article that was recently released on this site is now being translated into 40 languages. A new post exposing the cabal's poisoning of humanity by land, air, and sea will be released shortly.
- Edward Snowden is not the only one that has the list of names, telephone numbers, and home, business and vacation addresses of these cabal animals. That list has been independently compiled and exists in at least four other organizations. Thank you, Edward for taking the heat for this list, but you're not alone anymore.

Once again, Neil Keenan brings us more news that is not reported by alternative media, much less the mainstream media. Although you may have heard more than a few times that we are close to the end game for the cabal, he assures us that much action is solidly in motion to make this a reality. It is the end game now.

Most revealing about John Kerry's recent antics is the obvious desperation behind them – he would not be begging for money around the world if the cabal could rest assured in their plots against humanity.

We will not be intimidated by his threats nor will we stand by idly. They want to show us what they can do, and now we will show them what we all can do together. We know what they're doing and we even know the intimate details of Kerry's whereabouts. Enjoy yourself, John, while you still can.

AMANA'S ODYSSEY | PROFILE OF VALOR & VICTOR ©

We can now celebrate the fact that multinational corporate pharma and its “sustain the sickness” primitive traditional medicine is near the end. Some long-suppressed healing technologies are becoming widely known and available.

As it filters to the world at large, these technologies will free the diseased and unnecessarily dying that have been a type of suffering cash cow by the millions for the medical industrial complex. Make no mistake — this is the true healthcare reform. Shortly another article detailing the cabal's attacks on our land, sea and air will be posted. As always, Neil would have us armed with as much available information as possible so that we can move forward and focus on the solutions needed to turn our world right-side up and live the way we were meant to live.

A personal note from Neil Keenan:

The Keenan Team continues to dig deep to bring forth the truth to the people. They are experienced professionals in many walks of life and we are lucky to have them. They request their anonymity with their main quest and goal to bring us the Cabal on a silver platter. To date they are doing much more than this and we need to thank them for their hard work by recognizing their talents as second to none. They are explosive and aggressive and built from the same ilk as myself: they go for the jugular! With such talent we are second to none despite just opening up the site. I also would like to thank Jean for pushing me in this direction time and time again until finally it happened. Still an integral part of this group, Jean is most valued.

NEIL KEENAN UPDATE | Breakthrough In The Global Accounts

March 2, 2014

Breakthrough in the Global Accounts

- While Neil has taken on the cabal from the top down, Peter has been taking them on from the ground up – and they're meeting in the middle as they ravage our common enemy of mankind.
- We have a high calling. As Gandhi said, "the best way to find yourself is to lose yourself in the service of others."
- Neil is having breakthroughs in the required process of the opening the Global Accounts for the first time in our existence.
- Peter calls on everyone who supports Neil Keenan to pull together as one family, quit finger pointing and backstabbing, for the sake of our dramatically important common cause, especially now that victory is within our grasp.
- We have to stop being sheeple, and become shepherds – in control of our thoughts and lives.
- While our body may be imprisoned or destroyed, our mind may be forever free.

THE KEENAN TEAM REPORTS | One If By Land, Two If By Sea, We Sound The Alarm For Attacks By Three (Part 1)

March 5, 2014

A personal note from Neil Keenan:

THE KEENAN TEAM SWATS AWAY DISTRACTION ATTEMPTS AS THEY WOULD A FLY TO BRING YOU THE LATEST IN PART 1 OF: One If by Land, Two If by Sea, We Sound the Alarm for Attacks By Three.

Upon wakening early this morning the Keenan Team had to reach into their bags, find their ear plugs, plug them in and get working. Seems the outside world once again, at a very delicate and dangerous time, decided to toss them a curve ball. But the Keenan Team is at its best when adversity hits home.

So, they sat back and looked at what was coming in, found the curve ball rather weak and leaned into it and guess what? Yeah, hit a Home Run. Yes, this latest by the Keenan Team is another Home Run but this time with the bases loaded. How can you apparently even think the Keenan Team would be distracted by such simple pitches?

Therefore, we now have something not just of quality, but utmost quality, and that which you, the people, deserve. So, let's not play around any longer and bring to you their exposure. YES, THEY WANT TO KILL US!!!!!! Neil Keenan

We are being poisoned, and our human bodies are being genetically altered without our knowledge or consent by land, sea, and air. A race is on. Will a critical mass of our human civilization wake up to these weapons of mass extinction and stop them before our masses are culled to levels which cannot effectively resist these misanthropic global programs?

In this two-part series The Keenan Team reports a nightmare: we are now in the process of being exterminated through our food supply and atmosphere through genetically-modified foods supplies (GMOs), a vast variety of poisons in our global water supply, through HAARP-engineered catastrophes, and the geo-engineered damage to Earth's ability to sustain any life, human or otherwise.

In part one, below, we lay bare the genocidal effects of GMOs and the irreversible damage that is being done to global water supplies.

In part two of One If By Land, Two If By Sea, We Sound The Alarm for Attacks By Three, we expose the current and extensive use of HAARP and geo-engineering that work by design and in conjunction with GMO and water poisoning to effectuate the intended culling of the human species to a level deemed sustainable for Earth and controllable by an acting global governance. This global leviathan is decades-active and is coordinating these global programs, often with public, published United Nations protocols.

But they are ajar, and on their heels. They see the light at the end of a tunnel running interference with their dark schemes: a broad awakening of the human masses. This awakening haunts them and foments their own destruction – the prospect of having to face the consequences of their crimes against humanity.

And the race is on between the critical mass awakening of our human family, and its extinguishment. This break-away civilization – a self-appointed human hierarchy – will risk everything to control everything. Their programs not only risk the continuation of the human species as we know it, but they willingly risk the extinction of ALL life on this planet. They want it all, or leave nothing at all.

PLAN 1 | GMO POISONING

“He who controls the food supply, controls the people.” Henry Kissinger.

GMO's are defined as “organisms in which the genetic material (DNA) has been altered in such a way that does not occur naturally.” GMOs are also referred to as “genetic engineering,” “biotechnology” or “recombinant DNA technology” whereby genetic DNA string segments of one organism or species are spliced into another to form an organism that is not found in nature. (WHO.)

GMO animal studies have proven:

Significant decreases in fertility from GMO corn. (Velimirov A, Binter C, Zentek J. Biological effects of transgenic maize NK603xMON810 fed in long-term reproduction studies in mice. Report-Federal Ministry of Health, Family and Youth. 2008.)

Cellular modifications may lead to accelerated aging and accumulation of ROC (chemically reactive oxygen species that may result in damage to cell structures). (Ibid; Velimirov A, Binter C, Zentek J. Biological effects of transgenic maize NK603xMON810 fed in long-term reproduction studies in mice. Report-Federal Ministry of Health, Family and Youth. 2008; Kilic A, Aday M. A three-generational study with genetically modified Bt corn in rats: biochemical and histopathological investigation. Food Chem. Toxicol. 2008; 46(3):1164-1170.

Altered structures and functioning of the liver. (Malatesta M, Boraldi F, Annovi G, et al. A long-term study on female mice fed on a genetically modified soybean: effects on liver aging. Histochem Cell Biol. 2008; 130:967-977.)

Changes in kidney, pancreas and spleen. (Id., supra, Finamore & Britti, Velimirov & Binter, et al., Kilic.)

The unexpected and unintended modification of 400 genes controlling protein and cholesterol synthesis, cell signaling, and insulin regulation from GMO corn. (Finamore A, Roselli M, Britti S, et al. Intestinal and peripheral immune response to MON 810 maize ingestion in weaning and old mice. J Agric. Food Chem. 2008; 56(23):11533-11539.)

Intestine damage and disruption to immune system, and proliferated cell growths from GMO corn. (Ibid.)

Significant immune irregularities associated with asthma, allergies and inflammation from GMO corn. (Finamore A, Roselli M, Britti S, et al. Intestinal and peripheral immune response to MON 810 maize ingestion in weaning and old mice. J Agric. Food Chem. 2008; 56(23):11533-11539; Kroghsbo S, Madsen C, Poulsen M, et al. Immunotoxicological studies of genetically modified rice expression PHA-E lectin or Bt toxin in Wistar rats. Toxicology. 2008; 245:24-34.)

The Scientists reviewing this evidence who are not bought and paid for or leveraged by intimidation from GMO multinational corporations have come to the conclusion that “[t]here is more than a casual association between [GMO] foods and adverse health effects. * * *

The strength of association and consistency between [GMO] foods and disease is confirmed in several animal studies.” (Dean & Armstrong, Genetically Modified Foods, American Academy of Environmental Medicine (May 8, 2009).)

The level of funding and influence by GMO multinationals have infiltrated the global research university establishment to such a point that the entire academic research system is dependent upon and beholden to this GMO industry. The attacks on honest, legitimate GMO-related Ph.D.’s “have all but stopped independent research into the health and environmental side-effects of GMO’s.

According to University of California at Berkeley professor Ignacio Chapela, there is a de facto ban on scientists ‘asking certain questions and finding certain results.’ He states, ‘It’s very hard for us to publish in this field. People are scared.’” (GMO Researchers Attacked, Evidence Denied, and a Population at Risk, (Sept., 19, 2012) Jeffery M. Smith, Global Research.)

Ph.D.'s who do come out honestly and publicly about the deadly dangers of GMOs are attacked mercilessly by the GMO industry and their Government whore-puppets (more about this later):

“Scientists involved in research on the effects of GMO’s are being threatened and fired from their jobs. Dr. Charles Benbrook, former Executive Director of the Board on Agriculture of the U.S. National Academy of Sciences, said he has personally spoken with dozens of scientists who ‘had to contend with this backlash and these counter attacks that the industry unleashes on scientists that they view as a threat. The majority of them get out of the field. The majority of them will not put themselves, or their families, or their career at that kind of risk again.’ he said.” (Ibid.)

For instance, Dr. Pusztai, a biologist who reported his findings that as a result of ingesting GMOs rats developed smaller brains, livers and testicles, atrophied livers, damaged immune systems and pre-cancerous growths. His career was immediately ruined. He was silenced with court gag orders until he was finally able to testify before the UK Parliament and his study was allowed to be published.

Australian Epidemiologist, Judy Carman, who studied disease outbreaks, points out that the true cancer, reproductive, and child health effects of GMOs would take decades to be determined. After criticizing the industry-sponsored pseudoscience of GMO animal testing, which leaves out large swaths of critical health issues, GMO industry scientist-cronies attacked Dr. Carmen and attempted by all means possible to take away her government research grant to analyze these issues.

When that failed, the GMO multinational leviathan took to moving its tentacles through its bought-and-paid-for academia, depriving her of any further support from her research university. (Ibid.)

Or take prominent Norwegian virologist, Dr. Terje Traavik, who submitted preliminary data at the 2004 UN Biosafety Protocol Conference that provided evidence of the serious health symptoms of Filipinos living near a GMO cornfield: the genetic material of GMOs was showing up in the DNA of rat organs after just one single meal. Because he called into question the safety of GMO viruses, Dr. Traavik was ravaged by the misanthropic GMO industry. (Ibid.)

Then there is Dr. Ignacio Chapela, a microbial ecologist from the University of California at Berkeley who had the courage to report that indigenous corn varieties in Mexico had been contaminated through GMO cross-pollination. This evidence was met with a demand to revoke his yet-to-be released article in Nature. “We know where your children go to school” was their argument. (Ibid.)

Dr. Chapela’s article was published nonetheless but his reputation was savagely attacked. There was a GMO industry campaign to refuse him tenure at UC Berkeley, and despite the overwhelming support from this college and colleagues, his tenure was denied due to GMO industry pressure. Fortunately, this decision was later reversed through a subsequent lawsuit.

Inevitably these brutal attacks have a major chilling effect on all others. Despite aggressive reprisals, some scientists from around the world have stepped up to speak the truth about GMOs, while others shrink from their duty in cowardice, or worse, increase their personal wealth by lending their expertise to deceive, manipulate and betray their own human family.

The GMO industry scientists clearly know the deadly risks of GMOs. Monsanto scientists have been caught red handed finding cancer causing or death side-effects in their studies. They then pull the studies, not the products, and make sure their own consume an organic-only diet. (Jeffery M. Smith at Beyond Chemtrails 2012 @ 9:30-10:42.) And some GMO industry scientists even welcome their diseases as part of a depopulation agenda against humanity they ascribe to:

Monsanto Doesn't Just Buy Influence, It Controls Government Agencies Tasked with Regulating It.

Monsanto spends vast sums in the hundreds of millions for political contributions at all levels of government, against movements in the states to label and regulate their poisons, abroad in Europe, and around the globe. This grand-scale criminality has defeated state laws, created federal laws granting them immunity for the injury and damage directly caused by their GMOs, and, worst of all, it protects these crimes against humanity by buying off the very government agencies assigned to regulate it. The wolf is now in charge of the hen house. In 2009, President Obama appointed Monsanto Vice President, Michael Taylor, to Senior Adviser for the US Federal Government's Food and Drug Administration.

And that's just the start. Monsanto has a revolving door to the US Federal Government's key regulatory positions that makes it all too clear that Monsanto regulates the US Government, and not the other way around. Here is a list of 35 Monsanto cronies infesting these key Federal Government positions:

AMANAH'S ODYSSEY | PROFILE OF VALOR & VICTOR ©

INDIVIDUAL
MONSANTO POSITION		FEDERAL POSITION
Head of Government Affairs for Genentech, (Now Monsanto)	David Beier	Chief Domestic Policy Advisor to Vice President Gore
Worked for Monsanto's Legal Team	William Conlon	Department of Justice
Worked for Monsanto's Legal Team	Sam Skinner	Department of Justice
Executive Vice President and Chief Technology Officer	Robert Farley	Serves as advisor in public agencies, including the USDA, among others
Senior Vice President for Clinical Affairs at G.D. Searle & Co (Merged with Monsanto)	Michael A. Friedman	Acting Commissioner of the FDA
Director of International Government Affairs	Marcia Hale	Assistant to President Clinton and Director of Governmental Affairs
Consultant to Searle's (Merged with Monsanto) Public Relations Firm	Arthur Hull Hayes	Previously was FDA Commissioner
Director of ESH Quality & Compliance	John L. Hershaw	Senior Advisor to U.S. Secretary of Labor
Vice President of Product and Technology Cooperation	Rob Horsch	Advisor to the National Science Foundation and the Department of Energy
Board of Directors, also represented Monsanto as a lawyer	Michael Kantor	U.S. Secretary of Commerce
Monsanto Board Member	Gwendolyn S. King	Commissioner of SSA 1989-1992
CEO of Monsanto for 14 years	Richard J. Mahoney	Served as Director of U.S. Soviet, Japanese and Korean Trade Councils, a Member of the U.S. Government Trade Policy Committee.
Oversee the Approval of BtGH, was a top Monsanto scientist	Margaret Miller	In 1991, Margaret was appointed Deputy Director of the FDA
Sits on Monsanto's Board of Directors, previously a Monsanto Animal Specialist	George Poste	In 2002, Poste was appointed head of Biotechnology division of Homeland Security
Member of the Monsanto Board of Directors	William D. Ruckelshaus	In 1970, he was the first Chief Administrator for the EPA, later the acting director of the FBI, then Deputy U.S. Attorney General
Previous CEO of Searle (Merged with Monsanto), he successfully had aspartame legalized while in that position	Donald Rumsfeld	Appointed to Secretary of Defense in 1975, then appointed to Secretary of Defense again in 2000
Worked on Monsanto-funded rGBH in connection with her graduate work at Cornell University	Suzanne Sechen	FDA Reviewer on Scientific Data
Previously the President and COO of Monsanto, Chairman and CEO of Nutrasweet, and Chairman and CEO of Monsanto	Robert B. Shapiro	Previously Served as President's Advisory Committee on Trade Policy and on the White House Domestic Policy Review of Industrial Innovation
Former Vice President of Cargill America, which represented Monsanto	Islam Siddiqui	Chief Agricultural Negotiator for the Office of the U.S. Trade Representative
Former Attorney for Monsanto for Seven Years, previous head of the Monsanto Washington D.C. Office	Michael Taylor	Former FDA Deputy Commission for Policy. In 2010, appointed by the FDA as a senior advisor to the FDA Commissioner
Previous Monsanto Researcher in charge of the Manhattan Project, creating the atomic bomb. Later, became Monsanto's Chairman of the Board	Dr. Charles Thomas	Previously Served as a consultant to the National Security Council and as a U.S. Representative to the United Nations' Atomic Energy Commission
Former lawyer for Monsanto, a notorious chemical polluter. Thomas would later cast the decisive vote in 200 on the Supreme Court, ratifying the stolen election that put George W. Bush Jr. into office	Clarence Thomas	In 1991, was appointed to the U.S. Supreme Court
Previously served on the Board of Directors of Calgene, a Monsanto Biotech subsidiary	Anne Veneman	In 2001, was appointed head of the USDA.
Former Staff Lawyer with Monsanto in Washington D.C.	Jack Watson	Chief of Staff to President Jimmy Carter
Hired by Monsanto to prosecute two Farmers who fought against Monsanto's Seed Policies in 2002	Seth Waxman	Former U.S. Solicitor General
Retired Senior Vice President for Public Policy at Monsanto	Dr. Virginia Weldon	Previously, was a member of the FDA's Metabolism & Endocrine Advisory Committee
Former Chief Counsel at Monsanto	Rufus Yessa	In 1993, was nominated as U.S. Deputy to the World Trade Organization
Monsanto Consultant	Toby Moffatt	US Congressman (D)
Monsanto Legal Counsel	Dennis DeConcini	US Senator (D)
Director, International Government Affairs	Josh King	White House Communications (Clinton)
Monsanto Lobbyist	Carol Tucker Foreman	WH Appointed Consumer Adv (Clinton)
Vice President, Government & Public Affairs	Linda Fisher	Deputy Admin EPA (Clinton, Bush)
Manager, New Technologies	Lidia Watrud	USDA, EPA (Clinton, Bush, Obama)
Rose Law Firm, Monsanto Counsel	Hillary Clinton	US Sen (D), Sec of State (Obama)
Director, Monsanto Danforth Center	Roger Beachy	Dir, USDA NIFA (Obama)

Even with this kind of influence, a critical mass of Americans have become aware of this atrocity. But the tide is turning — Monsanto cannot carry on one shareholder meeting without significant protests.

Monsanto's effort to renew its Federal immunity law (protecting Monsanto from the human injuries and damages caused by its GMOs) as a rider to an unrelated law was stopped and removed because of the public outcry. It is doubtful that the Monsanto immunity law could stand on its own merit in today's anti-Monsanto political climate. How Do You Know GMO Multinational Corporations Are Lying? Their Lips Are Moving. GMO multinationals' claims that GMOs will save the world with heightened nutritional, drought-resistant crops with higher than natural yields are a farce. The Union of Concerned Scientists, reviewing twelve of the most significant scientific studies on GMO yields (several thousand field studies over 20 years), concluded that GMOs do not increase crop yield. (Gurain-Sherman, D. 2009. Failure to yield: evaluating the performance of genetically engineered crops. Cambridge (MA): Union of Concerned Scientists.)

India's "suicide economy" is the natural result. When GMOs are sold or strong armed through legislation and litigation, the yields are a fraction of what is advertised, and the monopoly on seeds skyrockets their costs from 7,000 to 17,000 rupees. You begin to get another side effect of the Monsanto global economy: mass farmer suicides, nearly 300,000 since 1995. (Monsanto, Rural Debt and the Suicide Epidemic in India, (10/10/13) by Belén Fernandez.)

Monsanto has already developed GMO seeds that will grow in soil poisoned by the nano-aluminum, particles dumped on our civilization and Earth's soils by the billions of tons via chemtrails, making it impossible for organic crops to survive. The adage of John D. Rockefeller comes to mind: "competition is a sin."
No Amount of Money Can Stop the Public's Global Awakening to the Dangers Of GMO.

In spite of the GMO industry's best, well-funded effort, global public awareness of GMOs has gained incredible strength. In May of 2013, 20 million people in 50 different countries took to the streets to protest GMOs.

And, apparently GMO awareness is reaching a critical mass. The following Sovereigns have passed laws, or have legislation underway, to create GMO-free zones, or ban GMOs outright:

Russia, United Kingdom, Germany, France, Italy, Austria, Luxembourg, Portugal, Greece, Switzerland, Norway, Australia, New Zealand, Thailand, Philippines, Saudi Arabia, Egypt, Algeria, Brazil and Paraguay (OrganicConsumers.org)

PLAN 2 | GLOBAL WATER POISONING

An asset that many take for granted, water is the most valuable physical resource on our planet. The human body is made up of approximately 70% water. Salt water makes up 71% of the earth's surface with fresh water comprising about 3% of the earth's surface. Six countries: Brazil, Russia, Canada, Indonesia, China and Colombia, have 50 percent of the world's freshwater reserves.

Yet the globalist elites would have us believe that half of humanity will be water scarce by 2030. Hence, their creation to promote the concept of "Water Wars." They would have us believe this official line of fear propaganda by keeping us ignorant of the reality that they are deliberately poisoning our oceans, lakes, and waterways while at the same time suppressing the necessary technology to clean up our water. For a small portion of what is spent for "War on Terror," all serious global water problems could be resolved immediately.

Although the UN claims that water is not a human right, common sense tells us that nothing could be further from the truth. While we do have the technology for the desalination of salt water, the cost of which has dropped to about 56 cents per cubic meter, it has not been made widely available. There is also technology available to clean water by removing toxins, chemicals and radioactive materials, but it too is being kept at bay.

Water in the U.S. — The Clean Water Act

More than 40% of our U.S. waters are not safe for swimming or fishing. Forty-seven states have issued advisories against eating our fish because it contains dangerously high levels of chemicals and toxins. And these advisories were issued before the ongoing global nuclear disaster caused by radioactive material being released from Japan's deteriorating Fukushima nuclear facility and the Gulf oil spill (discussed below). The consistent, extensive dumping of chemicals into our waterways, such as toxic metals (lead and mercury), toxins to the human reproductive system (toluene) and carcinogens (vinyl chloride and benzene) are major violations of our Clean Water Act (CWA).

The EPA has consistently failed to stop violators. The courts have deterred citizens from the ability to file lawsuits to enforce the CWA, and regulators have steadfastly failed to lower permitted amounts of pollution.

In effect, the federal government and the EPA have sanctioned pollution rather than compliance with CWA's goal of pollution elimination (zero discharge). Fatal threats to human health, the environment, and our entire ecosystem are disregarded in favor of perpetuating big corporate polluters' profit.

Polluters are allowed to evade and violate our laws. The federal government's inaction in enforcing the law continues to enable the pollution of our communities' water on a massive scale. What has tragically become the norm in America is that the federal government, our courts, and the EPA have fully stacked the odds against citizens who are the only ones actually fighting for CWA laws to be enforced.

Unlike the EPA or the states, citizens are required to provide polluters with a 60-day notice of their intent to sue. In response, violators simply turn off discharge pipes or install temporary fixes, so that once a suit is filed, the facility is no longer in violation. Another impediment to citizen lawsuits going forward is the polluters' "sweetheart deals" with state agencies, where the government claims that they are "diligently" enforcing the law against a polluter and the courts perversely recognize this as effective action being taken.

One more disturbing trend in the courts is the erosion of citizens' standing to sue. The U.S. Supreme Court has defined three requirements for these lawsuits: 1) the plaintiff must show "injury in fact," 2) "causation" showing injury that is traced to the challenged action, and 3) show that the injury would be remedied by a favorable court decision. In other words, for example, conclusive medical evidence that toxic water is responsible for damage to a human reproductive system would be extremely complex and difficult for anyone citizen alone to prove.

Furthermore, citizen enforcers are prohibited from bringing penalty actions against the federal government for past violations. In 1992 the Supreme Court created a double standard: private water polluters and local governments are subject to penalties while federal facilities that violate the CWA pay nothing.

In a session of Congress, the attack on our environment became even more appalling with the signing into law of a rider that exempts defense agencies from paying fines or penalties for any environmental violation by a military installation unless the payment was specifically authorized by Congress.

Rather than exempting its own facilities from compliance with environmental laws, by example the federal government should be the prime director in providing for clean and safe water.

The Clean Water Act must be enforced now with the following actions:

- Set mandatory minimum penalties for violators and prohibit profits from polluting our waters.
- Remove obstacles and barriers to citizen lawsuits, protect whistleblowers and expand the public's right-to-know by increasing access to compliance and discharging data.
- Lower reporting thresholds for all toxic substances which are persistent in the environment or accumulate up the food chain or in human tissues. In 1999, the Clinton Administration issued regulations lowering the reporting thresholds but the regulations cover only toxic chemicals that persist in the environment and also bioaccumulate as they move up the food chain.

Perversely, these regulations exclude dangerous substances like cadmium, lead and lead compounds.

The recent incidents of contaminated water in West Virginia from 4-methylcyclohexane methanol perfectly illustrates what is being allowed to happen. The president of the company responsible for this chemical spill, Freedom Industries (a misnomer if ever there was one), even had the effrontery not to show up for a Congressional hearing on the spill.

Until we can hold the federal government, the EPA and their partners-in-crime – the polluters, accountable for allowing our waters to become toxic, poisoning our bodies and the food we eat, those who live on American soil are leading a life of slow death by water poisoning. Those who cannot see beyond their own greed are blind to what they are doing to their very own families for the sake of digits in a bank account.

Rather than expect the support and humanitarian allegiance of those elected to run this country and oversee our courts and supply our food products, the burden has come to be one that must be borne by We the People, to call them out on their crimes and insure that we have a normal, healthy ecosystem in which we can all thrive.

Fluoride

Water fluoridation has increasingly become an issue which many people around the globe are now aware. Implemented in the 1940s, the chemical fluoride is a controlled addition to public water supplies for the primary reported purpose of reducing tooth decay.

Approximately 70% of the U.S. population has fluoridated public water. Most European countries such as Japan and western Europe no longer fluoridate their water, but Ireland (73%), Poland (1%), Serbia (3%), Spain (11%), and the U.K. (11%) continue this practice. In countries where the water has a naturally high level of fluoride, such as India, China and parts of Africa, efforts are being made to remove this chemical due to the recognized adverse health effects.

No disease, including tooth decay, is caused by fluoride deficiency. To the contrary, fluoride has been found to interfere with enzymes, signals from growth factors, hormones, bones, neurotransmitters and many other vital functions of organs in the human body.

The level of fluoride found in mother's milk is very low. A bottle-fed baby can receive up to 300 times more fluoride at a stage of human development when toxins can have particularly detrimental effects. Four studies have found an association between prenatal fluoride exposure and fetal brain damage (Han 1989; Du 1992; Dong 1993; Yu 1996).

Infants and children excrete less fluoride and therefore retain about 80% of fluoride in their bones. In healthy adults, the kidneys excrete 50-60% of the fluoride ingested each day. The remainder of the fluoride accumulates in the body and calcifies bone tissue as well as the pineal gland. Over a lifetime, fluoride concentration steadily increases in bone.

Fluoride damages the brain. The National Research Council (2006) reports: "it is apparent that fluorides have the ability to interfere with the functions of the brain" and that "the consistency of the results [in fluoride/IQ studies] appears significant enough to warrant additional research on the effects of fluoride on intelligence." In at least three studies, fluoride has also been linked to impaired visual-spatial organization.

Fluoride affects the pineal gland by calcifying it. Studies by Jennifer Luke (2001) show that fluoride accumulates at very high levels in the human pineal gland which is located in the middle of the brain. The pineal gland is especially vital to a properly functioning endocrine system including melatonin production which is needed to regulate sleep/wake cycles.

In addition to its physical properties provided by the pineal gland in directing bodily functions, it cannot go without noting the spiritual aspects attributed to this vital gland.

A professor of medicine, Dr. Rick Strassman, has discovered that the pineal gland produces a substance, DMT, which is present at birth, death and near-death experiences and is reported to be an aid in psychological healing.

There are also a wide variety of religious traditions that claim that the pineal gland is essential in supporting human intuition and other interactions on dimensions above the physical. Considering all of the functions connected to the pineal gland, it can be easily seen why the Powers That Be choose to fluoridate our water — to keep the population dumbed-down in all aspects: physically, mentally and spiritually.

Fluoride affects thyroid function. Considering the high incidence of hypothyroidism (underactive thyroid) in the U.S., it needs to be pointed out that that the second most prescribed drug in 2010 was Synthroid, a hormone replacement drug used to treat an underactive thyroid.

The additional list of health problems attributed fluoride ingestion and accumulation in the body includes:

arthritic symptoms, bone damage and bone cancer, increase in hip fractures in the elderly, impaired kidney function, reproductive problems, diabetes, vitamin deficiencies, fatigue, headaches, rashes, and gastro intestinal tract problems.

Since it has also been proven that fluoride leaches lead from pipes, brass fittings and soldered joints, fluoride also contributes to lead being added to our water from our plumbing systems. Studies show that lead lowers IQ in children.

How could even the slightest threat to the brain, intelligence and body functions be considered an acceptable risk against the false claim of tooth decay prevention? Halting the use of fluoride in our water may be the most immediate and easiest health threat to eliminate. Unlike many atrocities being committed, there is much available information about fluoride in our water. The good news is that there now are numerous, effective movements in U.S. states and counties that are now bringing a permanent end to water fluoridation.

Fracking

Fracking is short for “hydraulic fracturing,” a water-intensive process where a high-pressure mixture of millions of gallons of water, sand, and cancer-causing chemicals are injected underground to fracture the rock surrounding an oil or gas well.

While there are many detrimental and harmful effects of fracking to land and air, one of the most damaging consequences is the contamination of ground water. Fracking releases additional oil and gas from the rock and also arsenic, heavy metals and radioactive radium-226, which then flow into the surrounding water supply and wells. Over 250 communities in the US have passed resolutions to stop fracking and France and Bulgaria have also stopped it.

Approximately 50% of the fracking fluid used is left in the ground, some in open pits where it evaporates into the air. The inevitable consequence of this is acid rain and ground level ozone. Compounding all of the life-threatening effects of fracking is that large amounts of water are required and this is creating water depletion in many already drought-ridden areas.

Financial commentator, Max Keiser, most aptly calls fracking “suicide economics.” Here is how the grand scam works: fracking companies lease farmers’ land and make huge profits during the life of a well. When the well is exhausted, the companies walk away by declaring bankruptcy, paying no clean-up costs whatsoever. This leaves the taxpayers responsible to pay out millions to have their communities’ contaminated water restored to a clean condition.

Because of aggressive lobbying and cozy relationships with our federal decision-makers, the fracking industry enjoys many exemptions from protecting our air and water. Once again, our laws are evaded by an industry that clamps down on local and state efforts to regulate fracking through buying influence, thwarting lawsuits, and putting out as much disinformation in the process as possible.

Gulf Oil Spill

Polluting our waters was taken to the next level with the 2010 Gulf Oil spill created by the BP Oil Corporation. To this day, oil and chemicals are still washing up onshore. With over 16,000 miles of coastline affected, over 8,000 animals were dead in just the first six months, and the death of much deep-sea coral, the ongoing devastation to our southern coastlands and the threat to human life remains without estimate.

The deadly oil dispersant, Corexit, was used to clean up the spill and over time it has proven to have more devastating health effects than the oil spill itself. Corexit has been banned in 19 countries, making it very obvious that our own EPA is ignoring the lethal dangers of this chemical.

True to criminal corporate mode-of-operation, during and after the spill cleanup, more than a few whistle-blowers and those who were aware of the truth behind this oil spill were silenced either by their deaths, or by less lethal means of intimidation. But there is an even more deadly agenda behind this campaign to suppress the truth and create a “dead zone” in the Gulf of Mexico.

A recent article by David Hodges clearly illustrates the facts as to why the Gulf oil spill was not any kind of accident: “the Obama administration, BP, Exxon, Nalco, GM, GE, Goldman Sachs, University of Chicago, and many others including the Department of Defense are all deeply invested in bio-fuels.

These billionaire psychopaths will willingly sacrifice the Gulf and all of its residents for this multi-trillion-dollar industry representing a new era of energy applications. Algae Will Replace Oil as the Nation’s Energy Source.”

Algae – The Globalist Plan for the Next New Energy Source

Prior to the Gulf oil spill, Goldman Sachs, Transocean, and Halliburton dumped their BP stock and thus perfectly positioned themselves to make millions from the destruction of the Deepwater Horizon oil rig. Even BP positioned itself to minimize losses before the spill, along with George Soros and the top five financial institutions dumping their BP stock beforehand.

The writing is on the wall – in addition to the above-mentioned heavy investors in algae bio-fuels, the list includes George Soros, Warren Buffet, Al Gore and also the U.S. Military who has invested $32 million in algae jet-fuels.

From all indications what appears to be happening is that the oil companies and their partners are working to take down their own industry to make way for algae bio-fuels, the next new global energy source. They are achieving this by destroying large bodies of water, creating “dead zones” that will then produce massive amounts of algae to be used for energy known as bio-fuels.

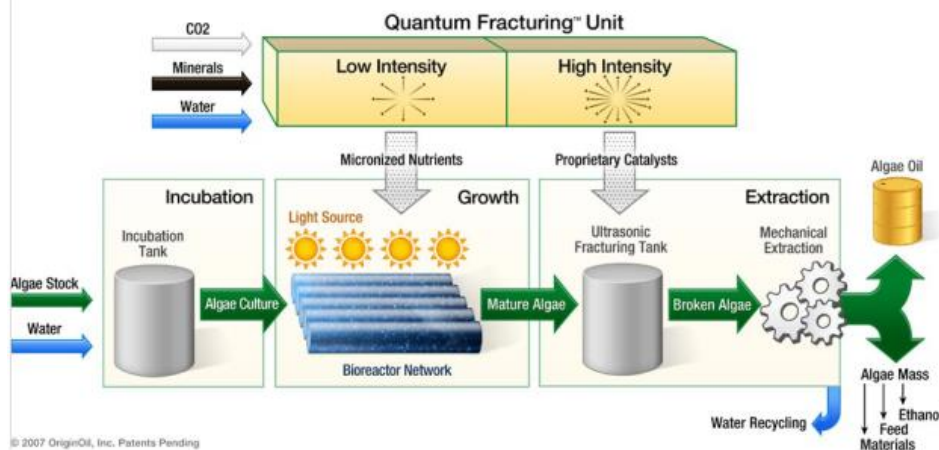

There are good algae and there are bad algae. Essentially, bad algae are caused by the entry into our water of excess of fertilizer run-off from farms, household cleaners, carbon, nitrogen, and most recently, Corexit. This results in algae being produced which starts to decay and then dissolves oxygen in the water. Reduced oxygen kills fish, animals and plants. Dead zones in our water means nothing survives except algae.

While one of the benefits of algae is that it consumes carbon dioxide emissions, there can be no question that destroying the most precious natural resource on our planet to create bio-fuels from algae is clearly and undeniably insane. With so much suppressed energy technology available, it is crystal clear that this is just one more plan by certifiable psychopaths to maintain their power and control of the planet's water. The bodies of water that are now experiencing the advanced stages of becoming dead zones are the Chesapeake Bay, the Great Lakes, the Mississippi River and, of course, the Gulf of Mexico.

Possibly the present unsolved problem of algae being a low-yield bio-fuel provides some hope for the globalists' proposed deadly fate for humanity's water. The problem lies in the difficulty of being able to extract only small amounts of algae biomass from very large quantities of water at a reasonable cost and without expending more energy than the energy that is created.

There is much ongoing research into this problem, however, if it cannot be solved, Origin Oil is proposing an alternative that will turn algae into a source of renewable oil:

The OriginOil™ System

HYPERLINK "<http://neilkeen.com/wp-content/uploads/2014/03/TheOriginOilSystem.png>"

If the problem of low-yield, high-cost algae bio-fuel is solved, these depraved plans will proceed to replace oil with algae as the world's ruling energy commodity. But it is most important to see that quickly changing events now seem to indicate that time is on our side with the release of suppressed free energy technology which will bury this algae bio-fuel insanity forever and allow humanity to live and thrive the way that nature intended for us.

Fukushima

The “granddaddy” event now causing our entire planet’s water to be contaminated with radioactive material has now reached the extinction-level stage. Radioactive water expelled by Japan’s nuclear facility Fukushima as a result of an earthquake in 2011 has now become an ongoing threat impacting all aspects of life on this planet. Be assured that this is no conspiracy theory – the imminent dangers are real and they are happening now.

According to some scientific studies, the Japan Trench is the result of the Pacific Ocean plate pressing down under the continental plate carrying the islands of Japan. The downward movement, called subduction, suddenly released the 9.0 magnitude earthquake. Along the fault, the two plates of Earth’s crust slid past each other up to 260 feet (80 meters) and lifted the seafloor by 30 feet (10 meters). The resulting tsunami was caused by the vertical displacement of seawater, bringing about the deaths of 20,000 people.

The earthquake caused the Fukushima nuclear facility’s core to meltdown, resulting in the release of radioactive isotopes of iodine, cesium, xenon, krypton and tellurium into the ocean. The release of radioactive material is contaminating water, soil, and food supplies, thereby creating a deadly threat to human existence.

Three-hundred tons of radioactive water from Fukushima is being released into the Pacific Ocean every day. To keep costs low, TEPCO, the incompetent Japanese power company “managing” the containment, has resorted to foolhardy and reckless methods employing fix-it materials such as nets made of duct-tape and wire to seal containers containing radioactive water.

These methods ensure that radioactive material continues to be released into the environment unabated, causing a steady, life-threatening build-up in our food chain. The food chain begins with marine phytoplankton, microscopic plants that produce as much photosynthesis as plants do on land. These plants ingest radioactive contaminants from the seawater which is then eaten by small fish, and in turn is eaten by larger fish, and then by animals up the food chain.

Some of the contaminants end up in fecal pellets or other particles that settle onto the seafloor. These particles accumulate in sediments, and the radioisotopes in them are then released back into the overlying waters. The amount of radioactivity in marine life depends on a number of factors some of which include the length of exposure, and the size of the species and the temperature, salinity and oxygen content of the water.

An oceanographer at the Tokyo University of Marine Science and Technology, Jota Kanda, has studied coastal waters off Fukushima and calculated the amount of cesium that still remains is considerably higher in that area than before the Fukushima disaster, and that levels in coastal sediments and in fish species are higher than in other surrounding waters, with the rest being flushed out to open ocean.

What has yet to be determined is how long cesium stays put and the pathways for its uptake into the food chain. Considering the 30-year half-life of cesium-137, at present levels the sediments could be a source of contamination in the food chain for decades to come.

Since Fukushima's meltdown began, Japan, nor the world at large, has comprehensively addressed the health threat to water, agriculture and the food chain as well as the implications of radioactivity contamination of Japanese products such as electronic components, machinery and cars.

The IAEA (International Atomic Energy Agency) website reports that Japan's Nuclear Regulation Authority receives updates from TEPCO on sampled seawater in the area and the monitoring of environmental effects.

Exactly what the data reveals remains unknown to the public and will most likely remain unknown because, in light of recent revelations, a secrecy agreement between IAEA and Fukushima exists and contains a confidentiality clause to classify information that would “contribute to the worsening of the residents' anxiety.” Tragically for the human population, it cannot be expected that any vital, useful information about radiation data or thyroid cancer will be made available from these sources.

Dr. Group's Recent Report

A recent report by esteemed Dr. Edward F. Group III has provided some valuable information, both positive and negative. He reports that radiation is spreading across the globe in the form of a radioactive plume and is expected to reach the Pacific Coast of the U.S. this year.

To give an idea of the spin being put on our dire situation, the World Health Organization claims that "the radioactive material is too diluted to be dangerous despite the fact that radioactive material will flow for years to come, peaking in 2016."

Furthermore, Dr. Group states that "during the meltdown, radiation was launched into the atmosphere and settled as far away as Slovenia, France, the Canary Islands, and even in the Arctic. Air, water and milk samples collected across the United States after the Fukushima disaster all showed high levels of radioactive iodine, cesium, and tellurium."

Apparently, boiling water does not reduce radiation levels because radioactivity only becomes concentrated when the water boils off. Soil contamination in Japan due to radioactive fallout continues to be a threat with produce because the radioactive material tends to stick easily to the exterior leaves of vegetables. Boiling the inner leaves for 20 minutes has proved to reduce 70% of the contamination.

But the good news is that Dr. Group points to a viable solution to help decontamination – algae. Parachlorella binos (also known as "Binos"), a newly-discovered strain of algae (good algae) has demonstrated the potential to neutralize radioactive nucleotides and provides a natural alternative to chemicals. Since one of the worst risks to humans is posed by exposure to radioactive iodine-131 (skin and thyroid damage, cancer and death), Dr. Group makes the recommendation to take supplemental iodine and eat foods containing iodine. Iodine is an essential trace mineral ensuring that the thyroid is able to manage metabolism and detoxification.

Fish

As of January 2014, authorities have warned that fish within 100 miles of Japan's coast are likely to have high levels of radioactive material. A recent test shows that 15 out of 15 bluefin tuna are contaminated with radiation, with 90-100% radiation levels found in Japanese halibut, sardines, eel, cod, carp and anchovies. Suffice it to say that fish and marine mammals have been discovered suffering from gory, horrific deformities and abnormalities. An environmental activist, Joe Martino, issued the following warning: "Your days of eating Pacific Ocean fish are over."

Radioactive debris from Fukushima has now crossed the Pacific Ocean and has breached the coastal waters and beaches on the U.S. west coast. Local reports claim that the California coastline is becoming a dead zone — the beaches have rocks that are unnaturally clean, and gone are the normal signs of sea life — kelp, barnacles, sea urchins, crabs, snails. Even the number of seagulls is seen as drastically reduced.

Theories About the Cause of the Earthquake

Conspiracy theories abound that the Japanese earthquake was caused by HAARP, high-tech military-grade weaponry, and even by nuclear devices exploded undersea. By one report, Japan's HAARP technologies, which had previously been quiet, was active two days before the earthquake. Another assertion is that small yield explosions could have been set off along already pressurized fault lines, creating an earthquake that appeared to be natural. These theories, while plausible, are not supported by credible evidence and are speculative at this time.

Wanted: Solutions

There is no sane reason for the globalist elites' depopulation agenda and their intent to control every planetary resource including human thought and behavior. Solutions and actions need to be at the forefront of our minds if we are to prevent the extinction of our species. Dr. Group's recommendation for the use of good algae to remove radioactive material is an excellent, realistic solution and one that we need to begin employing immediately. Not only can good algae be used for Fukushima clean-up, it can also be used on a large-scale basis to replace the self-destructive chemicals widely used to clean our water at wastewater treatment plants.

The task has fallen to us. The powers-that-be would have us become enveloped by the horror, fear, and helplessness of what they are creating to pollute and control all of our water. But we are intelligent enough to realize the importance of focusing on the solutions rather than the horror. We can no longer feign ignorance. We can no longer remain silent. Information combined with our innate creativity are the most powerful weapons we have against the psychotic tyranny consuming all aspects of our world.

Consciousness of these crimes against humanity is growing every day. The self-appointed powers-that-be have set our planet, our way of life, and our very existence on a course of reckless destruction. A critical mass is a force in size, while a fraction of unconscious masses far outnumbers the very few enemies of humanity who abuse the levers of power that they have taken without our knowledge or consent.

A tipping point is upon us. A shift is neigh. And this "rising tide lifts all ships."

NEIL KEENAN UPDATE | Nelu Interviewed At The Jakarta Prison

THE NELU STORY

It is rare that one gets the opportunity to take part in a live event that almost compares to any of the James Bond movies or even maybe Mission Impossible, but thanks to Neil Keenan this was about to change into a Mission Possible.

On Monday, 3/3/2014, Neil Keenan very kindly invited me to go with him and Jo to visit Nelu in prison here in Jakarta and gave me the privilege to interview him.

Neil Keenan & Peter Eyre

The prison was very hot and humid and after some 30 minutes Jo and I managed to find a table for Nelu to join us after Neil had collected him.

Neil Keenan first went into the hospital section of the detention center to rendezvous with Nelu and hold his own private meeting. After sometime Neil came down with Nelu and joined us.

My first impression was of Nelu's lovely warm smile despite the hardship he had endured over the last few years. He was wearing his Hospital Blue Uniform, and all in all, he came across as a wonderful and sensitive person.

AMANAH'S ODYSSEY | PROFILE OF VALOR & VICTOR ©

My first quest was to establish how things had developed prior to Nelu's arrest and how this all turned into a fiasco of unbelievable proportions and resulted in his imprisonment.

Jo, The Gentle One

Obviously, Keith Scott played a major role in what I would only describe as a WMD (Weapon of Mass Deception). This eventually led to Neil Keenan's falling out with Scott in which Neil literally took the rug from under this 500 lb. moron when he learned that Scott was attempting to go behind his back by doing a deal directly with Rockefeller/Wagoner and the Heritage Foundation.

Neil caught Rockefeller/Wagoner and Keith Scott going directly to Neil's connections who at all times remained totally loyal and advised Neil as to what was going on. Nelu said Neil was clever enough at this time to advise Rockefeller/Wagoner that Keith Scott had all the connections to do his deal. Meanwhile, Scott told Neil that he had not gone behind Neil's back and that he was being misled.

Nelu Behind Bars

Unbeknownst to Keith Scott, Neil had received all of Scott's communications by another person associated directly with Neil who was the catalyst and the head of a major foundation. Consequently, this led to Rockefeller/Wagoner and Keith Scott's demise, thus eliminating any possibility of their carrying out any transactions. Nelu went on to say that Keith Scott did not know that it was the foundation that did the due diligence on Keith Scott which led to the finding of a 3-inch Federal File exposing Keith Scott's nasty proliferation of abuse.

This dog fight led to Neil Keenan meeting with Jean Haines and also Drake Bailey after Keith Scott, Rockefeller/Wagoner and Winston Carmichael attempted to take Neil Keenan down and who had indecently contacted Jean and Drake. Meanwhile, David Wilcock and Benjamin Fulford were asking what the hell was happening. David was literally pulling his hair out while in the meantime, Jean Haines contacted Neil Keenan to see if he had his own side to this story.

It was at this stage that Neil Keenan very cleverly put Jean in touch with the foundation that Keith Scott had been communicating with behind his back. This then also resulted in Neil putting Drake Bailey in touch with the head of that same foundation who again found out about the Federal File on Keith Scott. Neil then had David Wilcock speak directly with the same foundation which confirmed the same information.

During this process, Neil had also been in touch with me (Peter Eyre) having already heard directly from the man himself, Keith Scott. I had also previously carried out my own investigation into proving that Keith was not a person with whom one would like to be associated.

For the record I also found out about Keith Scott's activities in other countries. As a footnote to this, it became obvious to me that had Scott returned to some of his old stomping grounds, he would have been arrested. I find it rather sad that this man is still allowed to walk free on this planet.

I would also like to add that Keith Scott also sent information directly to me revealing private communications between himself and Neil Keenan which I thought was not only distasteful but was also undermining Neil's entire effort by basically stabbing him well and truly in the back.

Taking in all of this and the fact that Neil was able to literally kick them all in the arse led them to make their own move on Nelu. From my perspective, interviewing Nelu was a vital link into my own investigations (with so many dots to connect), and also being with Neil and Jo helped me to paint the final picture.

To continue the interview with Nelu:

Nelu told me that Neil Keenan returned to Europe after a meeting had taken place in Singapore with him, Neil and Alex Ling Lee Soon. Shortly after Neil's return, Scott and Rockefeller/Wagoner created a family problem for Nelu. They advised Nelu's family that Neil had given Nelu $35,000 (given by Alex) to further the cause, thereby disrupting the family because of Indonesian jealousy.

A further meeting, one without Neil, was then planned by Keith Scott, Rockefeller/Wagoner and Jack Singh, one of Alex Soon's questionable confidants. The proponents of the meeting, Scott and Rockefeller/Wagoner, attempted to undermine the entire operation and circumvent Neil Keenan to seize the final outcome.

All this was happening while Neil was a continent away. This meeting was scheduled without Neil's presence and he wasn't even aware that it was taking place. (My note: From my perspective, Nelu always protected Neil Keenan's integrity and acted on his behalf.)

Nelu went on to say that Alex Soon did not want this meeting. He was angered that Jack Singh was willing to meet with Scott and Rockefeller/Wagoner, because a friend of Rockefeller/Wagoner had deceived him in the past.

Nelu, managed to get Alex to see Rockefeller/Wagoner. Nelu said, "As we entered the conference room, I said hello to Alex, and he said, 'Let's get down to business.'" Rockefeller/Wagoner gave a proposal to Alex, which had been circulating in the international community for twenty years.

Alex looked at only a few of the papers, returned them and said, "This proposal didn't work twenty years ago, so it certainly won't work now. Perhaps you would like to give me your opinion on what you think of Neil Keenan?"

Rockefeller/Wagoner said, "I think he is a fool." Alex replied, "He may be a fool, but he's the only person with any idea of moving this along in the correct way." Alex got up, feeling the meeting should not proceed any further, but then Rockefeller/Wagoner stated, "If you give me $150,000 now, I can begin immediately." Alex said, "I'll think about it," and left the room.

A few hours later, while in Singapore, Rockefeller/Wagoner advised Nelu to contact Jack Singh to make contact with Alex to buy Rockefeller/Wagoner a plane ticket home. (From my perspective, I find it rather strange that a person who portrayed himself to be a Rockefeller had to borrow money to get home.)

Alex Soon did regrettably pay for Rockefeller/Wagoner to get to Hong Kong, and it was at this point that the dirty dozen went to work trying to get Nelu to work for them without Neil Keenan having any knowledge whatsoever.

Yet again the money that was used by Nelu to go into the hills (as supplied by Neil and his group) to bring down notes to the bank would have possibly and legally opened up the global accounts long before now. From my perspective the dirty dozen caused immeasurable damage in the progress of releasing this money for the betterment of human kind.

It should be noted here that the money that Nelu brought down from the hills was genuinely authentic and were multi-denominational notes that were authenticated by the respective embassies. But additional notes were placed into Nelu's bag, to which Nelu had no knowledge or authority over and were certainly not his. These notes were fake and were brought in by the Keith Scott group.

After Nelu received the notes in the hills and upon his arrival in Jakarta, he was accompanied by his father-in-law. They were to meet with a banking individual who would take Nelu to the bank. Unfortunately for Nelu that person was not a banking person but rather someone from the Drug Administration in Jakarta.

The person from the Drug Administration then sat in Nelu's car, looked at the notes and then left the car, whereupon the car was immediately surrounded by law enforcement officers who then took Nelu and his father-in-law into custody. It was this incident that put Nelu into prison where he currently remains.

(My note: All of this above comes down to the slime and grime emanating from one phone call from that low-life imbecile Keith Scott to Tina, who in turn called Dewi to implement their plan.)

It was explained to me after asking Nelu what he thought about his situation that he immediately responded by saying that he had been set up here in Jakarta and went on to say that a group of people here wanted him to work for them and not to work for Neil Keenan. This was all the work of that slime-ball Keith Scott.

Nelu further explained that the reason the dirty dozen wanted him to work for them was to fast track/side-track what was going on going behind Neil Keenan's back, and in doing so, it would expedite their access to big money.

The group actually used their own way of trying to convince Nelu to jump sides by claiming that Neil was abusing him as well as Indonesia, and that if Nelu gave the notes to Neil, Indonesia would get nothing. In reality, Neil Keenan and his group had paid for those notes.

In Nelu's own words: "Working with Neil was far more sincere than the other group. It was the other group that had arranged a new meeting point that led to the set up." Nelu clarified the fact that he thought he was going to meet someone from the bank in Jakarta and clearly that person had been intercepted to stop Nelu from dealing with Neil or the bank.

What I found out from Nelu during this interview was his respect and sincerity towards Neil Keenan and despite the immense pressure of being surrounded by police and the trauma of being interrogated, Nelu stood firm and did not cooperate with them in any shape or form. Nelu told me that he was eventually charged with International Fraud whereby 83 of the 1,200 international notes in his possession were fraudulent, a fact that was unknown to him.

What I found incredible was the fact that all of this started around August, 2012, and it wasn't until March, 2013 that he went to court and was charged and sentenced to 3.5 years in prison. The prosecution had actually sought 7 years but fortunately, this been refused.

It was determined during my interview with Nelu that he's coming up for parole, hopefully within two months, and there appears to be no reason why he cannot be released based on his good behavior and his work in the detention center hospital. However, past experience has proven that this may not happen.

It should be noted that Nelu had also pointed out to me that prior to all of this he had been working with Neil for 1.5 years, i.e. around February 2011, assisting him in procuring the necessary documents and books to help Keenan's trillion-dollar lawsuit in New York. He explained that Neil had been offered private funding so that he could do a joint venture with Alex Soon, who so happens to be the nephew of the ex-Prime Minister of Singapore, Lee Kuan Yew.

Please understand the value of the documents obtained by Nelu and the fact that every man and his dog wanted to get their hands on them, hence what happened and continues to be happening to this very day. But that dog today could be none other than that Irish mongrel named Neil Keenan.

When one considers the immense pressure on Nelu to try and force him to do deals with other third parties, it is staggering to note that he still stood firm in protecting the only person he had any respect for, that being Neil Keenan.

Nelu never got brainwashed into dealing with such people as Jack Singh in Jakarta, who wanted Nelu to meet with Rockefeller/Wagoner but later found out that Rockefeller/Wagoner, was in actual fact the cabal.

It was also pointed out that Alex in Singapore had said that Neil Keenan might be a bit crazy but had a far more effective way of getting things done, and so the meeting in Singapore fell through and Nelu returned to Jakarta.

My knowledge of the true situation is that Neil Keenan had proposed to Alex the use of his international lawsuit to assist the Soekarno Trust and Edy Seno despite the fact the Soekarno mandate expired in 1998.

In closing Nelu wanted me to thank those associated with helping him through his terrible ordeal, and most especially Neil Keenan for his determination and tenacity and the fact that throughout this period of time, Neil has stood alongside him and has been "my rock."

Nelu stated "I would also like to say that I am deeply obligated to thank Jean Haines for her continual support both financially and in promoting my credibility through the media as a true patriot which I truly am."

Nelu made it clear to me upon me upon questioning him as to what would be his attitude towards Neil UPON RELEASE after serving more than two years in prison: "I was 100% behind Neil Keenan before this happened. Now I am 100,000% behind him."

Nelu further stated that he is indebted to some very special people in my life, namely Inchul Kim, Michael Dunn, Jo, Drake Bailey, David Wilcock, Benjamin Fulford, Frank Amadeo, Michael Calhoun, Lorraine Ferris and most especially Jean Haines whom I never knew existed and who came into my life in a time of need.

Nelu told me to deliver this specific message to Jean Haines, “Thank you, Ms. Haines, you will not be sorry and finally Neil Keenan — I will be seeing you for at least 30 years. Thank you very much and thanks to all supporters for their very uplifting comments that gave me the strength and determination to finish this unjustified detention.”

Inchul Kim, a dear friend to whom we are sincerely indebted

The interview concluded by Nelu saying “I have never been able to understand why such a person as myself, being a good person, could end up in this terrible position. I can only assume this is my fate. However, I can assure you all that upon my release I will do everything possible, and more than I can, for my country Indonesia.”

In closing Nelu emphasized that it was his desire to allow Jean Haines the privilege to interview him, as Neil Keenan had previously arranged, upon release from prison as she had played such a major role in this fiasco.

I am sure we would all agree that Nelu is not only an immensely sincere person but also a true patriot to his own country and, in fact, to the world. This interview was carried out by Peter Eyre in the visitor's room in the Jakarta Prison in the company of Neil Keenan and Jo H. on Monday the 3rd of March 2014.

NFK Update | Sparks Are Flying. Historical Meetings Of Top Global Accounts Stakeholders Underway. 2

Video Highlights:

- They got me again! But I'm already back and will be 100% soon, thanks to Dr. Group.
- Karen Hudes – the jumping jack of the Asian cons.
- There is no financial reset of the West without the Dragon Family and Asia, because they own the only global assets that can finance a reset. I believe they are willing to finance Western assistance, but not until we move to get rid of the Nazi Zionists and Khazar bums killing us and the rest of the planet with their land, air, and sea poisons. Don't worry. We'll find a way to get rid of them.

- George Soros is crapping his pants because the EU is falling apart with England turning its back, and Ireland moving in the same direction thanks to the likes of Nigel Farage and Clare Daly. Soros threatens to take his corporate toys and go home. Good luck, George. Your time has come and gone. You're becoming irrelevant and you've just exposed the cabal.
- Jean – while mistakes were made, nobody has more integrity than you. But this isn't about integrity; it's about control.
- My criticisms of the militia were not directed at Rick Light, because he is not in charge of the militia. There are many militias. The Eastern US militia is ready. Some Western militias are not. If we are going to wait for laws to authorize, or worry about laws that violate, our natural rights, we would wait until hell freezes over.
- Taking down the EU is easy. And we're going to do it.
- Bill Gates – soon you will be run down in the street and done unto, as you are doing unto others. No one will save you when the people come for you.
- George Soros and the Rothschilds are stirring up trouble in Ukraine in hopes of raping and pillaging it. Putin is too strong and will not allow it.
- Indonesia is standing its ground against the cabal. That's why they have suffered the threats and the facts of cabal-engineered disasters in that part of the world.
- My historical meetings with the top six Global Account stakeholders have been underway for several days and are progressing well. We are at the precipice of opening the Global Accounts that have been diverted from helping the peoples of the world for the last eighty years. That is about to change soon.
- This will benefit Asia immediately. But the Global Accounts will not be used to help the cabal. Funding will not go to cabal-controlled Western institutions. The Western secret societies are ruled out. We have to do our part in getting rid of our cabal leaders before Asia will do their part in financing a new era.

NFK Update: Global Accounts Under Attack – The Keenan Team Not Going Anywhere

NFK Update: Where are the OPPT and Swissindo Offices in Indonesia?

Video Highlights:

- Swissindo and OPPT have renewed their efforts to steal funds that are not theirs. Swissindo has falsely included in their worthless documents the names of people who have no involvement with them whatsoever to support their scam publicity stunt which took place in Hong Kong and Indonesia. If their efforts were real it would be a case of the bad boys of the West merging with the bad boys of the East.

- Recently two men were caught by the Vatican police with counterfeit bonds worth at least $3.1 trillion. The thieves are known as Count Albert Zvonko Berdik (not our Count Albert!) and Owen Thomas Lennon, who both had UN diplomatic immunity status, and were attempting to open up a line of credit with the Vatican bank. When their hotel room was searched, there were other counterfeit notes found along with stamps and seals used to make the forged notes. Had they been successful, it would have added trillions more to the Vatican's already overflowing coffers, thereby perpetuating and strengthening their crimes.
- Connecting some of the dots: Swissindo's con game, the two men caught with fake bonds, families increasingly being approached to sign off on their accounts, George Soros most recent visit to Indonesia — these are all indicators pointing to the imminent release of the Global Accounts.
- Swissindo Shenanigans: Karin E. J. Kolland of OPPT letter to Neil Keenan
- Our heartfelt condolences go out to Rick Light with the recent passing of his wife. RIP Robin Light – may you watch over and guide our patriot Rick Light.

It seems like many years ago we started this journey that some describe as going down the rabbit hole. I have always referred to it as going down the yellow brick road because now we can finally and clearly see the city that hides the psychopathic criminals who call themselves the New World Order (NWO).

They want us to believe that they are human beings yet they don't have natural human feelings – except that they do love to hate. Facts bear the truth: they live and thrive on inflicting torture, pain, disease and death on humanity and Earth's creatures. In order to perpetuate their malevolence, they have assembled themselves into one degenerate group aimed at acquiring the world's finances. They do not, and cannot, let go of their financial control of this world because it would mean their end. Having illegally seized major assets from the Global Accounts twice, the NWO is attempting for a third time to hijack the Accounts. Their ultimate plan for these finances is to fund another 60 years of war, strife and disease and bring the Earth's population down to a controllable number of less than one billion slaves.

But on the other hand, we are in the control seat right here, right now. Imagine how they would react if we all turned and stormed their bastilles? They are now looking out of their fortress windows in fear, wondering when we are going to tear down their gates to get to them.

Yes, we are coming, and we will deal with them as they wished to deal with us. The fewer of them, the fewer problems We the People have. Count on us coming; and count on it being sooner than the next lousy motion picture flop about humanity's destruction.

Be warned: watch your back and watch your doors! Remember the Cease & Desist that we fed you this past month? The long list of your crimes against humanity is there for all to see. The world knows exactly what you are doing, and we are here to stop your insanity! This past month the war has begun.

It may not have begun in earnest in the West, but the war against the theft of the Global Accounts and the world's finances has started, and is at full speed ahead here in the East.

No idle threat: Fire! – We beg you to burn.

Swissindo Shenanigans

We've had a couple of comments to our last post from Swissindo participants who are bemoaning our calling out the Swissindo fraud. Karin E.J. Kolland has incorporated most of the themes of those in support of Swissindo, so we have moved her comment above the fold to address it.

On April 6, 2014 at 7:03 a.m. eastern time, Ms. Kolland commented with the following:

"Dear Mister Neil Keenan,

You in this article [are] completely [on the] wrong track — they confuse us fatally well with completely different people. We are like you Mr. Keenan freedom fighter[s] and want to transform the old [money system] based on debt and compound interest! "Everything we do, we do open[ly] and transparent[ly]. We want the old Bush NWO transform[ed] peaceful[ly] and replace[d] by a new real universal order that is consistent with universal laws.

These large golds covered financial resources of mankind are made available. Through the human bond every person on the planet gets a monthly basic income and resources for a home. All countries of the world get through the Master Key Plan substantial financial resources to build a healthy infrastructure and promotion of such projects [as to] serve the good of mankind: Venus Project, New Earth Project, free energy, environmental, healthy farming, permaculture, medicine and alternative medicine and much more.

Karin Kolland Center in red dress

"Come, I invite you! I 'm Austria[n] . . . and can make [you] known directly [to] Mister Sino. Do not write nonsense but let us together serve the highest good of mankind.

"Sincerely yours Karin E. J. Kolland"

About twenty minutes after this post, Ms. Kolland identifies herself as "the woman in the red costume" in the above photo which we had previously published.

Unfortunately, Ms. Kolland, Swissindo is a wolf in sheep's clothing. This fraud would not change the current financial system but would give the cabal another opening to use, abuse and misappropriate the Asian peoples' gold. Stopping this misuse, and depriving the Globalist/NWO/Cabal/Illuminati of this financial oxygen, while supporting the enlightened Asian world's mission to utilize their treasure to benefit mankind, is Neil Keenan's mission, and he plays a critical role.

The Swissindo cabal fraud is not at all difficult to unmask. The alleged signatory list in the Swissindo "Office Of Military Settlement" reads like a who's who of the Cabal's Committee of 300:

H.E. Ban Ki Moon (Secretary-General of the United Nations);
H.M. Queen Elizabeth II (The British Royal Family)
H.E Pres. Hisashi Owada (The President of the International Court of Justice),
H.E. Pres. Song Sang-Hyun (President International Criminal Court)
H.E. Man. Dir. Dominique S. Kahn (Managing director of the International Monetary Fund),
H.E. Vice Pres. Lars Thunel (International Finance Corp., Executive Vice President and Chief Executive Officer),
H.E. Ch. Ben Bernanke (chairman of the Federal Reserve, the central bank of the United States),
H.E. Pres. Robert Zoellick (President of the World Bank),
H.H. Pope Benedict XVI, H.E. Sec.
H.E. Sec. Timothy Geithner (U.S. Treasury Secretary)
H.E. Sec. Gen. Peter Dittus (Secretary General of the Bank for International Settlements).

Does anybody on the planet think the Cabal is going to voluntarily sign over the financial underpinnings of their world hegemony? In any event, these dark players are not stakeholders in the Dragon Family's gold reserves.

It's like Obama's State Department signing over the Ukraine to Nazi Zionists – IT'S NOT THEIRS. And, of course, there was no treaty signed by these parties. This "treaty" is a blatant fraud. Had a treaty been signed, thieves do not convert their loot by signing documents.

Swissindo has always been a fraud. They are Stalinists to the core. Their vision is of a one world dictatorship where property is confiscated, and doled out "to each according to their need," as long as you are toeing the line with their dictates, their world.

NEIL KEENAN UPDATE | Our Cattleman Bundy, US Blunders in Ukraine, Suicided Banksters, & Swissindo Shenanigans

1. Cattle Rancher Bundy Knows How to Treat FED Over-Reaching

After the FEDs arrested one of his sons, literally grinding his face into gravel with their boots on his neck and head, they threw down Bundy's 57-year old cancer-survivor sister who was peacefully protesting these FED goons, ruffing up her knees and hands. These FED thugs repeatedly tasered his other unarmed son, who just ripped off the wires and stood his ground in true American cowboy fashion.

But in the end, the Bundys, with the support of about 1,000 citizens and a few good Militias from Nevada and surrounding Western States, won this battle as the FEDs called off any further cattle round ups and retreated to the cattle pen housing the 100 head of cattle they had already absconded. But that was not enough for Bundy. He demanded the FEDs surrender their weapons and leave the county, and gave them one hour for a full surrender.

After the hour was up, Bundy led the crowd marching down to the FEDs who were armed to the teeth in their attempt to protect the absconded cattle. In the face of bull-horn threats of getting shot, the crowd continued their march to seize the Bundy cattle with the FEDs retreating, again, out of the county in a courageous show of the American people's power and FED cowardice.

Congratulations to the Bundy Family and to all who showed up and supported this victory of the American people against this cowardice FED leviathan.

2. Obummer Blunders: It's Geopolitical Amateur Hour

Later this month Obama is taking an Asian trip, only touching down in those Asian countries that have land disputes with China. Obama's former Columbia University professor, brain trust, and elder globalist, Zbigniew Brzezinski, long ago described the globalist's geopolitical importance and their imperialist designs on the Ukraine in his book, "The Grand Chessboard."

Like a script taken from that book, Obama and his team headed by John Kerry and Victoria Nuland initiated the Zionist Coup d'état of Ukraine's democratically-elected government with Neo-Nazi skinheads to install Zionist banksters – literally central bankers, to run Ukraine with puppet master strings attached.

This imperialist foreign policy is nothing new. It fits hand-in-glove, and is just a continuation of the Zionist neo-cons' 9-11 false flag used as a pretext to invade or disorient every nation not in compliance with the FED petrodollar policies of Bush, Cheney, Wolfowitz, & Company.

Only countries that lacked a Rothchild central bank, and thumbed their nose at the great, late world reserve currency dollar by trading oil for gold or other non-dollar assets have been sacked and pillaged (or threatened to be) by the West (Iraq, Libya, Syria, and Iran).

Then, when the democratically elected Ukrainian government decided it was not in their strategic interest to align themselves with the financially collapsing EU, Ukraine was toppled by Neo-Nazis for Zionist central bankers who would take orders from the Western hegemony.

The USSR was taken down financially by the illegal use of the Global Accounts which were mirrored by Western corporations. Reagan, Mitterrand, and a lackey by the name of Wanta orchestrated this fraud. Wanta to this day makes claims to these illegal mirrored accounts. The actual owners and depositors are telling him to go to hell. And Putin, rightfully so, has been kicking them all the hell out of Russia.

What the globalists grossly miscalculated were:

- The overwhelming Russian popularity and sociopolitical attachments to Russia by the people of Crimea and several northeastern provinces of Ukraine (previously a part of the Republic of Moldova);
- The growing dissatisfaction of western Ukraine with the crushing rising energy prices that were a direct result of this US Corporation-led act of war (Ukraine, like Europe and China, is dependent on Russian oil and that dependence is growing);
- The steel spine of Putin, whose decisive action in fomenting and accepting Crimea's succession from Ukraine and encouraging the same from the other eastern Ukraine provinces, secured Russia's important access to southern seaports and stripped this critically important economic area from Ukraine;

The subsequent US Corporation sanctions are a made-for-TV sit-com;

- The hastened inevitability of the destruction of the FED dollar as the world currency by Russia's easily foreseeable retaliation with their international exchange agreements converted from FED dollars to rubles, which is quickly approaching gold backing (and China is moving, in kind, to move their trade financing out of dollars and into yuan);
- The US Corporation's political spin is the laughing stock of the world, as they are caught with their panties down brokering the new Ukraine power structure with leaked and embarrassing State department phone calls dictating who goes where. No one believes them; and no one should.

Meanwhile, as the US Corporation's Far East foreign policy goes up in flames, the architect of that imperialism, Brzezinski, pens a laughable Washington Op-Ed, name-calling Putin as the aggressor and seeking the US Corporation to double-down with armed force. Another cabal case of dumb getting dumber.

With the Far East ablaze in US Corporation-Zionist intervention, Obama takes off later this month for a tour of southeast Asia, touching down only in those countries which have territorial disputes with China — this on the heels of his penning a new agreement for a new and large US Corporation military presence in Australia, and beefing up US Corporation military presence surrounding China.

Obama is trying to repeat history with China, that which the West did to the USSR. It's becoming less and less likely Obama will survive this battle. The Pentagon will stand down. NATO will not act if the Pentagon will not support them — it's not even their theater of operation. Obama and the cabal will end up fighting their wars with mercenaries, but from where? Soon their world will shrink down to a single room where they get to test their electronic guillotines — not from the button side, but from the side of the blade.

The Keenan Team has requested, through direct contact at the highest levels, that China, Russia, and all willing Asian countries (The East) establish a no-fly zone for Obama in Asia. This reciprocates the Obama Administration's policy of forcing down flights of heads-of-state, a precedent Obama established with Bolivia's president, Evo Morales, when they decided to force-land his plane to search it for Edward Snowden, who was not on board.

Obama can then be arrested and adjudicated as International Terrorist Number 1 for all the past, current, and future false flags, and for his crimes against humanity in his support and implementation of multi-national genocidal policies, such as Geoengineering, HARRP-designed disasters, the weaponization and world-wide use of depleted uranium, GMO poisoning, and Fukushima, among a long list of death-penalty justified crimes.

3. Suicided Banksters

As noted in previous posts, the cabal has authorized a list of 1,500 bankers to be slated for “suicide.” These are the scapegoats who will no longer be able to point their fingers up the pyramid when the FED dollar inevitably loses its world reserve status and the proverbial S.H.T.F. That list has grown by another 1,700 names, approximately. Advice: Sing now or forever hold your peace.

Now . . . others have gotten into this game, which has alarms going off within cabal circles. Top echelon Banksters are beginning to tick off – except they were not on the cabal list – they ARE the cabal! The “Robin Hood of Liechtenstein” is reportedly responsible for the recent untimely demise of Bank Frick & Co. CEO Juergen Frick, who also was Chairman and CEO of Crystal Fund Management.

In another “unauthorized” termination, the former CEO of Dutch Bank ABN Amro and his family were found killed or murdered in what authorities are misrepresenting as a “family tragedy.” It seems to be open season on the cabal — they’re being hunted under Bushes, and under a Rock – fellers are dropping like flies. The Rothschilds, and even that scumbag pedophile, Etienne Davignon, should start looking over their shoulders.

NEIL KEENAN UPDATE | No-Fly For The Cabal And Quid Pro Quo

NFK Update: No-Fly for The Cabal And Quid Pro Quo part 1

Neil talks about the meetings with delegates from Russia (Putin) and China (Dragon Family). He also admonishes us to wake up to the reality that Obama is not the president of the American people.

NFK Update: No-Fly for The Cabal And Quid Pro Quo part 2

Neil mentions the possibility of countries in the East to declare No-Fly zones for the cabal planes and to shoot down those that still force their way in.

NOTE: This update was filmed in Bali, Indonesia at the "Hindu Gates." The setting is quite beautiful, however, because of the background noise, the vocal audio is difficult to hear during the first few minutes of the video, after which it improves. Listening through headphones is ideal.

Video Highlights:

- A legal agreement with Russia, China and Asia for a No-Fly Zone over these countries is now in the process of being completed. This would mean all entry would be barred into these countries by the Western global elite: Obama, Cheney, Soros, the Bushes, the Rothschilds, and all related members of the cabal. The No-Fly document will be in the hands of Russia, China and Asia within a few days and will then serve on these cabal individuals.
- In his meetings with various government officials, Neil has put forth the recommendation that if the cabal criminals cannot be kept from entry into these countries, then they need to be arrested upon arrival and charged with their war crimes, terrorist activities, and depopulation crimes against humanity.
- The Rothschild family has been particularly singled out by Putin as needing to be eliminated, but it cannot go without saying that the Bushes and Rockefellers are equally guilty.
- Neil emphasizes his support of our readers who have taken the brave action to deal with the UN mercenaries who unlawfully invaded their neighborhood. The neighborhood's "Special Force" showed these misplaced soldiers' pictures of their own homes and families, after which they left the area. If our readers have any information and/or pictures of those who need to be exposed for their crimes, or who are unlawfully invading their neighborhood with their armed presence, we encourage you to send it to The Keenan Team. We will see to it that it gets into the right hands and that the personal details of their lives are exposed.
- This is quid pro quo – they are poisoning and threatening our lives and our families' lives. We will use their own tactics against them and bring a halt to their crimes and terror in a peaceful and effective way.
- Recently members of BRICS (Brazil, Russia, India, China and South Africa) met with the financial controllers in Washington, D.C. BRICS nations (including China who is a significant stakeholder in the Global Accounts) were actually being conciliatory in their offer to include the West in funding from the Collateral Accounts. While the Collateral Accounts don't belong to the West, these greedy criminals had the audacity to decline any agreement whatsoever.
- The death-knell of the U.S. dollar is happening now. Russia and China are aggressively by-passing all use of the U.S. Petro-Dollar for trade, and that spells the end of the dollar as the world's reserve currency and FED domination over the world's economy.
- Lawyers specializing in international law are needed. Please contact The Keenan Team if you are able to contribute your expertise to this effort.
- For those who question the difference between the cabal and the Dragon Family, be assured that the cabal will never part with a dime to help humanity and have for years consistently stolen from the Dragon Family. There will be no funds going into individuals' pockets; the Dragon Family's intent is to provide funds to establish humanitarian projects, opportunities for humanity to be able to help itself, something that the cabal always has and always will do all in their power prevent.
- Discussion of the fraudulent Swissindo and OPPT are a complete waste of time.

Soros made a brainless statement recently to the U.K. government that if they pulled out the European Union (something that most Brits want), all of the major manufacturing will also be pulled out of England. This points to the obvious fact that those corporate manufacturers are part of the global elite. As can be seen in the U.S., during the past 30 years, most of our manufacturers have already moved overseas. This is all a Rothschild game.

- It must be remembered that the Ukraine separated from Russia to begin with because Reagan, Mitterrand and Wanta (who is no white-hat), stole funds from the Global Accounts and used them to destroy the Russian ruble.

In this update, Neil announces the creation of a powerful new proposal — a No-Fly Zone Asian accord to stop the cabal from entry into Asian countries where their sole intention is for more war and terrorist activities to advance their world hegemony. The time has come for the catalyst of an Asian No-Fly Zone. It is a first step toward putting these psychopaths behind bars where they rightfully belong.

Another plan of action that Neil's announces is the project to expose known criminals and mercenaries by publicizing pictures of their homes and families: Is this YOUR home and family? We cannot continue to keep our eyes wide shut; and they can no longer be allowed to hide behind secrecy.

For their crimes, they enjoy a life of luxury that has been built upon the suffering and lives of humanity. The fathers, mothers, daughters, sons and related family members will be identified for the crimes that they directly or may even indirectly support. They will be uncovered for who they really are.

Neil is championing our rights every step of the way. In support, we encourage each of you to step up to the plate and take action according to what you are able to do. The time is now.

NFK Update| Keeping The Fox Out of The Hen House & The Rothschilds Go Into Hiding

Neil addresses the concern from some people that the No-Fly zones in the East would spark World War 3. The No-Fly zones for planes carrying high-level cabal individuals are meant to "keep the fox out of the hen house". He also mentions about some new heavyweights who have stated their willingness to join hands.

This is a new time – a new world! Let us take action to conquer these evils so that we can take back our world. And only by taking real action can we ever achieve this.

Featured in this post:

- The atrocities happening in Donetsk, Ukraine which are not being reported by any media.
- A question posed: where are the Rothschilds hiding? Putin has put the fear of the "lord" into the Rothschilds, and rightfully so seeing that even their devils cannot help them anymore.
- Neil announces that our team has now been joined by extremely powerful new allies from the West, all the more assurance that our efforts will be successful.
- This update is let you know what is happening and give you a taste of what's to come.

Little is known what to expect from Neil Keenan. Just when you think you have him pegged, he turns it around, letting you know that you have no idea what he is actually thinking.

AMANAH'S ODYSSEY | PROFILE OF VALOR & VICTOR ©

Once you let the fox in the hen house only bad things can happen. He brings to our attention the fact that Obama is flying to Asia only to upset the political structure and relationships between the Chinese and the Asiatic allied members of the U.S. Obama is filling their heads with promises of support and finance (“we will never desert you”) when in fact the US has been deserting everyone that they have pledged to defend.

With the proposed NO-FLY ZONE, Neil delivers the idea that in the near future Obama and his cronies will have to enter through the back door, Japan, which means flying over the Pacific Ocean rather than Europe. Their quest to poison Asia is still on the table, but it cannot be accomplished without encountering serious dangers that they never expected.

Who in this world ever expected Neil Keenan to propose a NO-FLY ZONE to the Russians, Chinese, Dragon Family and many others in order to eliminate from our world the poisons, death and destruction that we are now suffering from?

In point of fact, a NO-FLY ZONE makes perfect sense when we look at everything happening around us. If the fox does not get into the Asiatic and Russian hen houses, then we can safely predict that their efforts to create a New World Order will be in vain. This is precisely where Neil and his team will be working with sure and swift efficiency – the No-Fly documents are being finalized now.

NEIL KEENAN UPDATE | Karen Hudes: What The Flack?

May 8, 2014

This could be considered an update, but it's a little different than usual. I noticed a post that had gone up on my site, from what I understand quite by accident, stating that Karen Hudes is a cabal shill. It was not written or approved by me. It was a draft written by a team member which was mistakenly posted before it was reviewed and approved by myself, which is required for all posts on my site.

The post itself most likely would have never have reached you. But it did. It was only up for a few minutes and it went viral! Ms. Hudes responded to it saying that there was no proof of her being a cabal shill but that she has taken a lot of flak from me. It is her use of the word "flack" that I disagree with.

When I heard I was giving her flack, I thought immediately of Roberta Flack, but upon reading her response to the inadvertent post of this draft, I understood that this flack had nothing to do with Roberta. In fact, Ms. Hudes has been a fraud and con from the moment she left the World Bank. Some call this being a shill, others label it something else. Whatever the label, the irrefutable fact about Ms. Hudes is that she is a disgrace to this planet and its people.

Now let me explain the "flack" that Ms. Hudes has taken from me, because it needs to be understood for what it really was – rage. Being who and what she is, I do not believe that Ms. Hudes has any right to criticize anyone. She has gone after so many good people that one loses count. She claims to be a whistleblower, however, from the very beginning this woman has come to us with deceit in her black heart.

Ah, but do not take this Irish man the wrong way. I am far from perfect, but I do give to you what I get because I believe in my heart that all of you have a right to know what is really happening in the world to which I have access. Following the wrong person hurts us all. Anyone buying into the disinformation and outright lies of Ms. Hudes will find themselves in a state of perpetual confusion.

Soon after being fired by the World Bank, Karen “the-bouncing-ball” Hudes was claiming there was no gold in Asia, which was in complete contradiction to her earlier claims that the Dragon Family owned eighty percent or more of the World Bank assets. Furthermore, she stated that she never worked with me when, in fact, not only did she request my assistance with the Dragon Family, I also introduced her to some of my associates, including Count Albert.

Having been barred from entry by World Bank security after her dismissal, the Dragon Family was going to get those doors reopened for her. Instead, she brazenly went behind my back with the Family and attempted to cut me out. After that, the Dragon Family would have nothing to do with Karen Hudes, and the World Bank doors remain barred to her.

Ms. Hudes could not even contain herself at the outset of our acquaintance, quickly devolving a conversation with Jean Haines into a one-way screaming match, where Ms. Hudes attempted to intimidate and bully Jean until I intervened to put a stop to this perplexing personal abuse. Hearing Karen become completely unhinged for no reason lead me to the conclusion that she was not someone with whom we could continue to be involved.

There were other clues too. Karen claims that Ferdinand Marcos was M1, the controller and signatory for the Global Account assets; and that he had the authority to designate Global Account signatories and controllers of Global Account assets after his death. Ferdinand Marcos was President of the Philippines and died in 1989. The West designated him M1 during his lifetime. He was not elected by the stakeholder nations. And he certainly never had authority to designate signatories and controllers upon his death.

Indonesian President Sukarno was the only duly elected M1. Among the many arenas that Ms. Hudes has strayed into was the global reset. How could she discuss a global reset excluding the Dragon Family when she herself stated that eighty percent of the Global Account assets were Dragon Family deposits, including those of the World Bank?

The deposits have been stolen and used by the West for more than 100 years. The Bretton Woods Agreement in 1944 was an outright theft that landed us in the position we are in today. But the tide has changed, and as I stated more than two years ago, the East needs to create their own financial system and rid themselves of the Zionist/Nazi/Khazarian bastards who have usurped power from the Western peoples.

In an interview with Kerry Cassidy on August 2, 2013, Bix Weir, a business blogger, states “all debts will be forgiven.” Sure, Bix, the West steals and walks away after so much damage not only to the East but also to mankind. Did you ask the depositors of the Global Assets if they would forgive the West? Of course, not — business as usual!

In Bix's interview Hudes states, "I recommend that we need a currency that is backed by precious metals or some other valuable commodity." Where has Karen been, in a bunker? Global Accounts' gold has backed most currencies on the face of this planet for more than 70 years, albeit through much theft and the misappropriated collateral use by the West.

In a Karen Hudes' update of October 3, 2013, she claims that the Monaco Accords of August, 2011, was nothing but a money grab to gain control over Global Account gold. Since I was there, I can state that this meeting had nothing to do with gold and everything to do with the East severing financial ties with the West.

No one from the West was invited to this meeting because the sole purpose was to discuss plans for leaving the West on its own and the evolution of a new financial system for the East. The Eastern financial system is evolving now with the building of their own new "IMF." How could this meeting conceivably be a power grab when the funds were stolen from the East and they wanted their assets unmolested NOW?

Ben Fulford was courting a half million dollars in fees from third parties for an interview with Hudes, a clever ploy that received a great deal of publicity. When questioning Hudes, Fulford feigned ignorance about the 2011 Monaco Accords to draw her out into a trap set by her own deceit.

She admitted that she was only repeating hearsay about the Monaco Accords' agenda. Apparently, she thinks nothing of representing hearsay as fact, while I was there (eyewitness Jean Paul's comment of 9/23/13 @ 7:38 a.m.) and my information is direct, confirmed by the stakeholders of the Global Accounts themselves and corroborated by other leaders in power and in the know.

No gold in Asia? No gold in Indonesia? No, Karen, there are enormous stockpiles of gold there. It was there when you said it didn't exist, and it remained there after you claimed to have "found it" in China. This is precisely what John Kerry was after during all of his visits there.

When he was told "no" by the Indonesian President, Kerry then made the statement that the US has new technological weather devices that could put Jakarta underwater in minutes. This threat and public confirmation of HAARP was not meant just for Indonesia, but was a threat to the entire world. Hudes then pivoted her assertion stating it is the Vatican that is holding on to the gold, not Asia.

Prior to our post on the German Government's demand of the US to return 300 metric tons of "their" gold, Ms. Hudes joined the Germans in clamoring for its return. After our post, Karen hopped on our bandwagon, pivoting her position yet again, and agreeing that the German Government has no standing to demand gold in US possession after their colossal gold theft leading up to WWII.

The East entrusted the West twice to do the right thing with the Global Accounts, and the West failed. Now the cat is out of the bag. There is no way the Zionists will continue with their control — it is over with. The Bretton Woods Agreement has long since been exposed and will not be renewed.

The fact is that with its own financial system being put in place, the East will use what belongs to them to strengthen their nations. Do not get me wrong here — they will give funds directly to established foundations to assist the West. These funds will not go into the hands of the cabal or their puppet politicians again. The glory days of the Zionist are over. We have had a century of fraud, robbery, and bloodshed as their bequest to the world, and now it subsides.

The American People and the people of the West are welcome to place their funds in the Bank of China, (I believe there are branches in New York and Los Angeles where deposits are held in yuan and debit cards are available for daily needs) seeing that the US dollar possibly might not survive the Zionists' greed and recklessness. This option might be a way out for individuals, as well protecting assets through physical gold and silver holdings.

Finally, Karen Hudes has recently been talking about aliens, and Peru and the Parallel or Nazca Lines. This is something I know about but it is no new discovery. Let's digress a bit. If you are not familiar with the Ica Desert in Peru, you'll find that there is a trident etched into the desert pointing the way to the Nazca Lines. It cannot be seen on the ground but only from the sky.

Peru has many mysterious sites, one of which is Machu Picchu, a city built with large stones and located high in the jungle mountains. Briefly, the stones that were used weigh two tons or more and fit together precisely with absolutely no space between them. Imagine moving two-ton rocks 15,000 feet high into the mountains. This was the home of the Incas, with the city of Cusco nearby. ("Cusco" means belly button in the Incan Empire). How did they ever build such a city as Machu Picchu? Men with llamas? No way!

Long before Karen Hudes appeared on the scene, the actress Shirley MacLaine brought much attention to Peru and its mystical sites. She claimed they were visited by aliens. The inside of some Incan tombs substantiates flying objects in the skies with strange beings on the ground.

A search on the internet will provide much information on these sites. So now Karen Hudes has announced the discovery of a second species on the planet “distinct from homo sapiens” who are hiding in the Vatican. I leave it to the reader what to make of this.

Add to this that Karen had earlier embarrassed herself with preposterous conclusions that the comet ISON was actually the planet Nibiru and was going to cause electromagnetic catastrophes on Earth, and that the Chinese army was going to enforce Obama's martial law on American soil back in the spring of 2013. Please, Karen. Get a hold of yourself!

The glaring question here is why this former World Bank lawyer would claim to be a whistleblower who wants to help free humanity? She has put out misinformation on everything from the Global Accounts, to world finance, to gold being returned to people who don't own it, and has attacked both the Vatican and anti-Vatican activists, as well as sincere human liberty activists everywhere.

And now aliens? She openly admits to repeating hearsay, switches positions on her assertions and has the audacity to slander what other sincere people are doing for humanity. For those who are interested, there are many factual exposés on the internet about her background and associations, the World Bank work of her husband, Barry Spergel, and their ties to the Rothschilds, all of which make it clear that she does not have humanity's best interests at heart, such as here, and here, and here, and here.

Some have suggested that Hudes is the victim of MK Ultra mind control. This would certainly explain her schizophrenic statements, obnoxious behavior and her true situation. If this is the case, she is to be pitied but hardly excused from what she's doing. Blowing the whistle on her handlers and cease speaking to the public can be the only humanitarian things for her to do now.

The bottom line is that Karen Hudes is nobody. If there are those who choose to see her as a brave whistleblower out to save humanity, then they are falling into an obvious trap. I have not heard from her in some time and I consider that a blessing. As you will surmise from what I have said here, I have not given her any flack.

What I did have for her is rage: rage for her engaging in a campaign to deliberately mislead people while posing as a humanitarian whistleblower, rage that she would dare to criticize and slander other good people in our liberty community while posturing herself with self-righteous importance and credibility simply because she is a lawyer, rage with her deceit, lies and complete lack of morality.

But after going over the entire list of Karen Hudes' shenanigans, I've now decided that I no longer even feel the rage. I have forgiven her because she is a ...

This will be my last time addressing the notorious Ms. Hudes, one of Zionist's own – but surely not one of its brightest.

Now let me give you a quick insight as to what is happening in the world today with the information I have. The Asian and Russian nations are now being joined by the Caribbean nations who have reached out and requested that they also be allowed to join the NO-FLY ZONE accords. Is it possible we can box the bad guys into one place with nowhere to hide?

Bear in mind that this has nothing to do with you, but with them. It will assist anyone who would need to enter the US to track them down. But I have to make sure it does not hurt any of you, as in the case of your being on a flight along with blacklisted individuals, which now number over 600.

As for the NO-FLY ZONE accord itself, it is still being worked out with the various parties that are joining it, or will be impacted by it. This is not as simple as one would think, but once completed it will have an immense global effect. I am working hard to see that everything I do is timely.

Thanks go to all of you for your support.

NEIL KEENAN UPDATE | No-Fly Swatter & Straightening Out Some Family Matters

NFK Update: No-Fly Swatter & Straightening Out Some Family Matters

Neil talks about finishing up the No-Fly Zone agreement while citing an example of Sweden's recent kicking out Shimon Perez's plane.

Always two steps ahead of the cabal, Neil has moved the No-Fly Accords forward in due course. Many countries have reached out to Neil expressing their support for his latest efforts and pledging their country's participation in this all-important effort. Sweden and Libya have already taken well publicized actions against well-known Zionists breaching their airspace against their national will. While each country must take action to accept and enforce the No-Fly Accords as it applies to their own sovereign airspace, depriving the Cabal airspace will box them in and deprive them of the room they need to further implement their genocidal Agenda 21.

While international airspace cannot easily be included without time-consuming and complex multi-national treaties, depriving the Globalists airspace on a country-by-country, and then region-by-region basis effectively terminates their ability to travel internationally.

When enough countries join, Cabalists' flight patterns will look like pretzels to avoid a violation, interception, and detention, effectively grounding these self-appointed elites. Orchestrating the Monaco Accords has been a tremendous success for Neil. They have led to the unprecedented cooperation of Asian economic powers, giving rise to BRICS, the Asian IMF, and the rise of Asian international banking and trade severed from the oppressive colonial policies of the West.

Neil has full confidence that the No-Fly Accords will have the same success at grounding, alienating, and quickening the decline of the Cabal. The No-Fly Zone shows the ease with which Neil turns the tables on the Cabal to the point that they have nowhere to go to achieve their sociopathic goals. The Cabal and their Agenda 21 is snowballing into a living hell on Earth and has to be cleaned up; and we have to do the cleaning – all of us have to do our part.

This situation cannot survive much longer, so it's best we deal with it now and not give them an opportunity to hurt another generation. Closing the doors on their airspace is pounding the stake into the heart of this vampire. It sucks their energy out of them; it leaves them no place to run, and no place to hide. Neil is thankful for the additions to his team and to those that continue to work diligently alongside him.

Here is a downloadable PDF of the 2014 No Fly Accords. Pursuant to Neil's promises, he will not publish signed versions of this document, leaving that to the nations to promulgate their joining upon their own time and terms. There are well over 800 Globalists listed in this document to date. Have we missed anyone?

Many bad guys are squawking loudly about being on the list, but they are going to stay there because they have earned their place on that list. And many others are being added to it.

We have a wonderful network of smart and thoughtful people who have joined forces in our efforts, and they have come through in living color with names that we have overlooked — we are grateful.

There are many bunkers in Indonesia with Quadrillions in assets. Of course, we only need to access a fraction of them to get our job done. However, some of the Indonesian Elders, having been entrusted with the safekeeping of these assets, now believe that the assets belong to them, and they do not.

Some have allowed the likes of George Soros to access them. Others, like the Emperor of Japan and Malaysia are currently scheming to get their hands on them. That's not going to happen.

The Elders hold these assets in trust for the Dragon Family. And when too much time goes by, some forget who the true owners are and get themselves into trouble. Sure, they need to be compensated for their caretaking and safekeeping of these assets. Their people need to eat, and they will be taken care of. However, the Elders are caretakers, not stakeholders in the Global Accounts. Some who have confused that distinction will find that it will lead them to their quick and certain demise.

NEIL KEENAN UPDATE | Latest Updated No-Fly Accords

The NO-FLY ACCORD constitutes a world's response to a small fascist clique of Zionist rogue nations.

---

NO FLY ACCORDS – latest update (click to download)

---

It is rather simple in terms but powerful in implementation. With people in political positions in this clique abusing their powers with impunity it is necessary for all other nations to be able to protect their citizenry and sovereignty from the fascist movement of this generation.

The way to do this is simple. As our mothers and fathers taught us, we just close the doors to unwanted visitors. We cannot and do not need to allow foreigners and enemies into our homes creating divisiveness and eventually taking them over entirely in our stead.

The NO-FLY ACCORD prevents the opening from occurring in the first place. But, we must be careful because the Globalist spit their venom on all of us at every opportunity. With God's help – and we know he is there watching us every second of the way – we will turn the corner and sprint across the finish line.

Let us pray that the Nations that join this noble accord move quickly and either sign this accord directly, or pass it through their legislation so that it is implemented for the safety of us all. If we fail to act and do our duty to defend our rights, our families, our homes, our nations and our environment, we just might be looking at World War III.

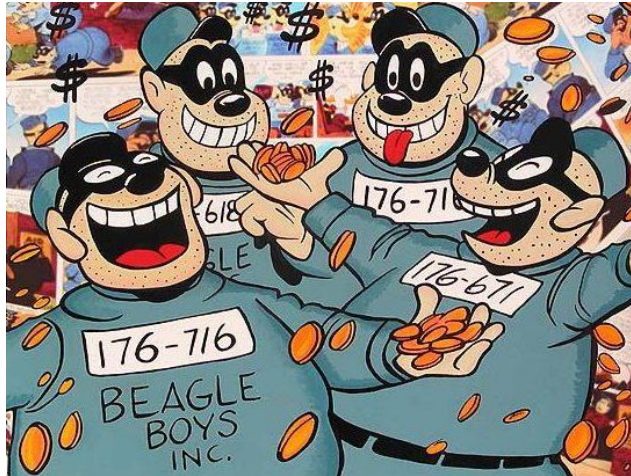

One thing I would like for you to look at is the list of over 800 names. Do you see what I see? Almost all of them are Zionist! How did we ever allow them to worm their way into lording over us? They will do what they want until we say NO — and that is what will be accomplished with this accord.

NEIL KEENAN UPDATE | The 15 Quadrillion Dollar Vatican-Sultan of Sulu Deal That Would Have Sunk The Planet

June 7, 2014

"We are fighting the worst sons-of-bitches that ever existed on the face the planet." Neil Keenan 5/19/14

It is good to remind ourselves and all those aware and engaged in this global conflict characterized by deceit and deception that these are the most perilous times in our collective history.

A time in which our freedoms and very survival are at stake. For those who are aware of the depth and severity of what the world now faces, that understanding is both a privilege and a responsibility.

History as taught to us in the West is a concocted fairytale. What has not been deliberately altered, has been suppressed. This is true of all traditionally accepted and taught historical references but especially true when it relates to the Orient and ancient China, which influences our perception of the China of present day.

For example, we were taught in school that America was discovered in 1492 when Columbus sailed the ocean blue – “Yo Ho Yo Ho the leader of the three, the Nina, the Pinta, and the Santa Maria!” It may be true that Christopher Columbus sailed to the Americas in 1492, but he sure as hell did not discover it. Regardless of the fact that we in the U.S.A. “officially” acknowledge or accredit Columbus for the discovery of our continent.

We in the West have been sold on an Anglo-Euro version of history. It is in fact erroneous and bears little resemblance to reality. To see and understand the real truth or larger picture requires a letting go of false concepts and dogma – or at least a willingness to look beyond what you think you know. In other words, to look and think outside the box that has been meticulously constructed around us.

To dispel the Columbus discovery myth and begin to realize we have been lead down the rosy path of make-believe history, we must acknowledge the fact that there were already indigenous people living in the Americas, i.e., Mayan, Inca, and numerous Indian tribes; and, secondly, abundant evidence exists that the Americas had been previously visited or “discovered” by other Euro and Asian cultures and civilizations long before Columbus.

A deeper look into the real historical facts will be helpful in understanding the scope of deception and corruption that has been deliberately imposed upon the “non-elite,” intentionally misleading and misdirecting the general world populace to this present day.

In 1405, nearly nine decades preceding Columbus, Zheng He was appointed Admiral of the Imperial Fleet of China. He was a Muslim and a eunuch, both characteristics quite distinctive and unique, yet in Western culture we hear nothing about him. From 1405 - 33, Zheng He embarked on seven voyages each time commandeering a fleet of 300 ships with combined crew, and soldiers of 30,000.

His ships were 400' long and 160' wide. They were equipped with livestock and enough food and supplies to feed crew and soldiers for years at a time. These aqua fortresses were awesome feats of engineering.

Researching Admiral Zheng, his annals in the Chinese Archives date back to 1405 A.D. It was Zheng He not Bartholomew Diaz or Vasco De Gama who discovered the Cape of Good Hope. By 1433 China had already circumnavigated the globe, acquired unimaginable wealth by having established a vast network of trade and diplomatic alliances—essentially harnessing the seas and conquering the world. This is when they erected the Great Wall of China – a barrier to keep the heathens out.

Now more than ever is it imperative for those on the right side of the ledger to express truth and accuracy. Recently certain suppositions and statements regarding the Global Accounts have been made by those in positions of influence which have not been entirely accurate. It is time to set the record straight. Since the 2011 Monaco Accords, it is Neil Keenan's position to do just that.

The Global Accounts were originally established to fund humanitarian projects throughout the world. The Western cabal, via the IMF, World Bank, and BIS, has controlled and used the accounts not to enhance the quality of life, but to enslave humanity.

Here in the United States of America our so-called federal government is beyond corrupt. It has been hijacked and turned into an instrument of evil. Everything being done in the name of “national security” and affordable healthcare is designed to corral, control, and eventually kill us.

Our individual rights and liberties have been literally stripped from us; and the NSA and a long list of other alphabet agencies track and record our every move — all achieved and enforced in the name of national security.

Yes, “transnational corporate security” — where big business is in bed with government, and those at the top use fear, greed, intimidation and even murder to achieve and retain secrecy and their exalted positions. Let us never be fooled into thinking they have our best interests at heart. The truth is, they want the vast majority of us DEAD! It's high time we fully wake up to this!

Most recently the Vatican in collaboration with an entrusted Elder, The Sultan of Sulu, a guardian/holder of The Dragon Family Global Account assets, attempted to steal fifteen (15) Quadrillion dollars from the Dragon Family. Their attempt was thwarted. Had this transaction been allowed to take place, the cabal's coffers would have been replenished and the results for humanity would have been disastrous! Truly the world dodged a fateful bullet only days ago!

The arrogance and recklessness of this attempt is indicative of a false sense of ownership or entitlement present on the part of some of those entrusted to protect those assets. In some cases, two and three generations have passed between the time of the original guardians or keepers of the assets, so it must now be reiterated to all the Elders: you cannot give away or sell what does not belong to you! Guardianship is not ownership!

The Book of Conveyance was established by President Sukarno, the original M1, for such a time and such a reason.

The Book of Conveyance documents and clearly indicates the role and responsibilities as guardians and keepers of the Dragon Family assets. The Dragon Family who are the only rightful owners of these assets, have had enough! The world at large, those who have been manipulated and hoodwinked generation upon generation, have had enough!

It is time that the false prophets and usurpers of the West be exposed and held accountable to the whole of humanity for who and what they are — a den of thieves. A study of history and of the true facts reveal that the real wealth resides in the East and always has. This is why the East is now establishing its own economic alliance, a separate economic system from the West and the United States and the Petro-Dollar.

BRICS is product of this new paradigm away from the U.S. and world Zionist domination.

BRICS

“World Zionists can best be described as the world’s largest organized crime syndicate. They appear to be soulless parasites upon the human race. They are empowered by the Zionist City of London private Central Banksters who specialize in Babylonian Money-Magick and making money from nothing (debt-based notes presented as money) and pernicious usury.

They are generally recognized by numerous Intel insiders to be parasites on the world, war profiteers, and mass murderers behind every major war, as well as the hidden-hand behind most drug trafficking, pornography, sex trafficking, slave labor, massive banking, mortgage fraud and other and financial frauds and scams. Using their Imaginary debt-based pretend money, they have bought and now own almost every single US Congressperson, most Supreme Court Judges, and almost every federal judge.” - Preston James, Veterans Today

Those who choose to work with and serve these dark forces of death and destruction are being watched, and they themselves are now being “outed” and restricted of free movement upon the planet.

Each day more and more people around the world are cognizant of the atrocities committed by the Zionist/Nazi secret societies and government elite, and they are the proponents and participants of the Keenan-initiated NO FLY ZONE. Soon there will be nowhere for them to find sanctuary or a place to hide.

Their world and time upon it are rapidly shrinking.

Sultan of Sulu we are watching you!

Addendum Update

The Royal House of Sulu is a royal house of the Sulu Archipelago in the Philippines. Historically the head of the Sultanate of Sulu, the position of sultan today carries with it no political powers or privileges and is mostly a cultural figure.

There are currently several claimants to the Sultanship after the death of the last recognized sultan, Mohammed Mahakuttah A. Kiram.

One too many Sultans of Sulu

By PHILIP GOLINGAI

Paramount Sultan Ibrahim Q. Bahjin-Shakirullah II.

There are many claimants to the Sultanate of Sulu, making it impossible for them to reclaim the land their ancestors lost.

LAST week I visited Sulu and Zamboanga City in southern Philippines, and guess who kept popping up during my trip? The Sultan of Sulu. Two and a half of them, in fact.

On Wednesday, I was introduced to a man related to the late Jamalul Kiram III – the self-proclaimed Sultan of Sulu – at a fish market on Jolo island in Sulu province. The 60-something man who spoke Bahasa Malaysia claimed to be Jamalul's younger brother. However, he did not want to admit he was a Kiram.

"Perhaps he was afraid because his brother Azzimudie led the intrusion into Sabah," said my friend, referring to the Lahad Datu armed intrusion by the Royal Sulu Army to claim Sabah in March last year.

The next day I met Muedzul-Lail Tan Kiram who claimed to be the Sultan of Sulu and North Borneo. The 48-year-old sat on his wooden throne at his house in Jolo town while I asked him about the kidnapping on Jolo island.

Then, on Friday, I met a 62-year-old cardiologist in Zamboanga City in Mindanao who believed he was indeed the real Sultan of Sulu.

This man claimed to be the Paramount Sultan Ibrahim Q. Bahjin-Shakirullah II. "Are you Chinese?" asked the Paramount Sultan of Sulu and North Borneo.

"I'm Kadazan," I answered.

"What is Kadazan?" he asked.

"See, you don't even know your own subjects," I said.

The cardiologist laughed heartily and said: "I have never been to Sabah. I have not received any invitation."

"Why don't you invite yourself?" I asked.

"If I do, my people will gather in big numbers in Sabah and the (Malaysian) Government will be alarmed," he pointed out. "That is why I won't go without an invite," he added.

"Who are the people who will gather in big numbers when you arrive in Sabah?" I asked.

"The rakyat," he said.

"And, who are these rakyat?" I enquired.

"The Tausug people," he said.

The Tausugs are called Suluks in Sabah.

"Who is the real Sultan of Sulu?" I then asked.

"Are you ready to listen from the beginning? This is not a short story but a long one," he said.

The Paramount Sultan told me a tale that began in 1936 and involved treachery, Spanish, Americans, Kirams, rivalry, Malacanang and the Sultan's consort who was someone else's wife.

I got lost midway through the history lesson — to be exact, his version of history. Anyway, to cut his long story short, his line is the real Sultan of Sulu and not the Kirams. "How many Sultans of Sulu are there?" I asked.

"So many. All of those who are invoking genealogical linkage to the Sultanate — even those who don't belong to the royal houses," he said.

"Are the others claiming to be Sultans, your rivals?" I asked.

"They are not my rivals as I am the Paramount Sultan," said the cardiologist who was proclaimed Paramount Sultan of Sulu and North Borneo in 2004.

"So, you are the No. 1 Sultan?" I suggested.

"I am equal with them. But some consider the Paramount Sultan as No. 1," he said with a satisfied smile.

Throughout the conversation, the Paramount Sultan insisted that Sabah belonged to the Sulu Sultanate and as a Sabahan, I argued passionately that the claim had no basis. He argued that the 1878 agreement between Alfred Dent and Baron von Overbeck of the North Borneo.

Company and the Sultan of Sulu stated that the Sultanate had leased and not ceded North Borneo (what Sabah was called before 1963) to the British company.

"Malaysia is still paying the sultanate RM5,300 a year for leasing Sabah," he pointed out.

"Who gets the money?" I asked him.

"It is shared by the nine family members of the Kirams," he said.

In 1939, Chief Justice C.F.C. Macaskie of the High Court of North Borneo ruled that "cessation money" was payable to the nine heirs of Sultan of Sulu Jamalul Kiram II, who died childless in 1936.

"You are not getting any of the money?" I asked.

"I don't want the money. The rental (money) is a curse. The one who receives it without spending a cent on the rakyat will be cursed to die in poverty," he said.

What the Paramount Sultan dreams of is to unite all the Sultans of Sulu so that they can claim what their ancestors have lost – North Borneo, Sulu, Tawi, Basilan, Sulu, Sibugay (part of Mindanao), Palawan and Spratly islands. "Geo political intrigue in South-East Asia will not allow us to be united.

"Malaysia, Philippines, United States, Australia and other countries don't want the Sultanate to be united. Because if we are united, we can get back our historical rights."

"Why can't you all unite?" I asked.

"I can spend a thousand pesos to call a Sultan for a unity meeting but the Philippines can pay a Sultan one million pesos and make him a puppet. The same with Malaysia, United States and Australia," he said.

"So, you will never ever be united?"

"There is China," he said, with a knowing smile.

"China is interested in the Sulu Sultanate. Spratlys was the picnic ground of the Sultan of Sulu. China's claim to it is that the Sultan of Sulu donated it to them."

"Some people think that those who are claiming to be Sultan of Sulu are a joke? Is it a joke?" I asked.

"They are right," he said.

"Why?" I said.

"Because they are too many claimants," he said.

Many claimants dream they can make billions of ringgits from Sabah, the property their ancestors lost.

Sultan Ibrahim wants an end to rampant poaching

Monday, 10 Aug 2020

By MOHD FARHAAN SHAH

JOHOR BARU: Sultan Ibrahim Ibni Almarhum Sultan Iskandar has expressed his disgust over the rampant poaching in the state's jungle and ordered the authorities to investigate and prepare a full report on the activity.

His Majesty said even though he had raised the issue of poaching many times before, he was disappointed that no action had been taken. Sultan Ibrahim also received information and several pictures of large-scale poaching that was carried out on Saturday night.

"How could this happen? I want the Wildlife and National Parks Department (Perhilitan) as well as the police to carry out investigation and prepare a full report about the incident. All these hunters are believed to own a self-made shotgun," His Majesty said in a statement posted on Sultan Ibrahim's official Facebook yesterday. Sultan Ibrahim also ordered that the mastermind behind the poaching activities be brought to justice.

"Based on early information, among the locations for poachers were at Endau-Rompin, Mersing and Kahang where animals such as deer and hedgehogs, are being hunted down on a large scale to be sold for traditional medicine.

"I want the authorities to investigate whether the weapons used have license," added His Majesty. Sultan Ibrahim stressed that hunting was not allowed in Johor, except to control wild animals at farms or agricultural areas.

"I want the police to carry an audit on firearms license ownership in the state, including individuals, companies and farm owners. "How can there be so many people who own a shotgun? Obviously, it is for hunting." I also want an investigation to identify if there is any 'insider' involvement in Perhilitan and police in these illegal activities," added His Majesty.

NFK Update: The Times They Are A-Changin'

NFK Update: The Times They Are A-Changin' pt 2

The question on everyone's mind seems to be: "What are Neil Keenan and his Team up to?" While things seem to have been so quiet, be assured that still waters run deep and the Keenan Team does not allow grass to grow under their feet!

Silence is truly golden because what has been developing is nothing less than earth-shaking. In this global campaign to defeat the cabal, what some people may think necessary to reveal and discuss may not be what one may think, even to those who closely follow world events and alternative news.

Each day volumes of information and news items spanning the globe come to us, and even our readers contribute news for everyone's awareness, for which we thank them.

The Keenan Team understands too well that the way to stop the cabal's "heart" is through their financing, and it is precisely here where Neil Keenan has been fighting the vicious battle to save the Global Accounts from the hands of those who intend to use them for the destruction of humanity and our planet.

The Team hears news behind the scene, but it does take time to bring it to you. Now that the end game is so very near, and direct roads have been cleared to the front line, you will no longer hear of the skirmishes or dog fights in the streets with such groups as OITC, OPPT, Swissindo, and Karen Hudes, who has supposedly returned to work with the World Bank.

And gone are the court fights to free Nelu. The good news is that Nelu will soon be a free man and will be able resume his vital work for both his country of Indonesia and the world at large. It has been a long time coming, but it has finally arrived. What we are left with in regards to the Elders is this; the Accounts and the tactical battles to prevent the West from continuing to create catastrophic problems for our planet.

It is now open season on the Elders! Names will be named on an ongoing basis so that the world will know exactly who these Elders are that would sell the assets to line their own pockets, assets which are intended solely for humanitarian projects. Neil states: I have promised the name of an Elder and I always try to keep my promises.

The first one to be named is an Elder who was under Soekarno's umbrella and {is} therefore the first Elder to be revealed as Holder or Manager of Accounts that belong to the Family. He is holding back the Accounts from their rightful Depositors, all the while possibly attempting to market said assets to the very same individuals who have held us back for more than 90 years, thus depriving the Indonesian people of the World Humanitarian Packages.

It is possible that he is not one of those pushing for the sale of said assets, but all will be mentioned one by one until those assets are where they should be, which means not in the hands of George Soros, Richard Armitage or anyone representing the Globalist Elites.

The first person to be named on this very long list of Holders is:

SENTOT BAGASKORO

Identification Code 56400961. A.045

Country Code: Djakarta Indonesia 342009771

Special Code: INA 045 A.I. 54445 Bank Tani dan Nelajan

Transaction Code: 340080979

AMANAH'S ODYSSEY | PROFILE OF VALOR & VICTOR ©

It is possible and most likely that many of the original names to be mentioned are individuals who have since passed away and the assets are now in the hands of their family members. Therefore, the family members are demanded now to Cease and Desist their attempts to market the assets of the Global Accounts and/or the Soekarno Accounts.

Much more is happening, yet it would seem that things are developing at a snail's pace. It is important to remember that nothing so big and monumental happens quickly, but when it happens, it sticks — that's what real and lasting progress is.

The video takes Neil through his usual range of emotions being the Irishman he is. He provides the background on how the road is clear, that the War is now and it is everyone's War.

Let the cabal's arrogant, well-used term "New World Order" take on its new and rightful meaning: We the People are the NEW WORLD ORDER!

May God bless us all now that we are near the end!

Neil reveals a high-level piece of information that has just newly come in: It's about a secretive operation under the disguise of Joint Naval Exercises in South Korea with the Japanese Navy.

NFK Update | It's Show Time pt 2

Since arriving here in Jakarta nearly two weeks ago – both the pace and developments have been relentless. The past two weeks seem more like two months, as the scope and magnitude of what we do here appears to expand, not by the day – but by the minute! The cabal are desperate as they accelerate their efforts in line with their agenda to seize the global collateral accounts.

Almost immediately following our recent “Three Strikes and You’re Out!” video update, Neil Keenan received an urgent call from a high-level contact based in South Korea.

AMANAH'S ODYSSEY | PROFILE OF VALOR & VICTOR ©

We the people face an imminent danger which must be curtailed! Joint naval exercises currently taking place off the coast of South Korea are a sophisticated cover for the biggest gold heist in history!

In this urgent video message, an unusually somber Neil Keenan provides details of the plan, the perpetrators behind it and the vital imperative to expose and curtail it. Now more than ever we must remain focused and vigilant in our mission to defeat the power elite, to thwart their last-gasp efforts to replenish their war-chest; cull the majority of human kind – and enslave the rest!

This is not a “don’t miss” update; it’s a must-see message for the world! As the cabal are accelerating their efforts to seize the global accounts, so must we then accelerate and intensify our efforts to protect and free them.

As promised here is the name of the THIRD ELDER holding the Depositors assets under the guise of the GLOBAL ACCOUNTS: He is to manage the people’s treasure at the UNION BANK OF SWITZERLAND GENEVA

NEIL KEENAN UPDATE | The Last Line Of Defense

July 29, 2014

NFK Update: The Last Line of Defense

Our hotel here in Jakarta Indonesia is located near a large mosque. Prayer chants can be heard throughout the day and night. Tonight, those intonations are accompanied with the sound of fireworks.

It is the eve of Idul Fitri, which in Arabic means “newly reborn.” Tomorrow, the last day of Ramadan, is a time of celebration for all the Muslim world.

For those here on the front lines in the global battle to expose and defeat Tyranny it is also a time of celebration. More importantly, it is a time for continued vigilance as we press our adversaries in every direction to the edges of the Earth.

On 11-23-2011, what was to become known as the Trillion Dollar Lawsuit was filed in the US District Court in Manhattan, New York.

This action, along with the plaintiff, Neil F Keenan, would provide the catalyst in exposing to the American public gross criminal activities of the Zionist-controlled US government. As the lawsuit process progressed, it would reveal to the world the organized enslavement of humanity and ongoing rape of the planet itself.

When first hearing of the lawsuit, Ben Fulford prophetically predicted that this single brave action could bring an end to worldwide financial tyranny. We've since learned the implications are even more far-reaching.

In this posting, “The Last Line of Defense” it's easy to see the interconnectedness of significant geopolitical events. Further, one can see the importance of the Keenan Team remaining focused and vigilant. Failure to stop and bring down the cabal is not an option.

The end is near. To date the Keenan Team has gone from battle to battle and emerged victorious, but the battles which remain have narrowed down to those that will determine who is, and who is not, in position to call the shots on Planet Earth.

To the victor belongs the spoils, and we are crossing that line in the very near future. In this latest Neil Keenan video update, Neil describes more of the details surrounding the cabal's recent foiled (for now) attempt to steal 240,000 metric tons of Dragon family gold.

Neil names and describes how and where the gold was smelted into one-kilogram bars as well as who was behind the plot itself.

Neil talks about the ugly breakup between Karen Hudes and Wolfgang Struck. Yes, folks, they've broken up. Even Wolfgang now refers to her as delusional! We must have hit a nerve or two in our "Three Strikes and You're Out!" post.

The speed of the demise of the cabal is directly proportionate to the awakening to the control and atrocities long committed by those pulling the geopolitical strings. China and Switzerland are dumping the US dollar, and as the US economy is about to collapse.

Convoys of trucks filled with food and supplies lead to the underground bunkers designed and built to protect the power elite from any catastrophic events which might occur on the surface.

Neil has recently heard of a plan to kill 268 million unsuspecting US citizens! Things are speeding up and the heat in the kitchen is being heated seven times hotter than before. As the cabal grows increasingly desperate, intensifying and accelerating their efforts, so do we accelerate our efforts!

The fourth, fifth and sixth elders are revealed and released in this post, as we initiate our plan of acceleration. Elders be forewarned – Japan (the west) has their eyes on the global account assets, and is positioning to come to Indonesia to get them!

At this time Neil would like to thank those who have stood side by side with him, putting their lives at risk.

NFK Update: Back Door Man

Neil reveals breaking high-level intelligence that the US government is about to hijack accounts at banks throughout the states.

NFK Update: Back Door Man part 2

Neil admonishes everyone to play it real. People who are still fooling around with the Global Collateral Accounts will be regretfully sorry.

In this latest video update, Neil Keenan continues this process as he exposes imposter Soegiharto Notonegoro, claiming to be the king of kings, and his backdoor attempt(s) to steal Dragon Family assets. Neil also gives us an update on Nelu's imminent release and warns all pretenders and armchair critics the game clock has run out. We are cleaning house!

Here is the famous upside-down Indonesian flag outside the palace of the king of kings. The Police were onto him immediately:

Here in Jakarta the Ramadan holiday festivities are complete and the prayer intonations which fill the day and night no longer carry the celebratory explosions of fireworks. It is Sunday and tomorrow morning things will return to business as usual with the roadways congested beyond belief, barely navigable as everyone here returns to the western template of 9 to 5.

The Doors - Back Door Man

In our previous post, "The Last Line of Defense," we point out that in 2011 what became known as The Trillion Dollar Lawsuit proved to be the catalyst for the unifying component in the worldwide initiative to awaken the public at large to the reality, nature and diabolical agenda, of the transnational power elite.

For those just becoming aware of the depth and breadth of deception and deceit which has been intentionally cultivated and imposed upon humankind, these are exciting and perhaps even exhilarating times.

One must however never lose sight of the fact that the true history of control, and the process by which it has been established and sustained, is atrocious and nothing less than evil.

Awareness and understanding of that which is really transpiring here and now on planet Earth comes with a responsibility.

Is it time now whereby we must discern and choose between the real or unreal, who and what is genuine, and who and what is not? We are at a point in time where the chaff must be separated from the wheat.

Six more Elders are revealed below:

The NEXT 6 NAMES are those of the Elders under the Soekarno Umbrella who are directly, or family-related, attempting to sell or trade the assets belonging to the Dragon Family.

Many have passed on and their families are attempting to deprive humanity of its holdings deposited by the Dragon Family amongst others.

They are not nor ever have been owners and said assets are in danger of being lost in their clumsy attempts to bring them to the banks and as well sell them to the West. If the West gets their hands on them you can count on another 100 years of desperation and death.

The proper owners need to take charge now of their own stead and of course take care of those that have watched their assets for many years. The roads, skies and seas are being watched — there is nowhere to go and only one way to turn before the Japanese Military comes to claim what they want all to believe are their assets.

They forget the rape of Nanking where they stole all their assets. They no longer nor ever did own such assets or they would be registered in the BIS in their name. This is not so! Here are the next six names and all accounts are being held at the Union Bank of Switzerland:

NEIL KEENAN UPDATE | Neil Keenan Responds To Jean Haines

Neil is responding to Jean Haines' statement of disassociating herself from the Keenan Team.

It appears that Neil Keenan is fed up with the nonsense that continues to come to the Keenan Team and is ready to fight back.

Jean Haines

"This has all gone on long enough, people covering their own backsides after actually creating problems, leaving us here to fend for ourselves – this is not going to go on any further."

The Keenan Team is ready to take on all comers if this is what they wish, and believe me, we will not take any prisoners.

Now at the end of the battle, we have all of the nit-picking by others — Wanna-be's, Cling-ons – and still others who are just plain full-of-bull (Nesara never spoke with the Dragon Family for instance, and the Dragon Family is not currently passing out money to anyone. Ask me — I know!)

I am fed up with dealing with the phonies who just fill the people with hope, when at the time there is not any.

This is a fight and once we all get off our asses and do what the word means (fight) then just maybe they have something to look forward to.

There are no Wimpey's here (I will gladly pay you Tuesday for a hamburger today), and if you believe there is really someone that will just outright give you money, then you are delusional. As stated, there is a fight and that is what you need to get ready for =- and the sooner the better. Stop dreaming and get ready.

Rob Shoots the Naysayers

Rob Miller speaks for the Keenan Team, discussing the latest progress here on ground zero, Jakarta

Nay-sayers to Slayers Sidenote: During his last visit to Bulgaria, just before he returned to Jakarta, Neil had been attacked by two men armed with knives on an open street. As luck would have it (Keenan has more than his share of it), the attack took place in front of a shop owned by a military veteran friend of Neil's. Keenan prides himself on his street fighting abilities – and he does retain the physical confidence of a top athlete, despite a bad knee from his pro basketball days. He told me the story with relish and a gleam in his eye.

“Those poor guys! Thought they had a pudgy old man to deal with! Ha, ha – I took one out with a kick to the knee, and was working on the other one when my buddy came out from the shop – he’s one of those ex-military guys with sharpened teeth, you know what I mean? Those guys ended up in the hospital. Turns out they were hired from Europe by you know who.”

Around the same time, he brushed against a stranger on the street, and hours later was at death's door in a hospital – apparently a standard intelligence community inoculation with a deadly poison. As he told it, only his contacts in the Bulgarian intelligence community (who knew what had been used on him) allowed him to obtain an antidote which save his life.

NEIL KEENAN UPDATE | Sticks & Stones

NFK Update: Sticks & Stones

Neil leaks the very imminent martial law to implemented by Obama.

NFK Update: Sticks & Stones Part 2

Among other things, Neil gives a special treat in this video.

We are winning this global war to defeat those who are bent on exterminating the vast majority of humankind and enslaving the remainder.

Our adversary is mortally wounded and its days are numbered. In this brief NFK update however, Neil begins by reminding us of the clear and present danger we all still face, especially those of us on the front lines. And he implores Jean Haines and her associates to cease grinding the rumor mill which is essentially an act of aiding and abetting the enemy. "STOP IT!"

"Wall Street" is in the process of moving out of New York City to Stamford Connecticut, closer to home for the Gordon Gekko rats of the world. Maybe they're privy to the news Neil discloses in this post about the Obama plan to impose martial law, shut down the banks and to unleash on the American public a variety of deadly diseases?

The Wall Street shove-off from the island of Manhattan makes a lot sense then if all hell is about to be let loose!

Neil also updates us on the great progress made on the No-Fly Accords and mentions several positive changes which have ensued, following the filing of The Trillion Dollar Lawsuit and 2011 Monaco Accords. He will be leaving Jakarta soon in order to move things toward conclusion on the No-Fly Accords.

There are currently 180+ nations ready to sign up! Neil also mentions the fact that whales and other sea life are being needlessly exterminated off the coast of Hawaii. His Majesty Edmund Keli'i Silva, Jr. recently issued a stern admonition to the U.S. CORPORATION about the military's use of sonar that's responsible for the killing of marine life.

Increased pressure is being put on the Elders as Neil reminds them and us as well that Indonesian President Soekarno himself was only a holder for the Dragon Family! Twelve (12) more Elders names are released in our accelerated program to free up the global accounts for humanitarian purposes for which they were originally intended.

The names of TWELVE more elders:

NEIL KEENAN UPDATE | Hail, Hail The Gang's All Here

August 24, 2014

NFK Update: Hail, Hail the Gang's All Here

Clinton's gang is here in Indonesia, as well as the Japanese emperor's sister. What are they trying to do? You guessed it!

At this very moment we are sitting here contemplating what to do with the actions that have been reported to us.

The Clinton Gang has ridden in on their private jets, the Japanese Emperor's sister has also flown in on her jet, and money transfers have taken place through Bill Clinton's Arkansas Foundation.

Said funds are illegal, confiscated Colombian drug funds which somehow found their way from Clinton's Foundation to Indonesia, with the main objective being to steal what does not belong to either the Indonesians, Clintons or the Japanese Emperor's sister.

AMANAH'S ODYSSEY | PROFILE OF VALOR & VICTOR ©

We told you long ago that this was the plan, and of course the Japanese Military is on standby. Should they not be able to purchase, well, you get the message — they will get the funds one way or another!

Stamford Connecticut

Get Ready! Helicopters have been jamming the Wi-fi Systems between Stamford and Manhattan. Do not be startled if communications have been disrupted for you seeing that the banking system is making a move which more than likely tells us that Manhattan has become a designated false-flag target once again.

When you see such activity, it sounds like it's time to get out of Dodge or do something about it before things get really messy. It's time to wake up.

Jean! Neil answers Jean's "Orwellian" accusation with one simple statement: The Bank Records will make everything perfectly clear. With Jean having sole control of the accounts, it would be nice if she would provide everyone with a copy of the Bitcoin Bank Records by posting it on her site.

If not, do not be disturbed — we will have something up on our site shortly to document the Account History. Neil never received one cent! Let's find out where the money went — we all would like to know.

We Have No Choice but to Stop This! The people of the U.S. and the world need to stand up NOW and stop the actions of their tyrannical governments and the cabal organizations. There is more than enough historical and recent evidence about the actions taken by these psychopaths in executing their dark agendas.

Our silence only perpetuates the extreme suffering and ultimate extinction of humanity. They need to stop killing us all by poisoning our land, sea and air and by creating wars! Start now, today, with being loud and vocal in letting your representatives and local officials know that you know what is happening!

If no action is taken now, then ... it has been nice knowing you.
It is the END GAME and there are no more excuses.

NEIL KEENAN UPDATE | Nelu Lives

NFK Update: Nelu Lives

NELU IS FREE!! On August 26, 2014, Nelu was released from his unjust incarceration. We spent the day together until early evening and did a video for you all. In this video Nelu thanks everyone who assisted him during this two-year period.

Nelu was nervous and could not remember or even pronounce some of the names, but in the end, you get the idea. Those who Nelu forgot to thank are Judge Naidu and Jean Haines. When Nelu thanks Peter, he means Peter Eyre. Thank you all from the bottom of our hearts. Now we get to work. Thank God!

God Bless, Neil Keenan

The Who - I'm Free

NEIL KEENAN UPDATE | Shoo Fly, Don't Bother Me

NFK Update: Shoo Fly, Don't Bother Me pt 1

Neil is fed up with Jean's false accusations and slanders.

NFK Update: Shoo Fly, Don't Bother Me Part 2

Neil tells again about the Bitcoins situation.

NFK Update: Shoo Fly, Don't Bother Me Part 3

Neil defends the judge and the King of Hawai'i against Jean's accusations.

WELL, Neil has given everyone a few days to enjoy themselves bashing our names around. Neil says: "In fact it was their Pied Piper who was leading them over the cliff. My father used to say give them enough rope and they will hang themselves." We are now clearing the air, setting the record straight with facts, and just the facts.

Bitcoin Account

Yesterday, Jean had to delete a member of our Team's name from her latest post. This individual only helped Jean set up the Bitcoin account as she didn't know how to do it.

Jean has always been the sole administrator of the Bitcoin account. Complete control of the account was hers alone, and the proof of this was the screenshots she posted; only an administrator can access the account and thereby take screenshots of it. She could have told the truth and said she did not know the status of the account, but she chose to lie in one more vain attempt to throw Neil under the bus. The fact that she chose to lie says volumes.

To make this whole matter worse, Jean has threatened the individual who helped her set up the Bitcoin account by making public the Skype exchange between them about the account. Since the original unedited Skype exchange clearly proved that she had sole control of the account, her threat is meaningless except for the unwanted exposure of this individual and his family. Obviously, she seriously disliked having to retract her false statement about the account.

The point of this revelation is to make it known that Jean is not above resorting to a criminal element in her tactics. She also states that she received the Skype exchange via a third party and claimed that there was a leak on our Team. The person who shared a copy of this Skype conversation can be none other than someone who works closely with Jean.

Jean has now amended her post with no apology for her lie about Neil having the funds. On August 26, Jean finally transferred the Bitcoin funds for Neil's use. As intended, these funds will now be utilized in his continued efforts to release the collateral accounts for humanitarian projects (free energy being a priority) as well as his upcoming travels to have the No-Fly Accord officially executed, signed and put into full effect for each country.

As many are aware, Neil has spent millions of his own money toward these efforts, and since his funds became depleted, donations were asked for. We thank each and every one of you who have contributed and assure you that your money will go toward what you intended – freeing humanity from cabal control.

The Gold Note

Neil had a good belly laugh at those who really thought they caught him displaying a novelty item. The note displayed is the real deal – a genuine gold FRN.

Novelty notes are copies of the real notes that anyone can buy online or at novelty shops – they are fake notes with fake gold. At the train station in Zurich, you can buy FRN's nearly identical to the originals for $5 USD.

Try and cash them in and you will buy yourself anywhere from 3-5 years in jail. The novelty note says that it's a novelty and shows who printed it. These copies are all based on original notes and quite often look as good as the original.

The real note that was displayed by Neil is worth cash with compounded interest from 1933-34 and comes with documentation. It was provided by a legitimate Elder for display purposes only. The gold note came from a documented “baby box” which is part of the “mother box,” and there are 40,000 boxes or more of these in existence.

Dealing with these notes requires a verification process of procedures and safety precautions. A real note presented to the bank is put through a process to verify its authenticity and who it actually belongs to — the Dragon Family. If you are working with the Family, then they would be the ones to authorize whether payment of the note would be made.

But there is no-win “game” that is played with the presenter of the note. Even if the note(s) is real, they are declared fake when presented to a central bank, and the presenter of the note is subsequently jailed and loses all of his assets. The central bank then splits the proceeds from the notes with the Federal Reserve. And the game goes on.

What happened in Chiasso is a perfect example. When Yamaguchi and Watanabe were stopped in Chiasso, Italy, a whole new adventure began to take place. Yamaguchi was carrying FRN's which held no value, but the guards took the notes and brought the men before a judge. They were then released because the court understood that the Family itself could bankrupt the Italian Government.

But the charade played on. After looking over the notes on a computer, the U.S. claimed that the notes were fake. Neil finds it laughable now that he understands how things work and that they would do such a thing.

On the other hand, the Italian Financial Police declared the notes to be real. In the end, the Italian Government and the NY Federal Reserve Bank split the funds 50/50. Although many have heard that Yamaguchi and Watanabe each received 3 ½ years prison sentences in “Abstentia,” this is not so. There are three data bases in Italy, and there is nothing on either one of these men. Their names do not exist so what do we have? They stole the notes!

Jean's Dark Agenda

Addressing the most critical problem first, Jean is now attempting to interfere with the progress of releasing the collateral accounts. She is calling members of the Dragon Family, complaining that Neil is not a worthy representative, among other things. Little does she realize that the Family members she has talked with are not the members with whom Neil is dealing.

In her extreme delusion of having any kind of influence outside of being a blogger, Jean is so hell-bent on revenge at any cost that she would attempt to jeopardize all the work that has been done toward releasing the collateral accounts. Without a doubt, her actions tragically demonstrate that she has no regard whatsoever for the people on this planet and that her sole motivation is to exact her treacherous vengeance.

With all that she has been doing and saying, Jean Haines is betraying the world at large. This is a cold hard fact and not one that we state lightly.

We invite readers to look closely at the slander and smear campaign that Jean has embarked upon.

If one looks at Jean's comments and her writing style and compare it with what has been written about the King of Hawaii and Neil and the Team, it becomes obvious to those with eyes to see that Jean herself has not been writing the majority of these recent accusations, outright lies and lies of omission. She does post this under her name and is nonetheless responsible.

She did not interview the King of Hawaii, she did not interview Kauilapele, nor did she interview anyone from Hawaii. This is the true definition of "Yellow Journalism." What she has presented is her obsession with carrying out a personal vendetta in the most malicious way possible.

So, we would pose the question of why her staunch supporter, Graham, has not posted even so much as one comment to any of this? Could it be that a cabal shill is too busy behind the scenes manipulating someone to assure that this plays out to the cabal's advantage? Under the guise of providing the "truth," the overwhelming question for intelligent readers is exactly who is gaining benefit from her posts? Certainly not We the People.

The undeniable facts are: there is much to be gained by the cabal in dismantling the increasing momentum to restore Hawaii's sovereignty; and there is much to be gained by the cabal in distracting the world at large from realizing exactly what the King of Hawaii is actually doing, the fight he maintains against the cabal for the great injustices suffered by Hawaiians, and the symbolic stand he is taking on behalf of all people on this planet. There is no one else in the Kingdom of Hawaii who is leading the way to help his people.

To truly seek the truth, look beyond the slander and see for yourself what he is doing by actually reading the documents on the King's website. Read about his long-standing efforts and his communications to the Powers-That-Be. You will find no scams or personal financial gains in what the King of Hawaii is doing. Like Neil, his efforts against the cabal pose deathly risks on a moment-to-moment basis.

What they do is to toward the Ideal, a reality of justice and harmony for the planet and her creatures. This is the legacy that they intend to leave to this world. These are not acts of desperate men looking to make a fast buck. These are acts by men of honest vision, not young, reckless men who would risk everything simply for money. And you can be sure that the cabal never wastes their time trying to get rid of anyone who poses no threat to their agenda.

In discerning statements made by Dr. Aidun, it needs to be made clear that his statements are his own and were not issued by us on our site nor by the King on the Kingdom of Hawaii's site. None of us had anything to do with Dr. Aidun's statements. We cannot control personal statements made by those who provide volunteer support services for our efforts. Good, bad or ugly, freedom of speech applies here. We are all imperfect creatures, however, it is to our advantage, humanity's advantage, to utilize the best that an individual has to offer, and leave the rest.

Readers are directed to review our archives and see all of the information that we have provided – OUR WORK STANDS ON ITS OWN. It is up to each individual to decide what our intent is. While we understand the concept of "guilt by association," the flip side to the coin is that we cannot and will not control personal responses to personal issues.

Although many unnecessary distractions have been thrown our way, we absolutely will not be deterred from our mission to do what is needed and what is rightfully deserved for humanity. We provide the truth as it becomes known to us from the best, most credible sources available. We do this for you.

While it is extremely difficult in these times to discern the information that is put out there, a vital guideline is to be aware of Actions – the actions being taken to make people aware of crimes against humanity and actions being taken to stop them.

You are the judge — actions reveal the truth rather than any form of individual ego machinations. Our actions speak louder than words.

We thank those whose support has been unwavering because they realize our intent even amidst twisted and distorted campaigns to slander those whose actions are demonstrably for the good of all. Intentionally or unintentionally, it's tragic that detractors do nothing but support the cabal's agenda. It is only our unity in supporting Action that will free humanity from enslavement.

It has also come to our attention that Jean has been brewing more lies about an individual concerning a personal accusation of "sexual molestation." This makes no sense whatsoever other than being motivated by outrageous revenge. We mention this in order to thwart her lie and issue a warning against severe retribution.

AMANAH'S ODYSSEY | PROFILE OF VALOR & VICTOR ©

A definite pattern emerges in Jean's short-lived associations with people who came to know her well: Michael Dunn, Michael Calhoun, Frank Amadeo and Robert Miller no longer associate with her. And contrary to what she has insinuated, Peter Eyre continues to be a friend and associate of Neil's.

We'd hoped that after Neil's last message to her that Jean would cease her vendetta campaign, but she has escalated this to the point that we have been forced once again to address it. While it is extremely distasteful to have to deal with sordid drama, and a completely unconstructive use of precious time, truth across the board can be the only order of the day.

It becomes a dirty game with distractions such as Jean and her team. Real things, vital things, become increasingly difficult to get done, but Neil continues to provide information to you because he feels you should know, that you have the right to know. In many cases Neil has grown close to the people from both Jean's site and Cosmic Voice.

He is loyal to his many friends and is most grateful for all of the support that he receives. It has been a long and winding road, and now that some major blocks have been cleared, we can proceed undeterred with our work. Soon enough all will see and reap the rewards that we deserve to see in our lifetimes.

NFK Update: Let The War Begin pt 2

After yesterday's blow-out one would think that the Keenan Team would rest, but not so. Today began just as any other day that is filled with information and excitement. This day Neil shows that yesterday was nothing special, and the news he had to bring to you was delayed for a day because of the unnecessary interference and interruptions brought on by days of malicious and erroneous statements by Jean Haines, Denise Rednour and others known and unknown. But let's put this aside and get back to the real work.

NFK Update: Let The War Begin pt 3

There is a lot happening and we want you to be aware of this information before it is too late. You should take whatever we offer in terms of news, and work it into your parameters and thoughts.

There is much to look at now that we near the end. The Gold is becoming ever more paramount to the expanding plan of the Cabal but nevertheless dwarfing over a few Asian states. U.S. ships have blocked the gulf of Thailand to threaten the kingdom. At the request of the family of Thailand, the Dragon Family is being called upon to speak with Thailand's elder son who is in charge — immediate assistance is needed.

UBS Headquarters Stamford Connecticut and World's Largest Trading Floor

You will understand once you take a good look that Manhattan and Stamford, CT are joined at the hip, or at least it seems that way. Are they planning another major event in the city that never sleeps? We hope not, but look and come to your own conclusions.

AMANA'S ODYSSEY | PROFILE OF VALOR & VICTOR ©

An attempt is being made by the U.S. Corporation to split Indonesia into pieces for less than $6 trillion dollars. In fact, there is more value in just a small portion of a gold bunker in Indonesia than the $6 trillion (of useless dollars) that is being offered to overthrow certain portions of the political structure. But it is doubtful that Indonesia will allow this to happen now or at any time in the near future.

Much more is included in this video, including:

- South Korea is renewing her efforts to take 240K metric tons of gold, and since the Dragon Family has surveillance on this, once again, they are implored to take action.
- The Elders who are dealing with the Clintons, Soros, Armitage, et al. are soon be facing international arrest, and Neil may be adding his signature to the arrest warrants.
- The HAARP facilities are revving up their activity, which is costly and not done without a very good reason. This indicates that something is going to happen soon, so be aware and be prepared.

At the moment we cannot give any more hints about what is happening on the inside, but we promise you that we are all in for an extra bumpy ride if people do not stay out of the way of those that are working to rid the world of such destructive people.

It has to end. It MUST end or we will not be living in five years, and the change will see the globalists in complete control of what's left of the planet. It is in our hands.

NEIL KEENAN UPDATE: Emergency Terror Alert and Cabalist Grande Lander / General Electric Exposed pt1

NFK Update: Emergency Terror Alert and Cabalist Grande Lander / General Electric Exposed pt2

Video Highlights: Emergency Alert

An alert has been issued by the FBI and DHS about an imminent terrorist attack. The areas of highest probability for attack are:

AMANA'S ODYSSEY | PROFILE OF VALOR & VICTOR ©

- Greater Southwest areas of the U.S.
- El Paso, TX
- Las Cruces, NM
- Tucson, Phoenix and Yuma, AZ
- San Diego and the greater Los Angeles area, CA

This has been confirmed by local law enforcement on the NCIC DHS database system. For those who live in or around these areas, please be prepared with emergency evacuation plans that use other than the main highways, with rally points to staging areas where help can be given to patriots at other rally points.

Any new intel will be conveyed immediately when it is received. It is hoped with this information now being out in the open that the cabal's devastating plans will be thwarted.

Grande Lander is General Electric (GE)

It has been discovered and verified that Grande Lander's lie-filled blog has been traced to the General Electric Corporation in Fairfield, CT. Yes, GE, the criminal American corporation that pays zero U.S. taxes and sends all their jobs overseas, jobs that should rightfully be for Americans. GE, the cabal corporation with the ultimate hypocrisy in their slogan — they absolutely do not bring good things to life.

Rayleen and Gunther (former CIA), Founder of Rumor Mill News Agency

You're busted Lander, and so are your cabal cronies working with you: Dimce Giorgief (Rumormill News), Tom Simms (who writes for Jean Haines), BK Lim (Kuala Lumpur), Jason Leeuing (female), and Denise Rednour (the Drake turncoat we all know and love to hate). Know their names – all are traitors doing the bidding of the globalist cabal.

- Neil addresses Jean Haines' issues – the letter from Drake Bailey, her attempts to blackmail a member of our Team, and her vicious, erroneous attacks on the King of Hawaii and S.C. Chiang, aka Count Albert.
- Note: The King of Hawaii, HM King Edmund Keli'i, will be featured on RT (Russian Today, the Russian-based international cable and satellite television channel) on September 9th at 9PM

AMANAH'S ODYSSEY | PROFILE OF VALOR & VICTOR ©

- Egbert Sousé – Lander started his recent cabal blog with a comment originally posted by Egbert Sousé on our website, thus making it appear that Mr. Sousé had posted all of the information that followed. He did not. Mr. Sousé's intent was to share some of his information and experience, but his comment was certainly not intended to be included as any part of this corrupt blog.
- Since communicating with Mr. Sousé directly, Neil discovered that he is an 87-year-old, highly intelligent gentleman of worldly experience. With Neil presently being on a close and personal basis with the Thai family, the information he has provided is current and accurate.
- Edy Seno, a good friend of Neil's, was also mentioned on Lander's blog regarding a Cease & Desist that he supposed signed while in the hospital. While the facts around this C&E were dispelled some time ago, Lander featured the story once again, omitting the facts, including that the document did not have Mr. Seno thumb print which makes it official.
- Inchul once again joins the Team in Jakarta – welcome back!

Neil is confirming the inevitability of a clash because the other side (Cabals & Co.) will not give up. This is especially true of the Bush and Rockefeller families.

NFK Update: The Boys Respond To The Cuckoo's Nest And More pt 2

Neil outs Bill Gates as who he really is.

Our site has been quiet of late, but Neil knows that everyone looks forward to some word about what's going on. So, amidst this ongoing "lockdown," he takes a much-needed, short break from all of the intense work for a bit of amusement, as well as to provide a bit of information.

The latest shenanigans by Denise and Jean are “pure bull” as Neil puts it. He’s not going to let them get away with much, and in fact, he is going to devote an entire Facebook page to them and what they call “pornography.”

Come on girls, this is 2014 not 1924. Granny pants are out, bikinis are in, and hey, it seems no public personality is without groupies. Because Denise and Jean are very obviously not happy or young, they feebly attempt to try to condemn those who are. The good news is that the Global Accounts are soon to be opened.

But war is at hand and the transition to the world we want to see will not be a smooth one. The members of the cabal walk freely among us every day and they need to be called out on the crimes that they are perpetrating. Neil declares: “Grab them all by their necks and drag them in the street. This will wake their asses up!”

The reality is that we are all being killed off by the hands of the cabal every single day. We see the chemtrails in our skies every day. We know the deadly effects of their man-made viruses and lethal vaccines. We know that the GMO foods are poison to our bodies. They are trying to eliminate us without them having to dirty their own filthy hands.

This is the fight we must bring to them!

To do this we have to wake up and acknowledge what is going on. We have to open our eyes and those of our children, our family, our friends and those that would be our friends. All of our lives are at stake here. While the Cabal sleeps, we worry about what they are doing to us. Let’s turn the tables on them and not allow them to sleep. Let’s make them worry, and let’s get rid of those jokers in the White House.

Rattle some cages in any way you can — every day counts! It is time to take back what is ours. Our destiny is in our hands.

Neil sends his sincere thanks each member of the Keenan Team for their tireless efforts and also to all of our patient supporters. We hope to be back soon enough with news on the fruits of all of Neil’s work.

Neil Keenan Update: I Won't Back Down Pt 2

The moment of truth draws near. We will, or we will not be. The choice is ours to make and if we do not decide then someone else will decide for us. My choice is made!! I won't back down!!

Not all will make it through this darkness and there is no question that for some this is a terrible fright; and I pray that those who have no fear will be strong enough to protect each and every one of you. Not everyone can be courageous! It will take all kinds!

AMANA'S ODYSSEY | PROFILE OF VALOR & VICTOR ©

We have been fighting amongst ourselves which surely must bring a smile to our enemies. Then again, are we fighting amongst ourselves or is it they who are also the enemy?

My read on the entire matter is that we must move forward, steadily, step by step until we reach the doors that until now have been closed to us. Once opened, then and only then, will we be aware of what has really happened to our forefathers, fathers, families and so on. We will see with eyes wide open what needs to be done to take care of the matters that confront us in order to prevent this abomination from continuing forward or ever happening again.

Our children, grandchildren, grandparents and friends throughout this world depend upon our opening those doors and confronting and defeating what lays behind them (if anything at all), no matter what, in order to save what is everyone's planet not just politicians' and bankers' etc.

Once confronted, we must chop the head off the beast, bring it home, and wait for everything to come tumbling down! We already know who the beast is – or who they are.

Yes, it can be scary and I do not expect everyone to make it through, but enough of us will in order to ensure that our families and friends can continue on in this journey called life. I wish you all safety.

NEIL KEENAN UPDATE | Keep Your Eye On The Ball

October 13, 2014

Whoever said keep your eye on the ball in most cases is right.

NFK Update: Keep Your Eye On The Ball

In our matter, the ball and what is beyond it, is all that matters. In this case we can easily say that the “issue is fully blown” — there is only one way out and that is through the guardian of the doors and that is not going to happen.

The accounts have not been opened. The door is closed. Attempts have often been made to open them. “He who has the gold makes the rules,” and they do not have the Gold.”

Neil can deal with more than one thing at a time and always has, so staying focused on the accounts is not a problem. Remember: “In the land of the blind, the one-eyed man is King”.

The Lawsuit will be refiled after the accounts are dealt with.

The No-Fly Accord will be dealt with shortly but not before the accounts are dealt with. Movement is now not later. Get yourselves together.

Writing a preface for the following post is ridiculously hard seeing Neil Keenan is all over the place. He said it right when he said his right hand does not know what the left is doing. Maybe this is why the Cabal cannot keep track of him and fear him. Maybe this is why he is so comfortable in his own shoes.

AMANAH'S ODYSSEY | PROFILE OF VALOR & VICTOR ©

There are so many maybe's that it makes one crazy, so maybe (once again) we begin the post and then you can begin to feel that we all are on the same page and feeling part of the craze.

All we can say is enjoy the show. Thank God we have Keenan tied up — imagine him released!

NFK Update: Making History & New Beginnings pt 3

For approximately four years many have followed the extraordinary endeavors of Neil Keenan through numerous highs and lows.

But against all outrageous odds, his perseverance and utter dedication to the mission have never swayed one bit. He has held his vision and the deep understanding that he is holding the key and the right IDEAL – save the world.

Remaining steadfast in not allowing his thoughts and plans to be deterred by anyone or anything, he has always known the right way to move ahead. There have been many opportunities to cause him to walk away from it all – incredible offers from the Cabal to go away, multiple assassination attempts on his life, and a severely painful leg injury for which he was told surgery was needed.

Any one of these events would have been enough for an ordinary man to give up, retire and wish the world good luck. But he endured, stayed the course and kept pushing and pushing until the doors opened. And now they have.

Not only has he and his team finally succeeded in opening the doors, the world can now see what is behind them. Here is history in the making. Naysayers, hateful betrayers, malevolent detractors, disinfo agents, sycophants, would-be assassins and Cabal criminals: Rue This Day!

The Bunker Venture

In a historic precedent of enormous consequence, Neil is the first Westerner to ever enter one of the bunkers. This one bunker (one of approximately 1,000) is a 16-acre, 4-level underground cavern filled with treasures deposited by the “Family” over many years until the present day.

Access to the bunker was not without multiple and unforeseen challenges. A number of clearances by the Elders were required before Neil, Nelu and Jo could enter the bunker, but they remained undaunted by the long delays, lack of sleep and spare shelter conditions as they waited “on-call” for entry.

They even found some entertainment with listening to the loud mating calls of the indigenous lizards. (Neil intends to use a lizard call as a ring tone for his phone.)

A profoundly humble, pure-of-heart man, the Elder “gatekeeper” lead them to the bunker. It is important to note that several years ago Neil underwent a ceremony conducted by the Elders to determine that his motivation was solely for the highest good — his own pureness of heart. Only with this being indisputably established was Neil allowed to enter a bunker.

Although they were unable to obtain video inside the bunker during this first venture, what Neil and the team found were chests/boxes apparently filled with gold, jewels, museum artifacts, modern global currencies in all denominations (including 2015 US dollars printed by the Federal Reserve), and of equal magnitude, invaluable documents that detail the truth behind some of the atrocities committed against humanity. (These documents will be used to fortify Neil’s lawsuit when it is refilled.) If that wasn’t enough, there was even a full-sized helicopter stored inside.

Upon exiting the bunker, Neil was rewarded for his determination and courage. The Elder gatekeeper presented him with numerous sealed and locked boxes which, as you will see in the video, required serious manual labor to break open.

Precious few have seen these boxes, much less seen them opened, because only a few have ever gotten close to them before. Most don’t believe they exist but here is undeniable proof that they do in fact exist. Here is the first disclosure of what one box might contain.

Before the box was opened, Neil joked that with the Keenan Team’s luck, the contents were probably from Al Capone’s vault that was moved to Asia. In this one box were gold bars each weighing 1 kilogram (2.3 lbs.) and worth approximately $50K. The ravages of time and humidity have created oxidation and mold on the bars, but there’s no question about what lies beneath.

The Elders unequivocally support Neil and his efforts with a solid, long-term commitment to sustain his efforts. On behalf of the world at large, we humbly thank the Elders for all that they are doing.

With these assets they are compensating Neil for some of his own expended funds and providing the backing to move forward with his operations to restore our world through humanitarian projects. These beneficent and wise Elders have given him a “key” to enable the opening the Global Collateral Accounts. Never before has there been such definitive proof that the Accounts exist!

While many people do not believe that there are Global Collateral Accounts, this is because the Cabal and their cronies have gone to great lengths for the world to accept this as truth. They have everything to gain in perpetuating their programming that our destiny remains in their total control.

They would have us continue to believe that only carnage, terror and violence change the world overnight. But we give you undeniable proof here and now that righteous and positive global events can and will manifest to transform our world.

It needs to be very clear, however, that this is not about Nesara or anything like it. When the Accounts are finally opened, there will be much clean-up to be done and there will be humanitarian projects throughout this world, not just in the West where people will procure jobs.

There will be no hand-outs but only real work to be done to restore our civilization and live up to our potential in a reality where our species will thrive in harmony and prosperity. These are the hard facts and to believe otherwise is nothing but delusion. Build the Momentum!

For their part, the West must take action toward the ideal and what absolutely needs to get done. They must find the courage to make a stand against all that is corrupt and bring real meaning to their lives with action that thwarts what is happening — the complete demise of our species. Neil has risked all to get us to this point.

By example he has shown how one man can make a tremendous difference in this world. It is now time to be known for your actions; to be known for leaving this world a better place than how you found it; to be known for the great potential that is inside each one of us. Choose now the legacy that you will leave for your family and the generations to come.

Round #2 – Upcoming

What a spectacular beginning this is! Obviously, there is still an extraordinary amount of work ahead for Neil and the team, and soon the forthcoming ventures into the bunkers will yield video footage for all to see.

In watching this video, you will know beyond a doubt that the Global Collateral Accounts do exist and understand how vital, and delicate, this matter will soon be. We present this to give you an idea of some of the actual painstaking efforts involved, and, true to Keenan style, with a bit of humor.

And this is our Christmas present to you. God bless us all – Peace and Joy to the World!

NFK UPDATE: Keenan's Empty Sock — Santa did not come pt 3

One of the videos here features an informal interview of Neil by an Irish journalist and banker. Although it is clear how upset he is, the interview portion shows that Neil never ever loses his sense of humor. He brought everyone into the interview — Jo, Nelu and even the interviewer himself. In the end, the video returns right back to the foremost issues at hand: the heinous theft, and the people.

As we all know, after leaving the first bunker, Neil Keenan was given a box that we saw opened which contained gold kilo bars, a gift for his incredible stamina in staying with and protecting the assets.

With little concern for his own health, Neil regularly put in 20-hour days with his utmost focus being the protection of those who were with him — his own security came second. True to his resilient nature and love for action, he remained on the front line, taking all the shots.

It took nearly a month to get everything cleared up with just the one box, and before it even got to that point, Neil had “flipped” it in return for a bigger box and the promise of an even bigger return. This would facilitate the Keenan Team’s arrival, and as seen in the previous video, the box is huge and allegedly contains much more than the box of gold that was already opened.

Neil’s honesty and straightforwardness has brought about a unique closeness with the Elders, and once again, they wanted to show their appreciation. Not only did the Elders promise a larger box, but they also promised an additional box that Neil could take from the bunker, along with their approval for the creation of video footage inside the bunker of any length he wished.

With the assets from the bunkers, Neil’s intent was to provide gifts of friendship to all of those who have worked so diligently in supporting his efforts. His Team would then be properly set up and base operations would soon take off from there. Neil had also counted on giving some of this gift funding to Nelu, Jo, those with Cosmic Voice, and many others who have assisted him along the way so that all would have a fantastic Christmas.

But no, this did not happen.

One can tell by Neil's look at Yulianto and Satrio that he does not trust them and is warning them to be careful, but apparently, they did not take heed and now they must face Neil's wrath. It is not going to be nice.

The Twisted Tale

It first needs to be understood that in order to get into the bunkers, the Guardians who protect the door must be paid. With this payment, they purchase provisions/staples for the people in their village who have assisted in guarding the bunkers.

It is not easy to get into the bunkers and it can be equally difficult to get out. There are physical spirits to avoid inside the bunkers, and outside the bunkers, there is an entire village of people to be dealt with. The Guardians must obtain the funds for the villagers and Neil must make payment to them in order to get the gate open and get the boxes. To this end, Neil then most certainly did give $20,000 to the Guardian's "runner" whose name is Yulianto. Here is how this twisted tale evolved:

Per their agreement with the Elders, Neil and the Team waited for approval to enter the bunker. Throughout this week they were repeatedly told by Yulianto that there were many "prizes" in it for Neil and that it would change the Keenan Team's world. But Neil did not really believe in this man and seriously doubted much of what he said. Early one evening Neil received a call from Satrio (Yulianto's partner in crime).

He stated that he was at the bunker area (but in fact he was not there) and requested that Neil immediately send him an additional $500 to an account number that he would provide. Satrio emphasized that they needed the money right away to pay the bill for the Elder who was allegedly in the hospital.

To cut to the chase, Neil advised Satrio that they would drive more than five hours to personally give that money to the Elder. However, in reality, Satrio was four hours away from the bunker area and had to beat the Keenan Team there or otherwise his scam with Yulianto's theft would be exposed.

To circumvent a meeting with the Elder and to buy themselves time to get to the bunker, Yulianto and Satrio conjured up a story that the Elder had been admitted to the hospital due to bleeding from mouth and nose. Upon arrival at the bunker site, Satrio told Neil that the Elder had been released from the hospital but now his feet had started to bleed, so it would not be possible for the Elder to meet with them.

Then lo and behold the Elder appeared before them and there was not a thing wrong with him. Questions started flying from Neil and Chris (Neil's Irish associate) and they quickly learned from the Elder that he was in perfect health and had never been in the hospital. Yulianto and Satrio had created a scam!

The Elder then proceeded to show them a receipt for $20,000 that he had given to Yulianto and Satrio for the purchase of a box that these con men had no right whatsoever to possess. This was obtained with Neil's money!

An honest man playing by the rules in working with Neil and the Team, the Elder told them that he was not aware that the funds had come from Neil and that the money had already been spent for supplies and provisions for the village. Now another $20,000 would be needed to get into the bunker, but the Elder stated that he would only accept that money directly from Neil because the "runner" Yulianto was no longer in place with the Elder in any capacity.

Yulianto was a liar and a cheat from beginning to end. The Elder is a most sincere man whose sole intent is to help his people and others to survive. He clearly understands that Neil has "signature rights" which makes things easier for all. However, acquiring the $20,000 could not happen in such a short amount of time, particularly because Western Union would not accept such a large sum to be paid out. To add to this dilemma, they had no time to work this out because Neil, Chris, Jo and Nelu had holiday plans that could not be delayed.

An associate of Neil's, Diane Hicks, came up with some ideas, but with only two days' time to make something happen, nothing proved workable. Neil could not believe it — the doors were open for him, but he could not get in! These foul swindlers, Yulianto and Satrio, stole Neil's money and used it for their own purposes, defrauded the Elders and, most serious to Neil, cheated all of the people to whom he intended to give Christmas gifts.

But these were not the only destructive consequences of their thievery. With their larceny and ruinous greed, Yulianto and Satrio prevented not only the opening of this one bunker, but also the opening of another three to four additional bunkers.

It did not take long for Neil to go on the warpath and begin worrying about how his friends, Team, and associates would survive. He filed a criminal complaint with the police against Yulianto who has now become highly concerned about what he's done, to say the very least. This retribution has just begun! Now Yulianto makes daily promises to Nelu that the funds will be returned soon. Both Nelu and Neil doubt this. That money is gone but have no doubt about it — Neil is working to put things together so that he is back in the bunkers at the beginning of the year and will then be able to send out what he intended to the people he cares for so much.

Yulianto Cannot Hide

To be sure, Yulianto will meet severe reprisals for his crime. For those who are outraged enough to voice their dissent/condemnation of what he has done, here is his contact information:

Yulianto Purwodiharyo

Passport #P660194

Home Address:

Jakarta Selatan, Indonesia

Neil is immensely upset about what has happened and this is an understatement. He feels he did not deliver but then again, no one was expecting anything to begin with. But you can believe this: you can't keep a good man down! Since not many knew of his plans at the time, Neil decided to keep quiet about what happened because he did not want to ruin anyone's holiday. He wanted you to enjoy this day in time, and realize that we are on the cusp of something truly great.

As Neil states in the video, in the next few months the Global Accounts will be opened. Then all will finally see the beginning of substantial action and the changes we have all envisioned. In the aftermath of these events, the most up-to-date good news is that the bunkers are now available and open to Neil. With tremendous support in full force, he will now forge ahead unimpeded!

Neil and his Team remain resolute and dedicated to the people and the planet. We provide no false hopes and there is no backing down in the face of temporary setbacks. Now it's full steam ahead! And this is what Neil is all about; nothing more, nothing less. This new year WILL be full of changes, remarkably good and celebrated changes. We thank each and every one of you for your support and wish everyone a very Happy and Healthy New Year!
